AMERICANS CAPTURE 8,000

DEAR AND 3 BANDITS BREAK JAIL

FLEE IN AUTO; 'SHOOT TO KILL,' POLICE ORDER

Guard Beaten, Bars Sawed, in Plot of Camouflage.

Four of the most desperate men in the Cook county jail, two of them under sentence of death, all notorious as criminals, escaped last night.

By a clever ruse they outwitted a guard, overpowered him, locked him up with his own keys, tore apart bars previously sawed, broke a padlock previously cut, and lowered themselves by a rope, prepared sometime before, from the fourth floor of the jail.

Two fled in a closed automobile, waiting outside with engine running. Two slipped through an alley and vanished in the crowd on North Clark street.

Men Who Escaped.

The men who escaped are:

EARL DEAR, alias "Infamous Dear," called the "brains of the auto thief ring," often rescued from the law by some mysterious influence; under sentence of death for the murder of Rudolph Wolfe, chauffeur for Dr. Philip Schuyler Doane.

LLOYD BOPP, convicted of the murder of Herman Mallow, Oak Park policeman, on June 14, 1916; twice sentenced to death, several times reprieved; also believed to have shot and wounded Policeman Thure Lindbe.

FRANK M'ERLANE, alias Walter Scott, a member of the old "Teddy Webb" bandit gang; accused of being with Bopp the night he murdered Mallow; awaiting trial on charge of kidnaping Grace Lytle, witness against Bopp, beating her into unconsciousness, and leaving her in bushes by the roadside for dead.

"BIG JOE" MORAN, professional safeblower and bank robber; convicted of robbery and leader of the recent "dynamite plot" to effect the escape of Dear, Bopp, and others by blowing up a wall of the jail.

"Shoot on Sight," Order.

"Shoot on sight!" was the order Chief of Detectives Mooney gave his men last night as he sent squads hurrying in every direction. Grimly he added, "Don't let them start it."

Recognized as the most desperate, daring, and vicious men in the jail, the four have been held for months in separate cages made of amalgamated steel and guaranteed to defy the stoutest and toughest saw. Every precaution had been taken, as it was known the men were continuously planning to escape.

Plot Well Laid.

The plot, well laid, evidently started weeks ago, was put into effect last night at 7:30. It was the dinner hour and only one guard was on the floor. He was John Kempter, 212 West Sixty-first street, summarily dismissed last night for violation of orders. He alone is held responsible for the escape by Will T. Davies, chief jailer.

The camouflage that led to the flight was worked in this manner: M'Erlane, the only one of the four with a cellmate, shared his quarters with Arthur Regan, held for

COAL COMPANY IS FINED $25,000 AS A PROFITEER

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—Announcement was made today that the Logan Coal company of this city has been directed by the fuel administration to pay $25,000 to the Red Cross as a fine for alleged profiteering. In addition, the company is required to give to the Red Cross all its profits between Sept. 15 and Oct. 1, refund to all purchasers of smithing coal the difference between the government price and the prices which it charged, and deliver to a state institution, with which it made a two year contract, coal at the government price set prior to its conviction by the fuel administration for profiteering, regardless of any increase in price that may come during the life of the contract.

SPEEDING AUTO, BELIEVED BANDIT CAR, KILLS MAN

An automobile, believed by the Maxwell street police to have been used by the men who escaped from the county jail earlier in the evening, struck and instantly killed Daniel O'Connell, 55 years old, 222 Throop street, last night as he was crossing Taylor street at South Racine avenue.

The car, which was being driven at a rate of speed estimated at fifty miles an hour, was completely darkened.

Another automobile was impressed into a hurriedly organized chase, but was quickly outdistanced, not, however, until the license number was obtained. This number when looked up by the police was found to be too large for an Illinois license.

Women Conductors to Run Detroit Cars

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 12.—Announcement was made today that the Detroit United Railways company, operating all street cars in Detroit, will employ women conductors owing to the shortage of men.

HILLQUIT ILL WITH PHTHISIS AT SANITARIUM

New York, Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Morris Hillquit, Socialist candidate for congress in the Twentieth district, against whom the Democrats and Republicans have fused, is very ill at a tuberculosis sanitarium a considerable distance from New York. This statement was made at his office today by his brother, Jacob. Mr. Hillquit became aware that his lungs were affected something like five years ago. He gave up all professional and political activity for a time, went to Bermuda, among other places, and improved greatly. His brother said yesterday that it would be several weeks, at least, before Mr. Hillquit would return to town.

PAIR PLIGHTED 45 YEARS AGO WEDDED AT LAST

Mrs. Sarah Leming Shepherd, 73 years old, of St. Paul, Minn., and the Rev. Edmund S. Dunham, 75 years old, of Delaware, O., were married yesterday at the Evangelical institute.

Forty-five years ago the couple became engaged. Dr. Dunham was active in Bible work for the Methodist Episcopal church, traveling from city to city, and Miss Leming was the daughter of a Methodist minister. She was appointed a missionary to India, and their marriage was postponed until her return to this country.

While in Bareilly, India, she became ill and a report of her death was sent to her fiancé. When she recovered she was not told of her reported death.

Several years afterward Dr. Dunham married and Miss Leming returned to St. Paul, where she was married to H. T. Shepherd of Springfield, O. Six years later the wife of Dr. Dunham died and four years afterward Mr. Shepherd died.

Two years ago the couple again met and the wedding here yesterday was the result. They will live in Delaware, O.

At the wedding were W. G. Shepherd of Everybody's magazine, Foss R. Shepherd of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Paul Sauver of St. Paul, children of Mrs. Dunham.

Wilson Calls on Strikers to Resume Posts in Shops

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—A communication sent by President Wilson today to the striking machinists and toolmakers of Bridgeport, Conn., is understood to call upon them as patriotic citizens to return to their work in war plants and to solve their problems along lines laid down by the war labor board.

378,648 MEN REGISTER HERE FOR NEW DRAFT

All 18 to 45 Step Proudly Up for Blue Cards.

Chicago's response to the new call on the nation's man power yesterday was an enrollment of 378,648 men.

This takes in all youths from 18 to 20 and all men from 32 to 45 years.

Within three weeks, according to draft officials, the majority of these new registrants in selective service will be classified and subject to military orders. The first to be taken will be men between the ages of 19 and 36. Questionnaires have reached Chicago and will be sent out as soon as serial numbers can be listed.

Registration Is Smooth.

With the aid of the election machinery and 18,000 volunteer workers, many of them public school teachers, the huge task of registering these men was carried out smoothly. The city was bright with flags in accordance with the request of the provost marshal. There was little excitement and no demonstration, except the impressive one of the registration itself.

In 2,200 polling places in all corners of the city, millionaires and clerks, lawyers, bankers, barbers, and junkmen, boys and gray headed men of all classes and races gathered in the waiting lines. From the "gold coast" to the Ghetto, and from the black belt to the quiet streets of Rogers Park and Edgewater, there was just one job on hand—that was to gain possession of a little blue card which identified the bearer as having answered the call o service in whatever capacity Uncle Sam decides.

The registration clerks were through work in most of the precincts by 9 o'clock, but the task of gathering the returns and getting them to central headquarters was a long one and it was after midnight before the result was known.

"Old Fellows" Ready.

Registration day for the "old fellows," those whose hair is slightly tinged with gray, the men who pay the bills and buy the bonds and do all the chores at home while the younger ones go forth to the splendid adventure of the war, brought out the latent longings, the half buried hopes, the high spirit of our business and professional men of family. They do want to go to war. They are more than ready. They welcome the new draft and the chance that is offered. Hundreds would enlist right now if the way were open.

What They Will Do.

Here are the responses:

FRANK HIBBARD of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co.—"You bet I registered, and I'm going into the army. If they want me they can have me any time they call me. If I were younger I'd have been in it long ago. Hope it isn't too late yet."

F. E. MANIERRE, real estate operator and clubman—"I registered and await the call. I want to go into the artillery. I have just recently returned from Camp Steever, where I had two weeks of the army game and I like it fine. I'd have been in now, in fact, if they hadn't stopped enlistments. No question about it. I'm going into the army like everybody else."

E. J. LEHMANN, president of The Fair store—"My brother, O. W. Lehmann, and I both are in the draft age. I feel kind of old, but not too old to fight. Of course one of us will go into the army. The other will have to stay to conduct the business.

Welcomes the Opportunity.

AUGUSTUS S. PEABODY, investment banker, 926 Lake Shore drive—"I registered. Until I read the questionnaire I have not yet decided whether I will file claims for exemption. I welcome the opportunity to serve the country in any way possible."

ROBERT STEVENSON JR., bond broker—"I started out early to register. I have not given any thought yet

Guns, Tanks, Then Yanks Smash Foes

LONDON, Sept. 13, 3 a. m.—The Daily Mail correspondent at the American front sends the following description of the battle along the St. Mihiel sector:

"The First American army, under personal command of Gen. Pershing, for the first time went into action today in the St. Mihiel salient. Never before has there been such a large concentration of American troops for one operation, and never have the Americans been in such complete control of their own operations.

"The event had long been anticipated, and the attack is for limited objectives only.

"The concentration of a great part of the most experienced United States troops had taken place during the last two weeks and everything was planned minutely and with exactitude for a great event in American history. Last night the final preparations were completed.

Fight in Difficult Terrain.

"The country over which the Americans are fighting is very difficult. The high ridges and thick woods offer every concealment for enemy machine guns and, in addition, the Germans have a fortified line of resistance, which has everything in its favor.

"At 1 o'clock Thursday morning the artillery preparation began with a roar that could be heard many miles away, and all night it rose and fell with peculiar fluctuations. From all the roads that ran parallel the flashes of innumerable guns told of the impending assault.

"Towards 5 o'clock—the hour of the attack—the firing became even more rapid, and its sullen roar mingled strangely with the sound of the rain.

Tanks Lead Infantry.

"At dawn whole fleets of tanks, manned by strong young Americans and French, were to be seen moving out of their shelters to lead the attack. They lumbered on, but the Germans offered little opposition. The American infantry followed in open order, plowing through the mud, but they were little troubled by the feeble artillery resistance.

"At one point, near Seicheprey, where the Americans had previously fought desperately with the Germans, machine gun and automatic fire swept down upon the Yanks' right flank, but the tanks and artillery quickly moved in that direction and the Americans went steadily forward.

"At 7 o'clock the tanks had disappeared amid a smoke cloud over the ridge in front of Seicheprey.

Yanks Push Ahead.

"The Americans are pressing forward in fine style and slowly closing in the extreme ends of the St. Mihiel salient.

"From Beaumont I could see lying just below me the trenches from which the Americans started and the valley through which they were fighting. The sun was streaming across the valley, casting shadows from the melancholy wrecks of villages all round. On the left was the black, forbidding height of Montsec, with the tiny village of that name nestling on its black side. Spurts of earth sprang from its capacious sides as the American artillerymen battered it.

"Away to the right, bathed in the sunlight, was the village of St. Baussant, resting on the side of a majestic promontory. Khaki figures were moving along the valley, walking with easy stride.

"Meanwhile the air was rent with the torrent of shells passing overhead. American gunners, manning every possible type of gun, were working with mechanical rhythm as they loaded and sent the shells to their destination. The light railways continually brought up supplies."

Fire on German Deserters in Busy Cologne Streets

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 12.—"Fleeing deserters recently have been repeatedly fired at in the busy streets of Cologne," Herr Oberfeld, member of the reichstag, said in a message addressed to the German imperial chancellor asking the chancellor to "take measures to prevent this danger to civilians," the Cologne Volks Zeitung asserts.

Slain in Saloon Fight, Man on Scene Seized

Antonio Kwiakowski, 24, of 12456 Cornell avenue, was shot and killed in a saloon at 12357 Cornell avenue last night following a fight in which six or seven participated. Edward Doras, 35, of 12021 Wallace street, who was found on the scene, was arrested.

Motor Policeman Dies from Fall off Machine

Matthew Foley, a motorcycle policeman, fell from his motorcycle last night while chasing a speeding automobile. He died at the Illinois Central hospital.

ST. MIHIEL TAKEN AS SALIENT IS CRUSHED

Drive Five Miles; Cavalry Sweeps to Enemy Rear.

BULLETIN.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—American troops operating in the St. Mihiel sector made considerable gains today, Gen. Pershing reported in his communique to the war department late tonight. Already 8,000 prisoners have been counted, and the movement is still in progress. Assisted by the French units they broke the enemy's resistance and advanced at some points five miles.

BULLETIN.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 12—6 p. m.—(By the Associated Press.)—It is unofficially reported that St. Mihiel has been captured by the French.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—Germany today felt the first independent power of the American troops in France when Gen. John J. Pershing's first field army launched an attack over a front of approximately twenty miles against the St. Mihiel salient in Lorraine, which cuts a "V" in the allies' lines between Verdun and Nancy.

Reports tonight indicate that the ugly triangular salient has been crushed in on both sides to a depth varying from one to five miles, while light troops and cavalry have penetrated into the enemy positions much further, apparently having worked to the rear of the Germans. Upward of twelve villages have been captured.

French Troops Help.

The attack, which started early this morning, extended on the southern side for a distance of twelve miles, from St. Mihiel northeastward to Pont-a-Mousson and northward from St. Mihiel for a distance of eight miles.

French troops, co-operating with the Americans and under Gen. Pershing's direction, struck at the southern point of the salient at St. Mihiel.

The offensive, the first undertaken on a pretentious scale by the Americans, was planned by the American staff and is being executed by American officers and troops. Tanks, artillery, airplanes, even down to the narrow gauge roads rushing forward ammunition—all are manned by Americans.

Yankee Losses Low.

"The American casualties have been remarkably low," a battle front dispatch declares.

To the east of St. Mihiel the Americans have captured Thiacourt, Pannes, and Nonsard. North of St. Mihiel, Gen. Pershing's men have taken Combres and have reached the western outskirts of Donmartin La Montagne, about six or seven miles up toward Verdun, as well as Les Eparges and the neighboring hills, it is reported.

Yankee cavalry tonight is reported to be operating in the vicinity of Vigneulles, ten miles northeast of St. Mihiel, and apparently to the rear of the Germans fighting at the southern point of the salient. It is not believed possible that many of these German troops can escape capture or annihilation. Reports say that at some places the enemy is in retreat.

French War Office Report.

The only official announcement which has been made is this from the French war office:

"The American army attacked this morning in the region of St. Mihiel. The operation is developing under the best of conditions."

From the enemy quarter comes this statement from Berlin:

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle, French and Americans attacked at the St. Mihiel bend. The fighting continues."

Front Strongly Fortified.

AMERICAN ARMY'S LORRAINE STROKE TOLD IN SUMMARY

(By the Associated Press.)

The American First army, under command of Gen. Pershing, is in action against the Germans on a twenty mile front on the famous St. Mihiel salient in Lorraine, which had stood as a sharp wedge in the French line southeast of Verdun since the commencement of the war.

Ground was gained on both sides of the triangle and also at its apex at St. Mihiel, and at last accounts the Americans, with whom some French troops are brigaded, were fast sweeping across the salient in an effort to close the mouth of the big pocket before the Germans in the south can extricate themselves.

Although the Americans made gains in excess of four miles on the southern side of the battle area, the cavalry far outstripped the tanks and foot troops and was last reported operating along the railroad near Vigneulles, almost in the center of the salient and some ten miles northeast of St. Mihiel, and also northwest of Pont-a-Mousson, through the forests and along the railway line running northward to Metz, the great German fortress, the outer fortifications of which are less than ten miles distant.

Thiaucourt, Bouillonville, Pannes, and several other towns in the south were captured in the initial dash, while on the west, at the northern edge of the pocket, the village of Combres was captured and the environs of Dommartin la Montagne were reached.

To the south everywhere the Americans penetrated into the heights of the Meuse and the French fought their way into the outskirts of St. Mihiel, which, unofficial reports say, was recaptured by the French.

The fighting front at the commencement of the battle aggregated twenty miles—eight miles on the western side and twelve miles on the southern side. The fighting was preceded by an extremely heavy artillery bombardment, and the troops and tanks advanced under barrage, which was carried out with mathematical precision.

From the war maps it would seem almost impossible for the Germans to evacuate the salient without huge losses in men and material. The first reports show that the Americans took 700 prisoners in the first stages of the battle and had suffered remarkably small casualties.

The strategy of Marshal Foch in the present maneuver cannot be foreseen, except that it has as the first objective the leveling of the St. Mihiel sector and the straightening of the allied line from the region of Verdun eastward.

Whether Marshal Foch has in view a campaign up the Meuse valley or Metz and the Moselle valley in mind remains to be seen.

city of Metz. An appreciable advance in this region will permit long range artillery to bring its guns to bear on this German citadel. Also, a good advance here may compel a complete readjustment of the Boche line elsewhere.

More than 1,000 prisoners have been taken and others are coming back to the rear.

All along the line the advance has been carried out on schedule. Near Maiberais the troops went ahead against machine gun fire by crawling, and tanks were sent to their aid.

Tornado of Shells.

The attack was launched this morning at 5 o'clock after a tornado of artillery preparation which lasted four hours. Light, medium, and heavy artillery swept the German positions with gas, high explosives, and shrapnel shells. The entire triangle for miles back was an inferno of blasting metal, fairly smothering the enemy positions.

In many cases smoke screens were used to add to the demoralization of the Boche and to render uncertain the aim of their machine gunners.

Promptly at the zero hour the American troops left their trenches; some deployed as skirmishers where the nature of the grounds permitted, others in platoon formation, wave following wave. There was not a hitch along the entire line. The infantry advance was synchronized with the artillery behind an intense rolling barrage timed for an advance of 100 meters every forty minutes.

Downpour of Aerial Bombs.

When the infantry started to advance a perfect storm of aerial missiles was loosed over the German rear lines to supplement the devastation of the artillery.

Railroad centers, bridges, hangars, munition supply centers, billeting areas, and everything of value were subjected to an intense rain of bombs dropped by American aviators.

Within a comparatively short time reports came back through liaison officers and signal corps centers that the advance was moving with clocklike regularity. The first objectives early were reached, and the troops, whose fighting is described as magnificent, stormed ahead to the next objective.

Ahead of Schedule.

In many instances the progress was so rapid that the troops reached their designated points ahead of schedule, and it was necessary to readjust the artillery fire. Soon after their progress was such that the order came back from the observation stations for the artillery to move forward. While certain batteries speeded up their fire, others hastily hooked up and, with horses galloping, rolled forward to new positions.

The tanks did splendid service. Heavy concrete "pill boxes," sheltering machine guns, were encountered at frequent intervals, as well as other naturally strong machine gun emplacements. These the American manned tanks put out of action, either by direct fire or by charging over them, killing the crews and wrecking the pieces. Heavy belts of barbed wire also were torn apart for the advance of the infantry.

Quick Air Victory.

After the first hour there was never a question of who held supremacy in the air. At the outset of the assault there were a few Boche flyers aloft, but within a few minutes they had been crashed by the American pilots, or were speedily winging their way toward the rear lines.

This left the American observation planes free to check and direct the artillery fire without molestation, while the heavy bombers worked without interference save for anti-aircraft guns, many of which were soon located and put out of action by the American light artillery.

Enemy Guns Fail.

The enemy artillery fire fluctuated in intensity and accuracy. At some points the Boche heavies responded with a strong fire at first, while at other places the "arriving" shells were infrequent and fired spasmodically. The enemy artillery at no time was able to interrupt the infantry schedule, and on the whole was altogether ineffective.

As the action progressed the enemy's big gun fire dwindled, indicating that the Germans, aroused by the progress of the Yankees, were withdrawing their heavies for fear of losing them.

Prisoners declared they had been expecting a drive by Gen. Pershing some place east of Verdun, but were uncertain as to the exact sector in which it would be made. They explain the recent raids made by their troops, and the bonuses offered for American prisoners had been actuated by the desire of the commanders to keep track of the American units in the line in this region and the sectors farther east.

First Village In 45 Minutes.

The first village fell into the hands of the Americans within forty-five minutes, and from then on came reports of other villages that had been occupied.

Meanwhile American cavalry was waiting at advantageous points for the order to move. When it seemed that the infantry had secured a sufficient break-through, the horse troops galloped off along the hilly roads of this region, and soon were reported operating several miles to the north, where they seized and held important places, ready to cut down fleeing enemy soldiers or to intercept the movement of reserves toward the front.

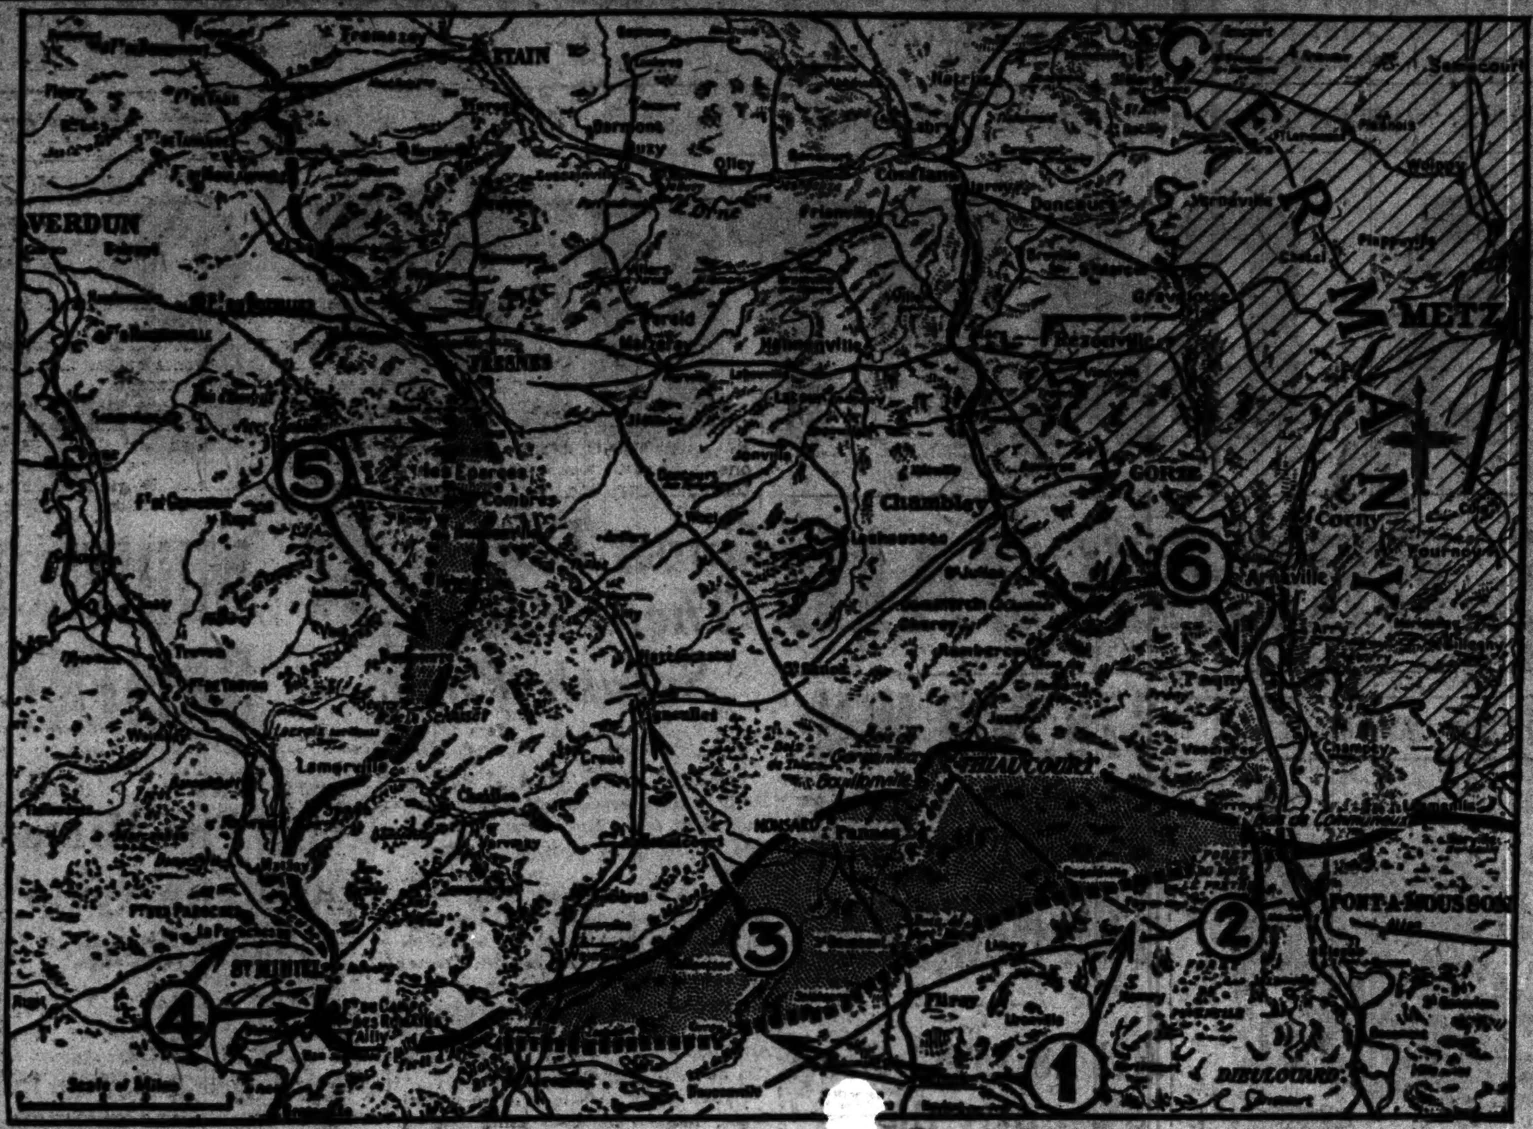
YANKS RAID IN VOSGES.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—[By Reuter's, Limited.]—American forces in the course of the last twenty-four hours have accomplished a series of bold strokes in Lorraine and in the Vosges. American detachments made a surprise attack on the German positions at many points and penetrated the enemy lines at some places, meeting with but feeble resistance.

Having at some places reached the German support line, the Americans in accordance with orders they had received retired. They destroyed all the material they were unable to carry away and blew up the machine gun shelters, concrete blockhouses, and munitions depots. German heavy shells reached isolated points but tardily and inefficiently. The Americans in the course of these operations inflicted heavy losses on the enemy.

On the whole of this front there was a sustained reciprocal bombardment.

AMERICANS SMASHING ST. MIHIEL SALIENT



1—Americans attacked on eleven mile front from Fey-en-Haye to Xivray. Thiacourt, Pannes, and Nonsard have been captured. Near Maiserais tanks helped advance against machine guns. The battle line runs little south of Boillonville to Pannes and Nonsard, thence to Bois de Gargantua and north of Mont Sec.

2—[illegible]thwest of Pont-a-Mousson American cavalry patrols are reported to be operating on road north of Bois Communoye.

3—Patrols are moving also in direction of Vigneulles, ten miles northeast of St. Mihiel.

4—French troops have reached western outskirts of St. Mihiel, Germans making strong resistance at Fort du Camp des Romains.

5—North of St. Mihiel the Americans have captured Combres and reached western outskirts of Donmartin La Montagne. To the north Les Eparges hill and hill 322 were captured.

YANKS IN THEIR OWN FIELD

BY CAMERON MacKENZIE.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.

[Copyright: 1918.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 12.—Early this morning the first American army, assisted by certain French units, but all under the direct command of Gen. Pershing, launched between the Moselle and the Meuse an attack with limited objectives upon a front of between thirty and thirty-seven miles.

The operation, which has for its purpose the wiping out of the St. Mihiel salient, eclipses in magnitude and importance all previous efforts of Pershing's troops in France, and indubitably signalizes an entire new phase in America's participation in the war.

Cannons Begin Roar.

We have experienced a night of artillery preparation on a grand scale. It was at precisely 1 o'clock that the American guns unlimbered, and not since Verdun has the valley of the Meuse known such a roar and rumble. Except close to the lines, there were not many flares against the sky, for the autumn mists blanketed the flashes.

To one on the scene, however, the great thought is that the American army has passed from its initial stage and has become a distinct and separate military entity, going forth to do battle on its own account. It is a proud day for the young new army from overseas, and there was not an American boy who went pressing on to the inferno of shell fire who did not accept his ordeal with a little more gallantry and a little more stoicism for the knowledge that at last his country was in the war "on its own."

American troops have made progress. Many villages have passed into their hands. The resistance encountered at the first system of German defense, without being tame, was not actually stiff, and the doughboys were able to sweep toward the second enemy positions ahead of their schedule.

There, however, the Huns interposed a more definite negative to advance and encounters of the sharpest sort began to develop. This delayed but in no wise daunted the Americans, who valorously pushed on northward. That these operations have proceeded so successfully augurs well for general success.

"Strong Raids" Take Place.

Southward from St. Mihiel two actions which are described as strong raids have taken place. Also at several points along the heights of the Meuse French troops have been exerting heavy pressure.

At the moment nothing presents itself with greater emphasis than the skill with which the American artillery fire was conducted. Not only did it achieve most savage and devastating intensity, but it was altogether remarkable for its accuracy. There must be that in American character which lends itself to good gunnery. When fifteen minutes after American fire had commenced the Germans attempted to make a silencing retort it took the United States artillerymen precisely thirty-five minutes to blot out practically all the enemy's counter fire, and blotting out counter fire is the supreme test of marksmanship in modern war.

So far, to those following the American operation, one great spectacle has been the nights of shell fire which we have just experienced. From the hillside commanding a portion of the battle scene one's every sense was at the exact turn of 1 this morning most ruthlessly assaulted. Upon an instant those valleys, exquisitely soft and winsome, which the Meuse and Moselle confine became horrifying thunder pits.

One thought no longer of the chill of the trickling autumn rain falling nearby, for the guns surcharged the air with concussion waves that vibrated the muscles. The distant guns, when they were at all distinguishable in the general commotion of the night, seemed more than anything else merely to grunt. At first the flashes did not partake at all of the character of heat lightning, which they so often do, but seemed well nigh completely lost in air and darkness.

BATTLE STATEMENTS

BRITISH REPORT

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The war office statement tonight says:

Our operations in the Havrincourt sector were continued with success this morning, in spite of the unfavorable weather.

English troops attacked and captured Trescault and the old British trench lines east and north of it. On their right New Zealand troops made progress east of the Gouzeaucourt wood, overcoming the obstinate resistance of a German Jaeger division.

At Havrincourt the Sixty-second (Yorkshire) division, which carried the village on Nov. 20, 1917, attacked for a second time over the same ground and with like success. Other English troops attacked across the Canal du Nord, north of Havrincourt. After sharp fighting our troops captured the village, together with the section of the Hindenburg line between the village and the canal.

North of the Bapaume-Cambrai road Lancashire troops completed the capture of Moeuvres, also after sharp fighting.

About 1,000 prisoners have been taken by us in these operations.

On the northern portion of the front further progress has been made by us today south of La Bassee canal and northwest of Armentieres.

EARLY REPORT

Yesterday evening our troops captured Attily, Vermand, and Vendelles, and during the night they made progress in the western outskirts of Holnon wood.

English troops carried out successful local operations yesterday afternoon in the Havrincourt and Moeuvres sectors, overcoming considerable hostile opposition. Our troops have crossed the Canal du Nord, northwest of Havrincourt, and have established themselves on the west bank of the canal east and north of Moeuvres.

During the night our troops attacked and captured a strongly fortified position known as the railway triangle, southwest of La Bassee, taking a number of prisoners and machine guns.

FRENCH REPORT

PARIS, Sept. 12.—The war office statement tonight says:

The American army attacked this morning in the region of St. Mihiel. The operation is developing under the best of conditions.

West of St. Quentin, in co-operation with the British, we advanced as far as the Holnon-Savy road (about three miles west of St. Quentin).

EARLY REPORT

North of the Ailette a raid by French troops resulted in the taking of prisoners. There was artillery activity in the Reims and the Presnes regions. Two enemy raids in the Champagne and in the Vosges were repulsed.

GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN, via London, Sept. 12.—The war office statement tonight says:

Between the Meuse and the Moselle the French and Americans attacked at the St. Mihiel bend. The fighting continues.

Between the roads leading from Peronne and Arras to Cambrai renewed British attacks failed.

EARLY REPORT

Partial attacks northeast of Bixschoote and enemy advances near Armentieres and on La Bassee canal were repulsed.

On the battle fronts during the day infantry engagements, accompanied by strong artillery fire, developed in front of our positions in the Arras region. In the evening violent artillery duels occurred between the roads from Arras and Peronne toward Cambrai. British attacks delivered at the approach of darkness against the Marquion-Havrincourt canal section failed in front of our lines.

Between the Ailette and the Aisne the artillery fire increased in strength in the evening. The infantry activity here was restricted to forefield engagements. On the heights northeast of Fesmes (Fismes?) French partial attacks were repulsed. There were successful reconnoitering engagements on the Lorraine front and in the Vosges.

HAIG SMASHES CANAL DEFENSE NEAR CAMBRAI

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—In their recent advance the British fired more than 10,000,000 shells in four weeks. As a result the enemy's wire was cut with greater thoroughness than ever before, and the British counter-battery work, according to the German statement, destroyed ten guns to the Germans' one.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Field Marshal Haig's troops today smashed through a part of the Hindenburg line southwest of Cambrai, and tonight have established themselves at several points on the east bank of the Canal du Nord. In this operation, the war office report tonight says, the British captured Havrincourt, over which there has been extremely hard fighting, Trescault, and Moeuvres.

The report says that the British have penetrated their old positions at several places. Something more than 1,000 prisoners were captured, it also is announced. The British now are less than five miles from the outskirts of Cambrai, which is under constant shell fire.

Smash Strong Defenses.

By crossing the Canal du Nord, Haig's troops have overcome a strong defensive position, which for more than a week held up the British advance in the north. East of the canal, the terrain does not lend itself naturally to defensive warfare, and the advance on Cambrai and its communications with St. Quentin will now be much easier.

Farther south the British are closing in on St. Quentin, having captured the towns of Vermand, Attilly, and Vendelles, all of which are to the northwest of St. Quentin.

At this point, according to the official report, the British have pushed into the western fringe of Holnon wood.

In coöperation with the French, the British are now within three miles of St. Quentin.

Boche Plans to Stand.

All indications on the British front point to the intention of the Germans to defend their positions in the highly organized battle zone of the Germans' old positions and the Hindenburg line, inundating the country where that is possible. Doubtless, however, they are considering the establishment of a strong line farther back, with the big towns of Douai, Cambrai, and St. Quentin as pivots.

It is pointed out that the Germans since July 14 have shortened their line approximately seventy miles, thereby saving between thirty and forty divisions. A further shortening, however, is not immediately possible. Hence the British expect strong resistance and counter attacks to continue.

Before the Hindenburg system now held by the Germans can be successfully dealt with much reconstruction of communications will be necessary. But this is not viewed as a great task owing to the speed of the British engineers, who are now engaged in the preliminaries of this work.

MAINTAIN THEIR HOLD.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Sept. 12, 2 p. m.—[By the Associated Press.]—British troops stormed their way today into the shell shattered town of Havrincourt, which lies on a dominating ridge within the forward defenses of the Hindenburg line and at latest reports were maintaining their hold on this highly important place.

A little to the south they also carried Trescault by assault, thereby gaining a still firmer grip on the high ground dominating this region. Fighting was still proceeding this afternoon and about 300 German prisoners have been sent back to the cages.

Attack Despite Rain.

The attack was begun this morning in the midst of rain, which had been falling intermittently for several days. Because of the elevation of this ridge, however, the ground was not in a particularly bad condition. The operation was a local one, restricted to the capture of positions of the Havrincourt-Trescault sector.

The main interest here centered in the American drive, news of which spread quickly this morning. Officers throughout the British army are watching the battle eagerly. A meager report received this afternoon that things were going well for the Americans was received with the greatest enthusiasm and expressions of heartfelt good wishes.

HERE ARE UNITS IN FIRST GREAT AMERICAN SMASH

PART of the First field army which is understood to be engaged in the big Metz drive gains the credit for the first all-American offensive. It consists of five corps of six divisions each, but how many of these divisions are engaged has not been disclosed. The makeup of the First field army as announced recently (now possibly altered) is as follows:

First corps—First, Second, Twenty-sixth, Forty-second, Forty-first, and Thirty-second divisions, under Maj. Gen. Liggett.

Second corps—Seventy-seventh, Thirty-fifth, Eighty-second, Thirtieth, Twenty-eighth, and Fourth divisions, under Maj. Gen. Bullard.

Third corps—Third, Fifth, Seventy-eighth, Eightieth, Thirty-third, and Twenty-seventh divisions, under Maj. Gen. Wright.

Fourth army corps—Eighty-third, Eighty-ninth, Thirty-seventh, Twenty-ninth, Ninetieth, and Ninety-second divisions, under Maj. Gen. Reed.

Fifth corps—Sixth, Thirty-sixth, Seventy-sixth, Seventy-ninth, Eighty-fifth, and Ninety-first divisions, under Maj. Gen. Bundy.

WILSON WRITES HEROES' FATHER

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—George M. Gerald of this city, who has had two sons killed in action in France and the third son seriously wounded, has received the following letter from President Wilson:

"The White House, Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—My Dear Mr. Gerald: May I not express to you my profound sympathy for the loss of your sons, Lieut. Gerald and Sergt. Gerald, and for wounding of your other son, Corporal Gerald, and express not my sympathy merely, but my admiration for the services which your sons have given and the great sacrifices they have made for the safety of their country and the freedom of the world. I sincerely hope that in years to come, and even now, in the midst of the first anguish of these losses, you may be cheered by the consciousness that your sons accepted a destiny touched with unusual distinction, and which will be forever memorable throughout the world.

"WOODROW WILSON."

STORY OF YANKS' FIRST BIG DRIVE AGAINST BOCHE

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.
Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

WITH AMERICAN ARMY, Sept. 12, [illegible]—The first American army has attacked St. Mihiel salient from all sides. Following four hours of intense artillery preparations we took the offensive between the Moselle river and the Meuse river at 5 o'clock and an hour later the whole movement was in progress over nearly a fifty kilometer front—from Pont-a-Mousson on the east to Fresnes, east of Verdun, on the west end. We have been everywhere successful. Gen. Pershing is in personal command of the operations.

Within the last twelve hours St. Mihiel salient has been written into American history and given new paragraphs in world history, for against it has been launched the first serious military effort of the United States in this war. This operation far and away transcends anything our troops have attempted heretofore.

Having made good with a vengeance in aiding the French to keep Paris safe, American military effort has been turned to our own salient with glorious initial success.

Every one knows the history of the St. Mihiel salient. A natural fortress, St. Mihiel, buttressed by lofty Mont Sec, was seized by the invading Germans in 1914, and they have held it ever since.

The Boche Has Hung On.

Bloody efforts by the French in 1915 did not throw the Boche from his strongly made positions. That salient has stuck there for four years a thorn in the side of France. For four years the Boche has been making it stronger.

Now the Americans have attacked it as the first real American effort of the war. It must remain for the official communique to give the exact progress, but I may say there is considerably less of that salient than there was twelve hours ago.

It should be stated here that in the first American army fighting units are famous French shock troops, that French tanks are aiding us, and French airplanes helping our efforts.

But the great majority of the soldiers under the First army are standard Americans. We are using our available air service. We have complete supremacy of the air. Not one Boche plane, so far as I can find out, has stuck its nose over the line today. We have plenty of guns, plenty of ammunition, and plenty of troops. It is a grand show, this first American war show.

Two Drives Launched.

Two hard drives were launched, one of them between Pont-a-Mousson and Apremont and the other south of Fresnes, on the west side of the salient. Both of these drives were made by Americans. On the west side of the salient the attack is progressing most favorably.

The first batch of 100 prisoners was reported at 7 o'clock and many smaller numbers up to noon.

No strong attack has been launched at the tip of the salient or against Mont Sec. Far enough progress on other points will take care of these places. Already the indications are that the Germans are getting out of the tip of the salient. Our troops are moving forward cautiously, just jogging the Boche along; that's the way it is planned. So far as the withdrawal of the Boche, that is no easy matter, for every foot of the whole St. Mihiel salient is under the fire of our guns.

Great Massing of Guns.

Incidentally, while the exact number of guns we have massed may not be stated, it can be said that we have one of the largest and heaviest concentrations of artillery at work that this war or any other war has seen.

Then, too, our airplane assemblage is the heaviest of the war. Chasse machines, bombers, and observers—they are all at work today. Our chasse machines are keeping back the Boche avions and strafing the German lines, and the bombers are attacking strategic points the Boche must control to withdraw.

We have a large number of heavy long range guns at work, which, with aerial torpedoes, reach every place in the salient. The German artillery fire has been very weak, indicating the drawing of guns back, and that the Boche will probably announce another strategic victory, which, however, he had not taken advantage of these four years before we hit the salient to announce that the Americans had arrived in this war as a real military factor.

Biting Is Good.

It is too early to tell much of the achievement in our attack save that of the German triangle resting on the base of the Hindenburg line we have chewed off considerable bites, and our appetite is not satisfied. But one can tell our people how it started and of what one saw when it started. I was away off on the Aisne front yesterday morning when word came to get east and do it in a hurry. Quitting Meux, the correspondents' headquarters, we came across France, reaching headquarters in this sector last night.

Showing that the American army wants the folks back home to know what it is doing, after dinner an American general told the correspondents of the whole plan of attack, taking the United States into his confidence, so that all might understand what was meant. The general's eyes were heavy for lack of sleep and long hours of planning, and when all was planned took two hours to tell us about it. When he had told all but the time he said:

"Gentlemen, it's now midnight. In one hour our artillery starts and at 5 our infantry starts."

Thousands of Guns Roar.

I moved in a hurry and when 1 o'clock came we could see the big show begin. The desultory firing before that died down. Just at 1 o'clock thousands of guns spoke and then others joined in. It was raining hard. The flare of seemingly innumerable flashes lighted the sky with aurora after aurora, with flitting flashes through the thickened atmosphere. The whole sky was aflame. The whole sky was aglow with the spirit of militant America.

And on and on it went, each moment like the one before, each moment sending its peace propaganda to the Boche.

We snatched an hour and a half of sleep and were off for the front at 4 o'clock. The artillery still was going as it started three hours before. On a high hill just this side of the starting line I waited. Five minutes to 5, four minutes to 5, and then came our barrage. I don't know how many guns were speaking, but the explosions came so fast one could not distinguish individual voices of guns, and all shells screaming joyfully in one direction. I heard only two returning shells. Then, at one minute to 5, came a pause. In that pause history was in the making, for just at 5 our men started. It was too dark to see them, but when, two minutes after the barrage started again, I knew it had been lifted a hundred meters, and over those hundred meters thousands of doughboys were bound north.

Then it lifted again. There were smaller guns going, making that rolling barrage. Above their staccato voices could be heard the booming of big rifles behind us, making a hell on earth for the Germans coming up to reinforce the Boche line. One after another they screamed their way, the scream of the avenging American eagle.

What Daylight Revealed.

It was growing light; the rain had stopped. Off to the eastward the clouds lifted and the sun showed its head. Through the mist one could see the far off hills made into veritable forts, the roar overhead, and northward swept a squadron of airplanes. On the under side of the wings was the American device. They circled and started. From the first patrols which followed fast came the word that a Boche sausage was ascending five kilometers back, and off shot three planes in its direction.

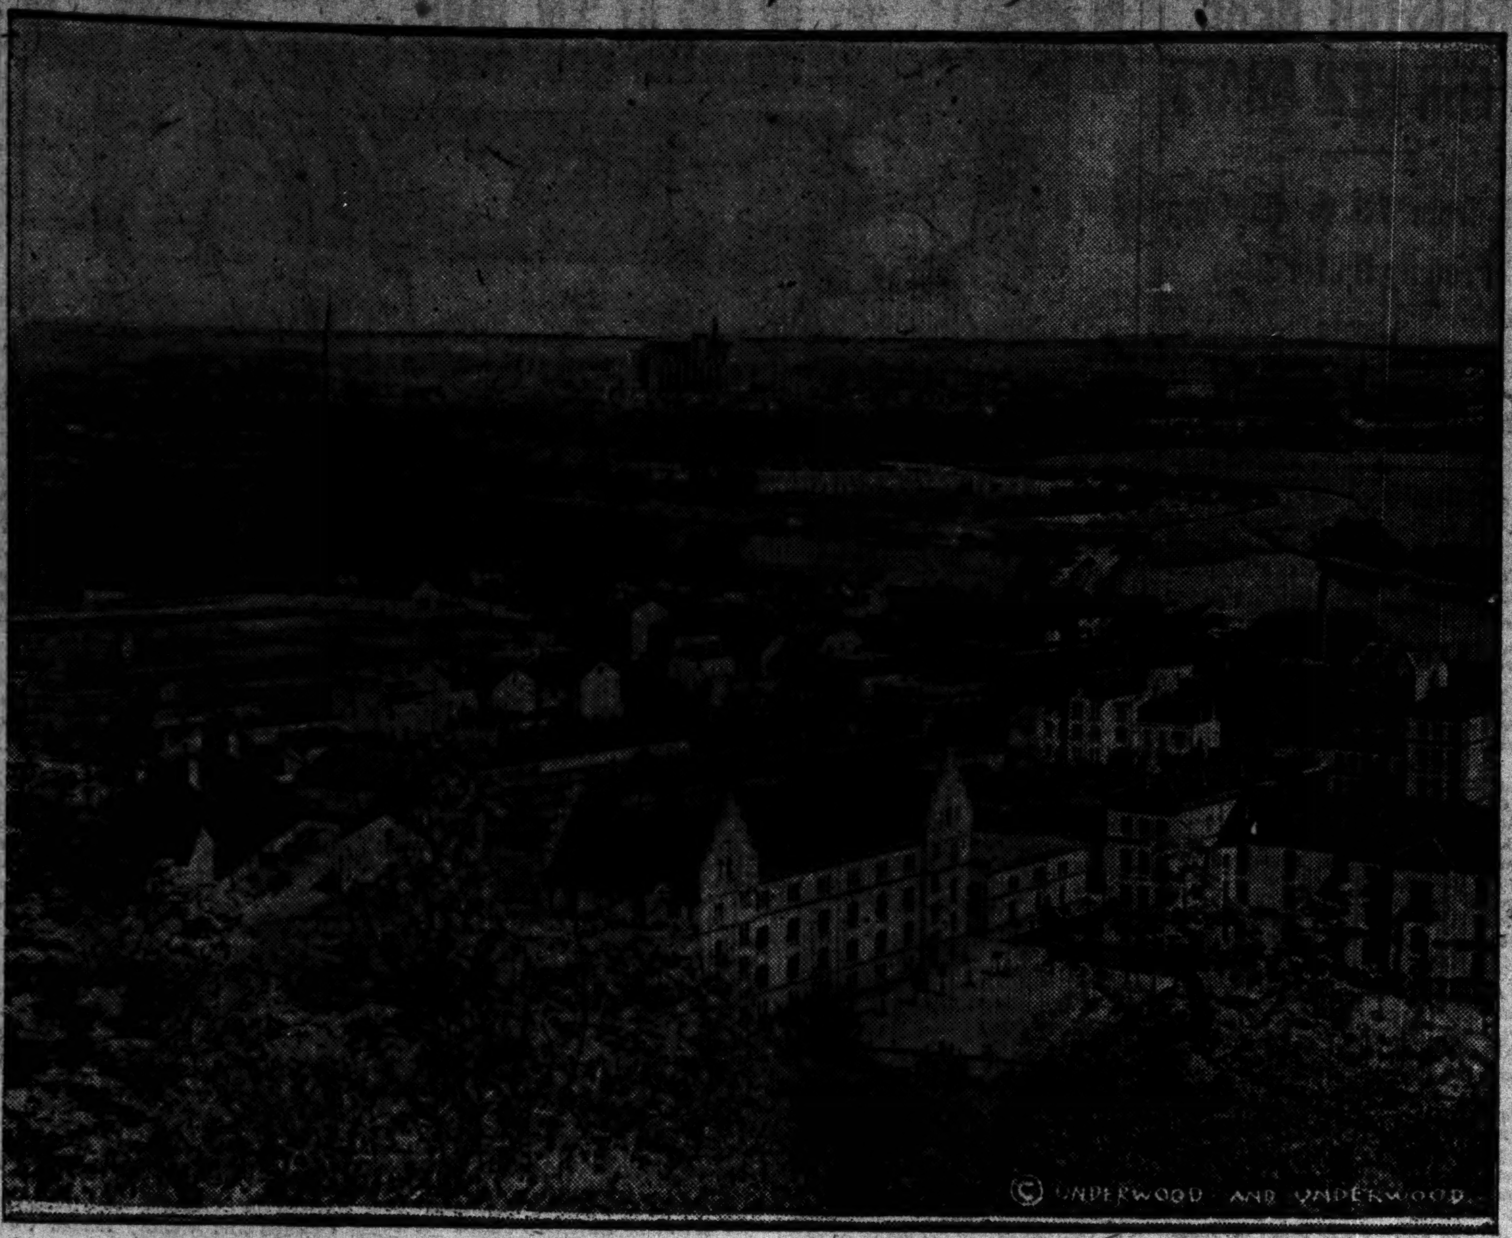
They got it. While glorying in the first big American effort we had in air supremacy, it is but fair to state we had not enough machines to achieve it, but owe the credit to the aid of the French aviators.

All the U. S. Represented.

All the United States was represented in soldiers making the attack. Boys from New York, from California, from Michigan, from practically all states of the republic. Many of the troops fighting today have won their laurels in France. For others it is their first battle. All reports coming in show fresh progress. We are moving ahead on scheduled time. In this connection it may be said the Germans expected the Americans to attack, but did not know the time.

IS METZ, GERMAN STRONGHOLD, PERSHING'S GOAL?

Great Fortified City of Lorraine Toward Which the New Franco-American Offensive Is Aiming.



Metz is the great fortress city of northern German Lorraine close to the French border and now less than fifteen miles from the battle front. The citadel consists of medieval defenses on both flanks of the Moselle river. About three miles from the city proper is a complete inner ring of forts on heights dominating all appraoches. About three miles farther out to the northwest, west, southwest, and south, facing the French frontier, is a second line of powerful forts. These were designed by Field Marshal von Haeseler, one of the greatest of the older German generals. One of the forts dominating the Moselle valley is named in his honor. The other outer forts, beginning from the south, are Fort de Sommy, Fort Kronprinz, Fort Kaiserin, Fort Leipsig, and Fort Lothringen.

Gen. von Haeseler has been the crown prince's mentor and he was made "the goat" for the failure of his pupil's costly attack on Verdun.

HONORED

Chicago Lieutenant Receives Distinguished Service Cross.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Lieut. Donald W. Green, 1356 East Fifty-sixth street, Chicago, was one of seventeen American soldiers reported as receiving the distinguished service cross for heroism on the battlefield in Gen. Pershing's communique tonight.

In reporting the award to Lieut. Green, Col. Pershing made the following citation:

"Second Lieutenant Donald W. Green, infantry: For extraordinary heroism in action northeast of Chateau Thierry, France, July 26 to Aug. 1, 1918. He set an example of heroism and devotion to duty at Croix Rouge farm, when he continued to lead his platoon through heavy fire for five days after being wounded."

GUN AND BAYONET FRENCH REPLY TO BURIAN "PEACE"

Latest Foe Overture Not Even Clever; Point to Ruins.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—Count Burian's statement in Vienna that the time has come for a "calm exchange of views" concerning peace has been received in France with much more calm than he could desire. It is looked upon as the third and most pretentious utterance of the central powers in the present peace offensive. The other two were those of Dr. Solf and Prince Max of Baden.

The chief comment in Paris is that Burian is disappointing because he does not offer even the academic interest derived from puzzling out a new device. It is the same old trick without the addition of a single novelty. Paris wants to know why the central powers cannot show the same ingenuity in fabricating new peace hints as in devising atrocities.

No Public Reaction.

There is absolutely no reaction of the Frenh people to Burian. First, because he is so transparent. Second, because even a peace suggestion cleverly made could not now make headway against the indignation of the French at the needless devastation wrought by the German armies in the present retreat.

The French armies are composed very largely of peasants and farmers, to whom tillable land, farm houses, and barns are sacred things. Four years of war have not dulled their senses to cruelty and wantonness. A farm house, once a comfortable and prosperous home, but now a heap of ruins, has the same emotional appeal to the farmer soldier as a wrecked cathedral to the rest of the world.

So the French troops and people are more determined at this moment than ever before to defeat the enemy with guns and bayonets. Meantime the peace suggestions of Burian and others mean nothing.

ARMISTICE INVOLVED.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Outlines of Germany's peace offensive, embracing the proposal of an armistice at the commencement of winter, were received here through entente diplomatic channels today. The maneuvers meditated by the central powers were agreed upon, it is said, at the recent conference between Emperor William and Emperor Charles at German general headquarters.

Germany, according to the exposé, will suggest to the allies an exchange of views, to take place secretly during the winter months. The Berlin government, it is indicated, is prepared to restore the independence of Belgium and evacuate northern France, and, provided Germany is awarded certain consideration, agree to a reëxamination of the treaty of Brest-Litovsk.

For Neutrals' Consumption.

"Burian's declarations," reads a diplomatic dispatch, "following so shortly those of Count Czernin, and showing plainly that they are parts of a campaign, seem to be a sign that the Austro-German peace maneuver, which always takes place after great military actions, has begun. It appears that it is to be tried in all directions.

"The presence of Mathias Erzberger in Copenhagen, at a time when a Scandinavian interparliamentary conference is to take place in that city, and Troelstra's return to Holland across Germany, seem to indicate that a new peace maneuver is being arranged in the neutral countries of northern Europe."

No Peace by Negotiation in Liberty Fight: Lloyd George

BULLETIN.

MANCHESTER, ENG., Sept. 12.—It was officially announced late tonight that Premier Lloyd George is suffering from a chill. He has a high temperature and may be prevented from fulfilling all his engagements in his present tour of Lancashire, the statement adds.

MANCHESTER, England, Sept. 12.—"Nothing but heart failure on the part of the British nation can prevent our achieving a real victory," said Premier Lloyd George, speaking today at Manchester.

The premier said he was all for a league of nations and that in fact a league already had been begun. The British emprise, he said, was a league of free nations, and the allied countries fighting the battle for international right were now a league of free nations.

"To end all wars," the premier said, "we must impose a durable peace from our enemies. The Prussian military power must not only be beaten, but Germany herself must know and the German people must know that their rulers have outraged the laws of humanity and that Prussian strength cannot protect them from punishment.

"There are some men who say drop it and let us have peace by negotiation. There is no compromise between freedom and tyranny, no compromise between light and darkness. I know that it is better to sacrifice one generation than to sacrifice liberty forever. That is what we are fighting for, and heaven grant that we fight through to the end.

Pictures a Kaiser League.

"This must be the last war," Mr. Lloyd George said. "Don't let us be misled that the establishment of a league of nations without power will in itself secure the world against a catastrophe. A league of nations with the Prussian military power triumphant would be a league of fox and geese—one fox and many geese. The geese would greatly diminish in numbers."

The only sure foundation for a league of nations, the premier said, was a victory for the allies. Peace must be of a kind, he added, that commends itself to the common sense conscience of the nations. As a whole, it must not be dictated by extreme men on either side.

No Brest-Litovsk Treaty.

Continuing, the premier said:

"We shall neither accept for ourselves nor impose upon our foes a Brest-Litovsk treaty. We cannot allow the 'Bolsheviks' to force on us a peace so humiliating as to dishonor the national flag and to make a repetition of the horrors of this war inevitable. When a satisfactory peace has been secured we can proceed with a clear conscience to build up a new world."

The premier said that the British casualties in the last offensive in Flanders were one-fifth of what they were in 1916. "The news is distinctly good, really good," he added. "We are going through a long tunnel and are not at the end of the journey. There is some steep gradient to climb. It may be that the tunnel will be dark, but it will be short now that the worst is over.

Critics Fool Germany.

"When we suffered the reverse of March 21 we still had large reserves in this country. The Germans did not know it. I already have expressed gratitude to the people who criticized the government on the ground that there were no reserves. These people had successfully misled the Germans.

"An additional fact that depressed the Germans was the advent of the Americans. There is no finer feature in the history of English industry than the transport of the Americans across the Atlantic. The Germans did not expect more than two divisions. That was another miscalculation.

"Hundreds of thousands are there now, and the Germans know it. They are the advance guard of ten million of the finest material in the world."

KAISER SEEKS PEACE, BUT OF GERMAN BRAND

Fighting for Life, He Says in Plea for Loyalty at Krupp Works.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 12.—Speaking at the Krupp munition works at Essen, Emperor William declared that every one in the remotest corner of the fatherland knew that he had "left no stone unturned to shorten the war as far as possible for your people and for the entire civilized European world."

The emperor said it took two to make peace—that one could not do it unless he could overcome the other. Germany, he declared, was confronted with her enemies' will to destroy her and she must place against this her determination to preserve her existence.

After mentioning his offers of peace, the emperor said that "the German leaders had made it plain to every one who wished to understand "that we are at all times ready to offer the hand of peace."

Kaiser Too Busy Before.

In beginning his address at the munition works the emperor said:

"My dear friends of the Krupp works: I have long felt a desire to pay you a visit during this war, but, as you know, numerous political and military duties have summoned me to the various battlefields and regions of war wrecked Europe.

"Very great work has been accomplished by all, from the directors down to the last workman and workwoman, and this under increasing food and clothing difficulties and the losses, sorrows, and cares which have spared no home, neither princely house nor modest workman's dwelling.

Heart Depths Touched.

"In my journeyings through the land I have spoken with many a widow, many a peasant, many a member of the landwehr and the landsturm, whose hearts were heavy with cares, but who glowed with the thought of duty first. I have been touched by your cares to the depths of my heart.

"But to whom, after all, do we owe this? Who spoke at the beginning of the war of starving out the German women and children? Who was it who introduced terrible hatred into this war? It was the enemy!

Leaving No Stone Unturned.

"Every one of you in the remotest corner of the fatherland knows I left no stone unturned to shorten the war as far as possible for you and your people and for the entire civilized Europeon world. In December, 1916, I presented the enemy public with a clear and unambiguous offer of peace in the name of the German empire and my allies. Jeers, mockery, and contempt were the answer.

"He up above knows my sense of responsibility. Repeatedly during the past months the responsible leaders of the imperial government have unambiguously given to understand, to every one who wished to understand, that we are at all times ready to offer the hand of peace."

The emperor declared the answer of Germany's enemies was the outspoken will to destruction, the disintegration, the crushing of Germany.

"To make peace," he added, "two are needed. If either is unwilling, the other cannot, presuming that he does not overthrow the other. Thus we are confronted with the enemy's absolute will to destruction. And against this absolute will to destruction we must place our absolute will to preserve our existence.

Everything at Stake.

"Everything now depends on our final exertions. Everything is at stake, and because our enemies know it, because they have the greatest respect for the German army, because they see they cannot overcome our army and navy, they are trying to overcome us by means of internal disintegration and to weaken us by false rumors.

"These do not emanate from the German people. They are artificial productions. But whoever hearkens to such rumors, whoever passes on unsubstantiated news in the railway workshop or elsewhere, sins against the fatherland. He is a traitor and is liable to severe punishment no matter whether he be a count or a workman.

Fighting for Existence.

"Even though, in the opinion of many among you, it is lasting too long, every German man and every German woman must, in witnessing these incomparably heroic deeds of our army and navy, be aware that we are fighting and struggling for existence, and that we must make the utmost effort to defend ourselves victoriously not only through the work but as regards the thoughts of our people.

"Many among you have often asked themselves during this long war, 'How did such a thing happen? Why did we have to undergo such a thing after forty years of peace?' I think it is a question well worthy of an answer and which must be answered for the future—for our children and our grandchildren.

"I have thought long on the matter and have come to the following answer:

"In this world good clashes with evil. That is how things have been ordered from on high—the yes and the no; the no of the doubting mind against the yes of the creative mind; the no of the pessimist against the yes of the optimist; the no of the unbeliever against the yes of the champion of faith; the yes of heaven against the no of hell.

"You will acknowledge that I am right in describing this war as the product of a great negation. And do you ask what negation it is? It is the negation of the German people's right to existence. It is the negation of all our kultur, a negation of our achievements, of all our work.

Envied by Enemies.

"The German people was industrious, meditative, assiduous, imaginative in all domains. It worked with body and soul. But there were people who did not wish to work, but to rest on their laurels. Those were our enemies.

"We got close to them through our profitable work and the development of our industry, science, and art; through our population education and social legislation. Thereby our people throve, and then came envy.

"Now promise me on behalf of the entire German labor: 'We intend to fight and to hold out to the last, so help us, God.' Whoever so intends let him answer 'Yes.'"

The assembly loudly chorused "Yes" and the emperor added:

"I thank you. With this 'Yes' I go now to the field marshal. Now it is for every one of us to fulfill his vow to duty and to exert his body and mind to the utmost for the fatherland. Every doubt must be banished from mind and heart.

"Our watchword now is: The German swords are raised, hearts are strong, and muscles are taut. On to battle against everything that stands against us, no matter how long it lasts, so help us God. Amen. And now, farewell."

RESTITUTION, IF—

German Vice Chancellor Says Kaiser Might Give Up Belgium, but Would Demand Guarantee of Future.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 12.—That Germany might restore Belgium without conditions or indemnities in case no other country would be better situated as regards Belgium than Germany was the belief expressed today by Friedrich von Payer, the imperial vice chancellor of Germany, in a speech delivered at Stuttgart.

Herr von Payer was speaking on the depression felt in Germany and allied countries, which he attributed not to recent military events but to the prospect of a fifth war winter.

"If we could be sure that no other country would be better situated as regards Belgium than ourselves," Herr von Payer said, "I believe I could venture to say that Belgium could be restored without conditions and without indemnities."

With regard to the appearance of the American troops in the war, the vice chancellor said:

"Nobody will deny that the coöperation of the American troops on the front means a heavy and ever increasing burden for us."

LILLE AND METZ KEYS TO GERMAN LINE—MAURICE

Have Dug In All the Way Back in North France.

BY MAJ. GEN. F. B. MAURICE.
Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Some of those who at the time of the victory of Drocourt switch were predicting the early capture of Douai and Cambrai and a German retreat to Valenciennes and the Meuse are now rushing to the other extreme.

They have discovered the fact that the Germans, who were on the defensive, with the one exception of the episode of Verdun, in the winter of 1914 to the spring of 1918 and who were established for close on a year in the Hindenburg line, to which they have again retired, are not relying on a single defensive system, but have other lines between their present front and the Rhine.

Germans in Big Bow.

Ever since the German front in the west settled down it has taken the form of a great bow, of which the string is a line from Lille to Metz. The bow was bent outward to the greatest extent by the German offensives of last March and May. It has now been forced back roughly to where it was at the beginning of this year, but it remains a bow.

The extremities of the bow at Lille and Metz are the pivots upon which the enemy's defensive systems depend. Labor of about four years had been expended upon the elaboration of the defenses of Lille, and they are now very formidable. They cover Belgian Flanders just as Metz covers Lorraine. The Germans want to hold on to Belgium because they wish to have it as a pawn in the peace negotiations.

Haig Shy of Men.

One thing which prevented Haig from following up further his victories of Aug. 8 and Sept. 2 was the lack of weight of numbers.

We have muddled our man power policy consistently, with the result that in none of the belligerent countries is the incidence of military service more unevenly applied. Boys and middle aged men are where men in the prime of life should be and vice versa. The army goes short, the coal mines go short, and this is the moment chosen to advocate the extension of our eastern enterprise. We require again to review our man power policy with the plain fact before us that every man sent to France helps to shorten the war, and, as things are, that every soldier sent elsewhere helps to prolong it.

Austria 'Strong Under Glorious Hapsburg Scepter'

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 12.—Baron von Hussarek, the Austrian premier, in a speech at a dinner given to the group of German journalists now visiting Austria, is quoted in a dispatch from Vienna as saying: "Under the glorious Hapsburg scepter for centuries Austria has become a state of strength which will enable it to meet every defaming catchword, to expel and overcome disease bearers, and to offer strong resistance to all attempts to break it up, no matter from what side they come."

Germans Now Building Supreme Line of Defense

PARIS, Sept. 12.—A supreme line of defense, to be called the Parsifal line, is being constructed by the Germans from Antwerp to Metz, says Marcel Hutin in the Echo de Paris. The article also says that the Germans are putting the Antwerp forts in a defensive condition.

WHOLE COUNTRY GOES OVER TOP IN 18-45 DRAFT

Crowder Turns to Giant Task of Classifying 13 Million Men.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—With assurances from every section of the country that the registration of America's millions of men between the ages of 18 and 21 and 32 to 45, inclusive, had been accomplished today with precision, Provost Marshal General Crowder turned his attention to the great task of classifying this vast army.

Demonstrations of patriotism everywhere marked the registration. Long before the appointed time for the registrars to begin their work lines of citizens were waiting to enroll. In all the reports received at the provost marshal general's office there was no suggestion of any disorder.

Thirteen million names, approximately, have now been added to the 11,000,000 already registered, making a total man power census of about 24,000,000.

The great problem now, Gen. Crowder said today, is to classify the registrants justly and wisely both for the welfare of the army and for the economic and industrial good of the nation. In this connection Gen. Crowder issued a statement regarding "nonproductive occupations" and "nonpriority industries."

Crowder Explains Lists.

"An erroneous impression," Gen. Crowder said, "is current that the nonproductive list of occupations contained in the provost marshal general's work or fight regulation of last May corresponds to the group of industries omitted from the preference list announced by the chairman of the war industries board on Sept. 9.

"Because the former list was brief (only five classes of occupations), while the latter group is very large (including all industries except the seventy priority classes enumerated), and because the announcement of Sept. 9 stated that the 'preference list' is the 'basis for industrial exemption from the draft,' some persons have formed the impression that the small list of five 'nonproductive' occupations has suddenly been enlarged by the provost marshal general to include the extensive group of industries omitted by the chairman of the war industries.

Corrects Wrong Impression.

"This impression is so erroneous and misleading that it calls for prompt repudiation. The 'nonproductive' list of five classified occupations has not been enlarged, and it will not be enlarged without the amplest and most explicit notice.

"An industry omitted from that list is in the position of not being entitled to a priority privilege. The relation of that list to the selective service system is that an industry included in it is thereby recommended to the district boards as being a "necessary" industry, and the district boards may take advantage of that recommendation in determining whether an indispensable man in such an industry should be placed in a deferred class on that ground.

Chance to Change Jobs.

"But there are, of course, many scores, perhaps hundreds, of industries not positively essential to the war program nor to the maintenance of national interest during the emergency. In those industries are, or will be, millions of registrants deferred on grounds of dependency, and many others in class 1 without deferment.

"At this point the 'work or fight' order comes into play, but only a few classes of occupations—five in all—expressly enumerated in that order, and to a relatively small number of individuals.

"Among this extensive and unlisted group of 'nonpriority' industries, it finds a few which it designates as 'nonproductive.' The policy involved is that those men of draft age would serve the country best by getting out of those occupations, either into the military forces or into some other occupation.

Aid Industry and Army.

"Thus the war industries board is concerned merely with strengthening the priority position of a limited number of industries at the top of the scale, so to speak, in relation to war needs; while the provost marshal general's regulation is concerned mainly with strengthening the army by taking the registrants who choose to stay in a small number of occupations at the bottom of the scale."

Cry 'On to Berlin' as They Register in New York

New York, Sept. 12.—New York's new army, nearly a million strong, marched to registration centers today, voicing in all the fifty odd tongues of the polyglot city their willingness to join Gen. Pershing's men overseas. As news of the first great American offensive was spread through the lines the cry went up "On to Berlin!" Wives and sweethearts who had accompanied their men to the registration places took up the slogan. In many places they sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The work went swiftly and without disorder throughout the city.

The deputy warden, who registered 19 prisoners in the Tombs, found two conscientious objectors, but had registered them and passed on before they completed their protests. Among those registered was Jeremiah O'Leary. He expressed his willingness to fight.

It is estimated 950,000 were enrolled.

U. S. Agents to Round Up Dodgers of 18-45 Draft

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—A nation-wide effort to round up men who failed to register for the draft today will be started immediately by a specially organized corps of department of justice agents. This corps, it was learned today, has been in process of organization for some time, and will work quietly, without making general raids, like those in New York, which caused adverse criticism.

Notary Public.

What shall I do when I am asked for a registration card by some policeman or jackie or A. P. L. man?

Men of 46, 47, even those past 50, whose faces are smooth and whose features hold the stamp of youth, asked this question yesterday of their friends on the draft boards.

H. H. Merrick, president of the Selective Service association, put the problem up to Rufus C. Dawes of the Central Trust company, who solved it yesterday. Before night he had printing presses at work on 25,000 red cards, headed "Affidavit as to Age."

Merrick said of the red card plan:

"As president of the Selective Service association I think that this plan will facilitate the administration of the draft and relieve many men of unnecessary distress.

"These affidavit cards, signed by a notary public, have the solemnity of an oath, and the man that uses this card for the criminal purpose of evading the draft has thereby fixed his intent and is sure of the limit.

"The plan, which was suggested by Mr. Dawes, has my hearty indorsement."

SENATE GIVES 12, HOUSE 120, NAMES TO DRAFT ROLLS

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—The senate recessed today to permit twelve of its members and scores of its employés to register for the draft. About 120 members of the house also registered.

Senators who registered were Ashurst of Arizona, Benet of South Carolina, Gerry of Rhode Island, Wolcott of Delaware, Wadsworth of New York, Trammell of Florida, France of Maryland, Hardwick of Georgia, Sheppard of Texas, McNary of Oregon, Henderson of Nevada, and Pittman of Nevada.

Senator Ashurst and Representative Rogers of Massachusetts wanted to waive all claims to exemption and asked to be placed in class one for immediate call. Provost Marshal General Crowder ruled today, however, that senators and representatives cannot waive exemption, if they wish to keep their seats in congress.

MANAGEMENT OF LOOP HOTEL IS HIT BY DRAFT

With very few exceptions the larger hotels in the loop district were hit hard by the draft registration yesterday, the executive departments in all but three of the larger ones being within the age limits.

The Blackstone registered all of its executives with the exception of the owners, Tracy C. and John B. Drake. Assistant Managers R. T. Tompkins, E. W. Tobin and George E. Billingsley registered.

Of the six original bachelor executives of the Hotel Sherman, Assistant Managers Michael O'Brien, Ernest Reul and Edward Denahy, who is also manager of the Fort Dearborn hotel, were exempt, while Manager Frank Bering and Eugene Byfield registered. Ernest Byfield is a lieutenant in the signal corps.

Manager Ernest J. Stevens of the Hotel La Salle, with his assistants, A. G. Swanson, Louve Simons, and A. M. Clark, registered, but Assistant Manager Ben Mathis, Chief Officer Jay Abrams and Chief Clerk George Wolf were exempt.

John Calvey, manager of the Auditorium hotel, registered, as also did Assistant Manager John Burke of the Congress hotel, together with Clerks Frank Florentine and E. J. Lucas. Paul Gores, assistant manager of the Congress, was exempt, as also was W. P. Cox of the Palmer house, while Edward Quinn of the Palmer registered.

Six Stars in His Flag; New Law May Add Two

Daniel J. Cranston, 1083 West Elm street, Winnetka, has six stars in his service flag and expects two more. Four are for sons and two for grandsons. The passage of the 18 to 45 draft age law adds the two other sons to the eligibles. One son, Sergt. Maj. Charles Cranston, two years in the British army, wears a silver plate in his head and a new knee cap as the result of an enemy shell striking the muzzle of the gun he was serving. He was the only survivor of eleven men serving the gun.

INQUEST INTO DUNNING DEATH.

Frank Reeder, an inmate of Chicago state hospital for the insane at Dunning, died Wednesday in the institution. Reder was admitted to the hospital in 1910. His death appeared due to natural causes. An inquest will be held today.

to the matter of asking for exemption. At the present time I am serving as deputy federal food administrator.

THE REV. CLIFTON DAGGETT GRAY, minister and author, editor of the Standard since 1912—"It was a happy moment for me when I registered for selective service. At last the opportunity has come for me to serve my country on the battlefield. Though the fact that I am a clergymen entitles me to exemption, I shall not ask it. Neither do I desire appointment as chaplain."

CHARLES F. CLYNE, United States district attorney for the Northern District of Illinois—"I registered and filled out my questionnaire. I am happy to know that the government has found use for my services in the army. My heart goes out to the boys in the trenches. I am waiting the call."

Watson Armour Ready.

A. WATSON ARMOUR—"I shall not claim exemption, but only await what the government asks me to do."

JOSEPH C. BELDEN—"It is not my intention to claim exemption, but I believe that I will not be called for service. Ninety per cent of my business, the manufacture of insulated wire, is on government contracts, with money advanced by the government, and we are building a new factory to handle the work."

It was said at the home of Joseph M. Cudahy in Lake Forest last night that Mr. Cudahy had registered and would make no claim for exemption. Similar statements issued from the homes of R. T. Crane Jr., John Burnham, and Frederick H. Bartlett.

Just Miss the Call.

Two prominent Chicagoans who missed the call by narrow margins are John D. Black, lawyer, and Walter S. Brewster. Mr. Black was 46 years old Wednesday and Mr. Brewster is a week over the age.

A number of other men who are included in the call are Chauncey D. Blair, Bruce Borland, Chauncey B. Borland, Frederick A. Brown, Homer J. Buckley, Stanley Field, Charles W. Gillett, Ald. Robert Hall McCormick, Honore Palmer, Clive Runnells, Gustavus F. Swift Jr., Charles Weeghman, Marquis Eaton, Herbert J. Friedman, George French Porter, Walter D. Moody, Frederick Clay Bartlett, Keene H. Addington, Arthur Eugene Bestor, Louis Betts, Harry A. Bigelow, Paul Percy Bond, John Gabbert Bowman, Percy Holmes Boynton, Walter Wheeler Cook, Maynard Lee Daggy, Walter Fairleigh Dodd, and Dr. Guy Grigsby Dowdall.

Lake Forest Registrants.

Among the other Lake Foresters who went to the registration booth were Ezra J. Warner, 41, president of Sprague, Warner & Co.; Charles H. Schweppe, 37, investment banker; Albert Volney Foster, 41, president U. S. Silica company; Uri B. Grannis, 38, broker; Stanley Keith, 39, Keith Bros.; Oliver T. Wilson, 41, of Wilson Bros., and Otis Chatfield-Taylor, 19, son of Hobart Chatfield Chatfield-Taylor.

"Gold Coast" Names Listed.

A number of sons of wealthy and prominent families appeared at north side registration headquarters. Such registrants were particularly numerous at 1051 and 1123 Rush street, 18 East Goethe street, 1416 North State street, and 29 East Oak street.

The number of registrants of this class, however, was not as large as might have been expected, it was stated by draft board members, due to the fact that many of these younger men are already in the army or navy. At 18 East Goethe street only sixty-eight persons had registered up to 8 o'clock.

Among those who registered at 1051 Rush street, the Twenty-fourth precinct of the Twenty-first ward, were Harold Fowler McCormick Jr., 1000 Lake Shore drive; Ward Ashmun Vilas, 33 Bellevue place; James Clark Jeffrey, 101 Bellevue place; James Turner Ryerson, 70 Bellevue place; Nelson Ludington Barnes, 33 Bellevue place; and Potter Palmer Jr., 1050 Lake Shore drive.

Young Insull Registers.

Among those registering at 1123 Rush street, the Twenty-third precinct of the Twenty-first ward, were Samuel Insull Jr., 1100 Lake Shore drive; Warren Charles Fairbanks, 56 Cedar street, son of the late ex-Vice President Fairbanks; Walter R. Kirk, son of James S. Kirk, 76 Cedar street; James Allen Newton, 64 Cedar street, Yale student, and George J. Cook Jr., 42 Cedar street, Princeton student.

The following names were found on the list at 29 East Oak street: C. D. Townsend, 999 Lake Shore drive; George Russell Carr, 936 Lake Shore drive, and Kersey Coates Reed, 999 Lake Shore drive.

At 18 East Goethe street, the Twenty-first precinct of the Twenty-first ward, the list of notables was an unusually long one, including David M. Garibaldi, Hopewell Rogers, Julian S. Mason, William Warren Dixon, in charge of Y. M. C. A. work at Camp Grant; Edward H. Brewer, William Waller Jr., William Nicholas Senn Jr., son of the former surgeon general of the United States army; James R. Offield, R. J. Dunham, Harry A. Dubia Jr., son of the former banker; Le Grand S. Burton, and Evan A. Evans.

At 1416 North State street, the Nineteenth precinct of the Twenty-first ward, the list showed Mason Phelps, noted amateur golfer; Harles K. Eckhart, George A. Ranney, Ford R. Carter, Harry F. Wilkens, Montana sheep king, and Harold C. Smith.

Medill McCormick Registers.

Medill McCormick, Republican nominee for the United States senate, registered at 26 East Walton place.

Several men of prominence who live in Chicago and vicinity mailed their registration cards.

Prantiss L. Coonley, who is managing a gas mask factory in Long Island, N. Y., mailed his card to Lake Forest. Robert J. Thorne, president of Montgomery Ward & Co., telegraphed to James F. King, city clerk at Lake Forest, that he had mailed his card.

Irving Netcher, 18, son of Mrs. Mollie Netcher Newberger, proprietor of the Boston Store, mailed his card from Milford, Conn.

Within a few days the classification of the hundreds of thousands will be under way. Cards will be shuffled, serial numbers assigned, and the questionnaires mailed.

Within three weeks, in all probability, the greater number of the registrants will be classified and subject to orders.

The man behind all the big machinery of registration was David B. Gann, head of the central registration committee, who directed operations from the eleventh floor of the County building.

UP AND AT 'EM, DAD!
I'M WITH YOU, SON!

In a basement at 930 East Fifty-third street, Mrs. Elizabeth Maguire of 5245 Ellis avenue was registrar. At noon a tall, clean cut boy of 19 entered the place.

"Hello, mother," he said, and he seated himself in a chair across the table from her, expectantly.

"Hello son," she answered, smiling proudly into the face of her last born.

There was no need for questions as she filled out his card. "Robert Reginald Maguire; nearest relative Mrs. Elizabeth Maguire." Her hand trembled a bit as she passed the blue card across the table.

"You see, he's my youngest boy," she said after he had gone. "I've got one already in France, Lieut. Howard B. Maguire, a flyer. Bob has been ever so anxious to go. Isn't it a queer fate that picked me to call him to his duty?"

The variety of registrants at 930 East Fifty-third street was interesting. There was Henry Thurston Chace Jr., of 5708 Blackstone avenue, assistant corporation counsel, and defeated Thompson candidate for the nomination for chief justice of the municipal court.

There was Alfred Hamburger, theater owner, who registered at the Hotel Del Prado on the Midway, giving his age as 39. And there was breathless Thomas Maclay Hoyne, son of the state's attorney, who rushed into his precinct polling place with all the exuberance of a 20 year old youngster, explaining that he had ridden on his motorcycle from Evanston to sign up.

There was also Chogoro Mijogi, who registered from 5414 Blackstone avenue, giving his occupation as chief of the department of justice of Japan, address, Tokio. His assistant, who is also visiting the city, Tsutomi Yokahama, registered with him.

The polling place at 1452 East Fifty-third street was enlivened when a middle aged man and a young fellow strolled in together.

"Which one of you wishes to register?" they were asked.

"Why, both of us, of course," the elder answered. He was Edwin Howard Bell, 44, of 5142 Blackstone avenue, president of the Railway Supply company at 203 South Dearborn street. The other was his son, Richard Edwin Bell, 18, a student at the University of Illinois.

Hardly a Hyde Park precinct was without students as registrants, and many were visited by professors of the University of Chicago. Among the latter who drew blue cards were the following: Profs. Ernst R. Breslich, 7130 Vernon avenue; Charles Frederick Hagenow, 5744 Blackstone avenue; John Fryer Moulds, 5729 Kimbark avenue; Rinnosuki Shoji, 5727 Kenwood avenue; Charles Oscar Hardy, 5842 Harper avenue; Theodore Ballou Hinckley, 5809 Harper avenue, and Masayasu Kanda, 5707 Kenwood avenue.

Charles J. Zeller has only one arm, but he wanted to be the first to register in his precinct, and he was. Zeller, who is a cigaret agent at 68 West Washington street, stayed up all night to be the first at his registration place at Broadway and Berwyn avenue.

Zeller has two sons in service. Norman R. Zeller, 22 yesterday, is with the Eleventh engineers, formerly the First engineers. Charles J. Zeller Jr. is in the navy.

When Hang Sing, a laundryman of Oak Park, registered in the Sixth precinct in that village he was asked who was his nearest kin.

"Fred Knopp," he replied.

It developed that Fred Knopp owns a butcher shop next door to Sing's laundry, and he believed that they were asking him about his neighbors.

"Anyhow, Fred Knopp is my good friend," he said after his slip had been explained to him. His nearest kin are still in China.

Among the prominent Oak Park citizens who registered were P. H. Ripke, chief of police; M. R. McDaniel, principal of the high school; G. W. Pyott, trustee of the village; R. G. Cook, G. Babson, C. Ward Seabury, and Irwin Rosenfels.

EARL DEAR AND 3 BANDITS FLEE COUNTY JAIL

Sickness Is Ruse.

Regan, apparently very ill, gasping and choking, was lying on the floor of the cell.

"Quick!" cried McErlane. "Come quick! This man is sick. I guess he's dying!"

Taken off his guard, Kempter opened the gate of the "bull pen," or exercise room, and went to the cell. This in itself was a violation of orders. No guard is supposed to enter the bull pen with his keys or any weapon. When he goes in another guard, armed, with the keys outside and the bull pen door locked, is ordered to be on watch.

The guard leaves his weapons outside so that no prisoner can take them from him and attack him. Thinking Regan dying, Kempter rushed in alone. More than this, he also unlocked the cell door and bent over Regan.

Guard Knocked Out.

As he did so McErlane struck him. He knocked the guard unconscious and grabbed his keys. Then he went to the cell near by, occupied by Moran and released him. Moran and McErlane then picked the unconscious guard up bodily, threw him into an empty cell, and locked the door.

Then they deliberately released themselves from the bull pen, went around to the cells occupied by Dear and Bopp, and let them out. From some mysterious place they produced a rope. This rope was made up of pieces of window cord believed to have been filched from the old jail at various times by some trusty and brought to them. There was about 150 feet of this cord in all. It was doubled, to add strength, and the loose ends, after being knotted, were carefully tied with white twine.

Trusty Sawed Window.

They went to the window that had been prepared for them. Never before had any of the four had access to this window. Some one else, supposedly a trusty, must have sawed the bars. These bars, of iron and an inch and a quarter thick, had been almost sawed through.

The men snapped them and twisted them aside. Two bars sufficed to permit them to squeeze out. But there was still one more difficulty to overcome. Heavy iron grates hung outside, that opened back like French windows. A padlock on the outside held each.

Though the four had never had access to this lock, it too, had been fixed for them. Mysteriously it had been sawed. Soap in the crack made by the saw concealed the fact that it had been tampered with. A quick blow and the lock broke.

Escape Is Completed.

Fastening the rope to the grating the men quickly let themselves down, one by one. Darkness was falling and they were on the ground before the escape was realized.

Persons in the vicinity told a few minutes afterward of seeing two men rush across the street from the jail and enter a high powered automobile standing on Dearborn street at Illinois street, headed north. The engine was running and as they jumped in the machine dashed off to the north at high speed.

Two other men were seen to sprint west in Illinois street, run into an alley skirting the jail, and go south in the darkness. Others saw two men, a moment later, emerge from this alley and head west in Austin avenue to Clark street. Here they vanished.

Joe Berger, a jail guard, returning from supper, saw the rope dangling from the window and rushing into the jail told John Meyers, assistant jailer. Both ran back to the rope to stop any others who might be trying to climb down.

None came and they gave the alarm. At about the same moment a chauffeur, nodding in a car across the street, awoke to what was happening and phoned to the police. In another minute the alarm was general.

One man in the neighborhood confessed:

"I saw them slide down the rope, but thought it was a motion picture stunt."

Guard's Star Stripped.

When Sheriff John E. Traeger, summoned at once by Jailer Davies, arrived on the scene with six deputies, he ordered John Kempter, the guard who was overpowered and beaten by the escaping prisoners, before him. Again and again he made him tell how the prisoner feigned sickness, how he had gone into the cell alone and been attacked, and how he had been locked in a separate cell while the men were actually making their escape. When asked why he had not raised an alarm —he was not gagged—he said:

"He told me if I yelled he'd kill me. I thought of my wife and children and decided that my life was more valuable to them than the prisoner to the county."

Sheriff Traeger arose and, after calling him a "coward, a traitor, and a cur," stripped the star from him and ordered him out of his office.

Autos filled with detectives and riflemen were sent to all parts of the city. The police know well the haunts of the men from experience. Dear has a wife in Chicago and other relatives.

The men have hangouts. All these are watched. Dear's wife, young and fairly pretty, has visited him regularly twice a week. She stood by him through his trial and after his conviction. The jail authorities last night said they did not think she had any hand in the jail delivery.

Woman in Auto?

Bopp, too, has a sweetheart and she has visited him as often as the jailers would permit. It was reported last night, but not verified, that a woman was in the motor car that sped away.

Five Inquiries Start.

Five investigations have been started —one by Sheriff Traeger, one by State's Attorney Hoyne, one by the police, one by Jailer Davies, and the fifth by the county board, President Reinberg having been notified of the affair at once.

"Such a thing never would have happened," said the sheriff later, "if the county jail was what it should be. It is terrible that the second city of the country should have a ramshackle old building such as this one in which to house such desperate men as Dear and Bopp, for these men are desperate, and some one will pay dearly before they are recaptured."

"So far as Kempter is concerned," he continued, "he simply broke the rule about guards entering cells without a companion standing ready for any trouble on the outside of the cell door. After he was once set upon, his cowardice asserted itself and he remained quiet, when it was still possible to give the alarm. He was just a weak, cowardly man, unable to cope with a situation that called for bravery."

It was remarked that when Kempter left the jail building he was shadowed by detectives from the detective bureau. It is believed that he will be taken in custody and held while the affair is under investigation.

A BIT OF HISTORY

Earl Dear, always seemingly protected by some sinister power, has boasted from the start that he would never feel a rope around his neck. His hanging, according to schedule, is long overdue. He was sentenced by Judge Kersten to hang in March. He was reprieved by Gov. Lowden just before April 19, the date set.

The reprieve was to July 12 and just before that date Gov. Lowden gave another stay—to July 19. Then the Supreme court stepped in and granted a stay of execution until such time as it could pass on the merits of the case.

It is still contemplating and Earl Dear, convicted slayer of Rudolph Wolfe, who died trying to protect his employer's automobile from thieves, shot down in his tracks, his wife widowed, and his babies orphaned, is at large. Wolfe with his dying breath accused Dear as his assailant and other eyewitnesses identified him.

When Dear shot Wolfe he was already out on bond to a total of $36,000 in several other cases. Among crimes charged against him was the robbery of the Prudential Life Insurance company offices on the west side.

Comes of Good Family.

Dear is said to be the black sheep of a socially prominent family in the east. The mysterious influence caused women of note, among them Mrs. Taylor Alderdice, wife of the vice president of the National Tube company of Pittsburgh, to come to his assistance.

His case was even taken to the White House and there President Wilson refused to interfere. A whole company of the Three Hundred and Nineteenth infantry, United States National army, on the eve of sailing for France, signed a petition to Gov. Lowden asking that clemency be given this criminal with the sinister pull.

Police who arrested Dear a few minutes after the crime said that with a smile, his familiar defiant smile, he said to them:

"I'm innocent, as usual."

Moran Most Desperate.

Moran, another of the four, is exactly the opposite of Dear, smooth, slick, educated, man of society apparently. Moran is of the underworld "roughneck" type. Gunman, handler of "soup" and nitro, cracksman, and bank robber, credited with being willing to crack a man on the head, nevertheless he has been known more or less as a pal of the other trio.

Moran is credited with having a brutish courage and with probably being the most desperate man of the four. He is held to be the author of the attempt to dynamite the wall of the jail some months ago, a scheme frustrated by a premature explosion of the stuff to be used.

Moran, according to the police, has been a member of a professional gang of thieves and safe blowers with thousands of dollars always ready for "spring money," and whenever a member of the gang has been caught, well paid lawyers have ever been on the job to try to get them out.

"Big Joe" Moran's parents live in Earlham, Ind., to which place a telegram was sent by the police last night asking them to be on the lookout for the fugitive. Telegrams were sent to Michigan City, Indianapolis, Gary, Crown Point, and other cities where Moran's relatives and "pals" live.

Moran, according to the police, comes from a highly respected family at Earlham. Previous to his arrest in Gary he had visited them.

Bopp Twice Convicted.

Lloyd Bopp was arrested on June 16, 1916, two days after the murder of Policeman Herman Mallow at Washington boulevard and Cuyler street. He was tried and promptly sentenced to death. His case, apparently with plenty of money behind him, was taken to the Supreme court.

The case was reversed on a technicality and a new trial ordered. He was quickly convicted again and once more sentenced to death. Again he appealed. His execution was set for April 12, 1918, but on April 6 Gov. Lowden reprieved him until May 17.

The Supreme court on May 13 granted a stay of execution until such time as it could pass on the merits of the case. It has never come to any decision.

McErlane Ex-Convict.

McErlane, the leader of the jail delivery, is also known as Walter Scott, according to the police, having served a term in Joliet under that name.

He was picked up by the police in Los Angeles on suspicion that he was a slacker last July 15. Because of his attempt to escape the arresting officer he brought suspicion upon himself.

Identified as Accomplice.

As a result he was quickly identified as the man wanted as an accomplice of Bopp in the killing of Patrolman Mallow. Thure Lindhe, another policeman, was wounded while attemping to arrest Bopp, McErlane, and some girls who were in a stolen automobile.

McErlane is also accused of trying to spirit away witnesses in the case who were ready to testify against Bopp. Grace Lyttle, a young girl who knew the bandits, was found by the roadside.

She claimed that she had been kidnaped and beaten and left for dead. The police accused McErlane, then not apprehended, of trying to get her out of the way.

Colored Yankees Sing Hymns While Burying Soldier Dead

BY FARMER MURPHY.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, Sept. 12.—A plain dirt road winds about the base of a low, thickly wooded hill and, passing into fields, runs along across a hollow where lie the ruins of what once was a village of stone houses. Just at the edge of the village it cuts at an acute angle another road, and in the first of the angles thus formed stands the cross of the wayside shrine. At the foot of the cross is a short, freshly dug trench whence a few weeks ago a machine gun poured out its deadly hail.

We stand there in the warm sun struck by the thought which this contrast inspires, when from the direction of the hill comes the droning sound of song.

We're climbing, climbing, climbing up
Jacob's ladder.
Every little round goes higher, higher.
Lord, I'm almos' home.

Negro Laborers at Work.

We listen to the smooth roll of melody, then walk toward it. In about a hundred yards we come to a group of twelve or fifteen Negro laborers in charge of an American sergeant. Most of them were lolling on the ground, but three, standing elbow to elbow, are swinging their picks in rhythmic unison as they sing an old camp meeting song.

We're climbing up Jacob's ladder—
Lord, I'm almos' home.

The words of the cadence of soft voices and the scene touch us to the quick.

On the nearby hill is Belleau Wood and the ruins of a village. The Negroes are digging a trench grave for the bodies of those splendid heroes who gave their lives in that desperate struggle.

Religion Makes Them Work.

"You can't get them to do a thing unless you make them believe they're doing something religious," said Sergt. George R. Murdock of Philadelphia, pointing to the Negroes, all of whom are from North or South Carolina.

"They have to be singing this song or some other, or they won't work at all. You can't get them to touch a body with their hands."

As the wave of battle sweeps on victorious the armies carry with them the plaudits and attention of the world, but behind them lie the wrecks of men. To gather up these and give them that care which at best is such trivial recompense for their sacrifice is a humble labor which attracts neither attention nor applause. But with painstaking and intelligence the grave registration service is going about its work in the rear of the army, collecting our heroes from shallow graves into which they were hurried after the battle and placing them in plots together. Bodies are examined with utmost care so that, if possible, no soldier will have to suffer the fate of an inscription, "Unknown."

Six Such Plots.

Around Belleau wood alone there are six such plots, each containing from seventy to one hundred graves. At the head of every grave is a cross on which is tacked the identification tag of the soldier lying there, as well as an oblong tinfoil plate on which is written his name and organization. Every soldier wears two tags on a string about his neck. One is cut off and put on the headboard, the other being buried with him.

When both tags are gone a search is made of papers in his clothing. Sixteen bodies which had been buried after the battle as unknown were identified by Sergt. Murdock in this way so that not a single unknown lies in the little plot.

Lieutenant to Wife.

Looking thus through the letters of a young lieutenant to learn his identity there was found a letter from his wife, whom he had married only last November. Almost all of it was taken up with talk about the expected new life which now must replace that of the father. It so happened the officer was a neighbor of Sergt. Murdock—Thomas Miles, who lived only a few blocks from him.

"Almost all the bodies carry letters from a mother or sister," said Murdock, "and almost all contain appeals for the boy to give his heart to Christ."

A Solemn Burial.

Four Negroes, each holding a corner of a blanket, came into view from the woods and take the sloping hillside with yielding knees. In the sagging blanket is an inert mass. They come slowly down to the trench and place their burden within it. The scarlet poppies in the oats stubble yield gently before the warm, soft breeze as a few shovelfuls of yellow clay are tossed in and the high hope of radiant youth is blotted out forever.

The Negro searchers slough off again toward the wood and we turn away in the direction of the crossroads shrine.

As we walk along the road set with apple trees we hear the measured thump of picks in the mellow earth and catch the fading strains:

Climbing up Jacob's ladder—higher, higher—Lord, I'm almos' home.

GEORGE MOORE NOT FREED.

A petition for a writ for the release of George Edward Moore, the "man of mystery," was dismissed by Judge Marcus Kavanagh in the Criminal court yesterday. J. B. O'Connell, attorney for Moore, told Judge Kavanagh that a warrant had been issued for the arrest of Moore since the filing of the petition for a writ of habeas corpus and that he wished to withdraw the petition.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1918.

"Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."
—Stephen Decatur.

TO GENERAL PERSHING.

Today we are celebrating something more than Gen. Pershing's birthday. We are congratulating him and, more than anything else, we are congratulating ourselves. Considering the scope of his task, the fact he has made good is something for the citizen to think about. We have grown eager to deliver the best there is in us. We have taken it for granted that if we gave what we were called upon to give, somehow, in the grace of Providence, the endless and seeming chaos of operations would adjust themselves into a symphony of coördination.

But what if some one at the head of the army were always muddling? We have seen what happened in aircraft. Was there a Pershing at the head of that burlesque? Hardly. Had there been a muddle in France we still would have the "makings" of an army, but it would not have been ready to help at the most critical moment of the war to turn defeat into victory.

We think our allies have occasion to be thankful for Gen. Pershing. When you consider how slight the opportunities of American officers have been and how gigantic the urgent task they were put to do, it seems a special favor of fortune, a most beneficent Providence, that a man should be chosen for the executive chief of our organization at the front who proved to have the very rare combination of adaptability, executive ability, and force of character essential to success.

The American people may well send grateful thanks to Gen. Pershing on the occasion of his fifty-eighth birthday, remembering his services to the republic, past and present, confident that there will be more to thank him for in the future. In spirit and effort Gen. Pershing has distinguished himself, met a great crisis nobly, and reflected credit upon his country.

The army and the nation will salute him today.

"JUST OVER AGE."

Many men are justly conscious of being only a few days or a few months or a few years over the draft limit, the margin being so slight that they may find themselves at some pains to establish themselves as "just over age." Some of them will be flattered and conceivably encouraged to fudge a little and register notwithstanding the discrepancy. Others, sticking to the text, will be put to the trouble of proving dates of birth. Our jovial scheme of national conduct has never seriously considered the necessity of vital statistics, wherefore we find ourselves nationally without any official means of identification, as the present emergency emphasizes. Absence of birth records will at least be found inconvenient.

Perhaps the registration authorities can establish some method of recording the affidavits of all male citizens and of providing them with means of identification and evidence of exemption on the score of age. An administrative order from Gen. Crowder seems hardly necessary if such provision has not already been made. "Over age" registration need not be compulsory, but merely voluntary, so that those who wish some personal protection may have it for the asking and by offering suitable proofs of age.

It is our opinion that a general and compulsory registration of all males would be vastly more comprehensive and regulatory. It would immediately classify those called for service and provide identification for those beyond the draft limit. But in the absence of such a regulation it would seem helpful to establish an unofficial registration for the convenience of those who seek it.

MR. GOMPERS IN LONDON.

Samuel Gompers' statement in London that American labor will not recede from its attitude in refusing to meet enemy representatives is wholly in accord with the excellent judgment which he and other American labor leaders have generally displayed during the course of the war. The statement is especially important in the influence it will undoubtedly have on British labor, some of whose leaders are pacifists and defeatists. The attitude of Arthur Henderson, for example, is certainly not one of robust determination to press on to victory.

A recent cable message to the American Alliance for Labor and Democracy furnishes new justification for American labor's opinion that nothing but harm could be accomplished by discussing peace terms with German Socialists at the present time. It may be recalled that the British government refused to grant passports to Mr. Henderson and his associates who wanted to go to Switzerland to confer with Peter Troelstra, the Dutch Socialist and German sympathizer. The English pacifist press, notably the Nation, made a great uproar about this refusal; the Nation even invited labor to use it as an issue with which to fight the Lloyd George ministry.

But a certain amount of sanity has been restored by the publication of an article by Troelstra in L'Humanité, in which he states, according to the message referred to above, that "the German Socialists have not altered their position on the question of Alsace-Lorraine, and that they cannot accept the view that Belgium should be compensated by Germany." Mr. Henderson now admits that he was "misled," and the episode is said to have strengthened the hands of British labor men and Socialists who opposed the Stockholm conference and similar proposals.

We can understand, however, that if Mr. Gompers, representing one of the most powerful labor organizations in the world, had insisted on the Troelstra conference, it would have been difficult for the British government, or any other government, to prevent its taking place; and there is good reason to fear, in view of Troelstra's revelations, that such a conference would be in the nature of a trap for the purpose of promoting a German peace.

American labor, not only by its work in the mines and in the factories but also by its attitude toward international questions, is one of the great factors in making ultimate victory certain. Mr. Gompers strikes a heavy blow at the Potsdam militarists by his assertion that no sacrifice is too great to bring about the destruction of imperialism and autocracy. We can think about negotiating, he reminds us, after we have won the war.

"HANDLING" OUR VICE.

Chicago's disorderly places and their relation to the public defense again awaken the concern of the federal authorities and cause us to reflect upon the strangeness of human conduct which cannot be regulated by the municipality but is immediately tractable under governmental supervision.

Secretary Daniels is reported to have directed Capt. Moffett of the Great Lakes Naval station to take measures that will insure the moral cleanliness of the sailors under his care. This in itself seems a sufficient verdict on our inability to behave. Times without number we have been reminded that these are days of national peril and stress. We have been asked to be circumspect and to give our material and moral aid to the government. And yet we persist in throwing open to young men in whose clean bodies and minds we place our common trust the dangers of metropolitan contamination.

Of course the peril is neither grave nor broadcast. The iniquities of which Secretary Daniels complains are not to be found openly pandering. In the large analysis they are only few and well guarded. But they offer a sufficient menace to the city's character to invite the public criticism of high officials.

It lies within the power of the police department to regulate places commonly known as disorderly. If certain shadowy cafés persist in selling liquor so openly that reporters for newspapers and investigators for civic leagues can find them and have no difficulty in tabulating the number of uniformed men served therein and the kinds of drinks served them, surely the police are not denied equal perspicacity.

Handling vice has always been a serious question. But it should not be serious to find public violators. It requires at least two persons to violate the law against selling liquor to men in uniform—the seller and the purchaser. A lawbreaking saloonkeeper cannot make a profit selling to one soldier or one sailor. He must sell to many. Before that time he is plainly branded as a lawbreaker. The police can take him as easily as provost guards can.

It seems unnecessary to ask military police for Chicago with a full grown police force on duty. At least it would be a frank confession that our own police are hopeless in attacking the fundamentals of police duty. Any citizen is empowered to make an arrest when he catches the criminal in the act of crime. What improvement, then, is a policeman who doesn't even exercise the privilege of a citizen?

The best answer to Secretary Daniels' suggestion to Capt. Moffett is for Acting Chief Alcock to fix the lid in place and keep it there. A military guard in Chicago would reflect little credit on his efficiency or fidelity to duty.

THE DIPLOMATS REAPPEAR.

The Austrian foreign minister, Baron Burian, has put out a statement which will set all the peace advocates at work again. Nothing could be more conciliatory in tone. There is not a phrase that rings unguardedly. It is a skillful contribution to the peace diplomacy now to be expected from the central powers.

At the same time we hear that Count Hertling is to retire as German chancellor, to be followed by the present colonial minister, Dr. Solf, who recently expressed some more or less conciliatory sentiments. It is also reported that the Centrist leader, Erzberger, and the majority Socialist, Schiedemann, may enter the ministry and that the reichstag majority is preparing a new statement of war and peace aims.

The trouble with all this is that it has happened so often before. In periods of German military ill fortune the diplomats come down to the footlights. They sing a pleasing song. But when the fortune of war turns they are all hustled without pretense into the wings and Ludendorff, or Hindenburg, or the kaiser reappears chanting the song of the sword.

This significant drama has taken place so often that only the pacifists still get the illusion intended. Nevertheless, in proportion to the gravity of the situation on the western front from the German viewpoint will be the persistence of the diplomats of the central powers to bring about negotiations. It is well for us to prepare to meet these attempts with discernment. We want peace as soon as we can have it on terms expressive of our purposes, but as the chief of these is to overthrow the menace of German imperialist militarism, we are not likely to waste time negotiating with the unconquered agents of that system.

No expressions from the German statesmen who have been playing the Potsdam game, however mollifying they may be as to tone and however glittering in generality, are likely to deceive us at this stage of our experience.

Editorial of the Day

AIRPLANES.

[From Col. Harvey's the North American Review's War Weekly.]

We can understand and appreciate the president's reluctance to interfere with the work of the secretary of war. Yet in his broad and lofty patriotism he must hold the welfare of the country, especially in the successful prosecution of the war, superior to all other considerations. He is about to ask the country to subscribe another Liberty loan of several billion dollars. The three former loans have all been oversubscribed, and we have no doubt that this fourth one will be, too. But if, when asked for their money, people inquire what has become of the nearly two-thirds of a billion which they gave to Mr. Baker for airplanes, or if they demand to know what is being done with the incompetents and profiteers who "practically wasted" that enormous sum, what answer shall be given them? It is for the president to supply the answer, which we shall be glad to repeat, and which every loyal citizen will rejoice to hear. But the answer, to be effective, must come from no less an authority than the president himself.

He has already given us some of the finest catchwords of the war—

"No peace without victory."

"The world must be made safe for democracy."

"Force, force to the utmost, force without stint or limit."

There is opportunity today, and there is most urgent necessity, for him to add some word that will reassure the American nation concerning its aviation service in the war. After nearly seventeen months of war and the appropriation of more than a billion and a half of money, this nation has a right to something more than the assurance that—

"We are APPROACHING a period when quantity production of planes SOON MAY BE HOPED FOR."

ACCIDENTS IN MUNITION WORKS.

THE British commission on the health of munition workers has recently issued a bulletin giving the results of a study of the causes of accidents. This is the twenty-first bulletin. The study covered 50,000 accidents which occurred during twenty-four and a half months.

The principal cause of accidents is inattention. The highest accident rate occurs right after a shift starts to work. If it were possible workers should not be allowed to talk, since this distracts their attention and causes them to get hurt. In some factories readers are employed to entertain workers while they work and thus to prevent accidents by keeping them from talking and keeping their minds concentrated. Other factories encourage singing with the same end in view.

There are fewer accidents on the night shifts. The reason is that the night people have their minds on the job. The number of accidents on the night shift is greatest just after the force starts to work, lessening continuously as the night goes on.

The second greatest factor in the causation of accidents was speeding up. When the force began rushing to get out a great volume of work the accident rate went up always. Fatigue was not a great factor in causing accidents.

When women worked twelve hours a day or seventy-five hours a week their accident rate was two and a half times that of the period in which they worked a ten hour day. When doing a twelve hour a day round they had nine times as many fainting spells as the men and they used smelling salts twenty-three times as often. When the day was ten hours the tendency to faint of the women was only three times as great as that of the men. In other words, women stand a ten hour day very well, but when they try twelve hours a day fatigue causes the accident rate to go up. Men can stand a twelve hour day without sending the rate up.

It was found that the use of alcoholic beverages increases the accident rate, but the working people of Great Britain are drinking so much less than they formerly did that this is not much of a factor. The consumption of alcoholic beverages is somewhere about one-fourth or one-third of what it was before the war began.

Poor illumination is an important factor in the accident rate. The factories with the poorest illumination had the highest accident rates. The eye accidents were from 7 to 37 per cent more numerous among the people on the night shifts.

Temperature and humidity were factors. The accident rate in a factory was lowest when the temperature ranged between 65 and 69. If it went over 75 the rate increased 30 per cent. The accident rate was highest during cold weather. Freezing weather increased the accident rate 2½ per cent over that when the outside temperature was 47.

The accident rate was highest on Tuesdays and Wednesdays because on those days speeding was at the maximum.

PRUNES ARE BEST.

W. W. J. writes: "Will you please tell [1] what kind of fruit will help a constipated person? I have noticed your advice to others to eat a lot of fruit and I eat fruit of some kind every day, but it doesn't seem to help. [2] Every time I eat ice cream, chicken salad, or drink sweet cream I awake the following morning with a bad breath and my tongue heavily coated. Is there anything I can take for it or should I stop eating them?"

REPLY.

1. Prunes are best; apples are about as good and so are figs and dates. Peaches, plums, grapes are excellent. All fruits, both fresh and preserved, are advised.
2. There is nothing that you can take. Change your diet. Eliminate articles which cause bad breath. Get more exercise.

CURING WORRIES.

J. T. N. writes: "I have been greatly worried for a year by the hopeless illness of my dearest friend. I have lost twenty pounds. My mind is much distressed on first awaking. I feel the need of mind control. If you will give me the names of some good books and make any suggestions that you think suitable I will be obliged."

REPLY.

"Physiology of Faith and Fear," by Sadler; "Conquest of Nerves," by Courtney. I suggest that you see some one who practices suggestive therapeutics.

THREE NEAR CHICAGO.

G. H. A. writes: "Six years ago I went to Italy, my birthplace, where I was advised to go to the sulphur springs. Now I have been told that we have cold sulphur springs in this country and I would like to know where. Can you kindly let me know of one, as near to Chicago as possible?"

REPLY.

Sulphur waters are to be found in nearly every part of the United States. Among the sulphur springs near Chicago are Mount Clemens, Mich.; St. Joseph, Mich., and French Lick, Ind.

DIFFERENCES IN WEIGHT.

C. P. J. writes: "I am a boy 16 years old, am 5 feet 11 inches tall. Some days I weigh 124 pounds and again 128. [1] What causes this? [2] How much should a healthy boy my age weigh? What can I eat to make me get a little heavier? [3] I would like to weigh about 135."

REPLY.

1. The daily amount of excretions of all sorts equals several pounds. A heavy meal weighs more than a pound. Two large glasses of water or milk will weigh a pound. The time of weighing with regard to the above factors may account for some of the difference. When there is variation in the daily weight when stripped not explained on the basis of the above the difference is due in the main to the amount of water in the tissues. The amount of water in the tissues may vary several pounds.
2. About 148 pounds.
3. Eat two bowls of milk and sugared rice a day in addition to your regular diet.

LUCKY 4 YEAR OLD.

S. E. writes: "1. Is it all right for a boy 4 years old to drink pasteurized buttermilk? 2. Root beer? 3. Eat bananas? 4. Cantaloupes? He weighs 45 pounds."

REPLY.

1 and 4. Yes.
2. Yes, in limited quantities.
3. Yes. Have him eat those that are turning from yellow to brown. Have him chew them well.

GEN. PERSHING—A BRITISH VIEW

BY OLIVER McEWAN.

If there be anywhere in America a "13" club, Gen. Pershing ought to be an honored member of it, for by his life success he has bidden defiance to the superstition that there is something evil or unlucky in the number 13. Gen. Pershing was born on the thirteenth day of September, 1860. But despite this unpromising start in life—according to the prophets of superstition—even the most sanguine hopes of his mother must have been surpassed in the success he has achieved. For he has lived to lead the greatest army that America ever sent into the field of battle; he has lived to take a foremost part in the world's greatest war, a war that will be celebrated in history not only as the greatest of all wars, but also, let us hope, as the last of all wars, a war that is to bring to this world of ours a lasting peace that will be the herald of the millennium.

Gen. Pershing is peculiarly fitted to lead America's armies against the Huns. In a way he is the best equipped general in the field, for he is the only one who has had any previous experience in fighting savages. As a lieutenant he took part in the Indian war. There he learned to outwit the cunning of the Indian; there he learned how to guard against treachery; there he learned how to keep cool and brave in the face of a foe both cruel and unscrupulous. And this experience must stand him in good stead in leading his gallant men against an enemy every whit as treacherous as the Indian, every whit as cruel and unscrupulous, savages, indeed, who have exceeded the worst that was ever charged against the red man, and without his excuse. The red man has it to his credit that he fought the invaders of his territory, whereas the Huns have fought not to protect their own territory from aggression, but to steal the land of their neighbors.

It is impossible to overestimate the value of his services to the allies, and already we know Gen. Foch has shown the greatest respect for Gen. Pershing's opinions and constantly sought his advice, and we can well believe that in the wonderful success now meeting the allied arms no small part of it is due to the advice and help of the great soldier whom all America loves. And Gen. Pershing possesses something else that endears him to the people of America—a heart to sympathize.

No one will sympathize more deeply, more sincerely, with those who lose their dear ones than Gen. Pershing, for he knows in his own experience all the sorrow that comes from hearing the wings of the Dread Messenger within the family circle. None of us can have forgotten the great tragedy of his life. Some of us no doubt have felt the heart emptiness and ache that comes with the loss of dear ones. Death, even in his kindliest garb, is terrible; but when he comes in the garb of tragedy, the heart can feel, but never tell the agony of it. Gen. Pershing in his own experience knows death in that garb. Still fresh in our memory is that awful tragedy of the Presidio, when Gen. Pershing lost by fire his wife and daughters. And so in his own stricken heart, Gen. Pershing is able to sympathize with those whose broken hearts lie buried with their dear ones in the lonely graveyards of France and Flanders.

The characteristics of Gen. Pershing, indeed, are the characteristics of a man who is universally beloved as well as universally respected. The kindliness of his nature makes him ever solicitous for the welfare and happiness of his men. Happy, indeed, is the soldier who owes obedience to Jack Pershing. Never to advance his own ambition will a man of his be sent on any forlorn mission.

While Hindenburg, Mackensen, and Ludendorff seem to delight in sending their men to certain death, Pershing will see to it that no man's life is risked in vain. For every life that is sacrificed some good will be obtained, something commensurate with the sacrifice; but no forlorn hopes, no sending of his men to certain destruction merely for his own glory or to throw dust in the eyes of those at home, as has been the constant policy of Hindenburg, Mackensen, and Ludendorff. When the boys come home there is one story they will tell of how Jack Pershing loved them and cared for them, the men who, had he asked them to do so, would have gone through hell itself.

Is it not significant that the turn in the tide "over there" dates almost from the arrival of Gen. Pershing and his gallant men on the soil of France? The brave armies of the allies and their gallant leaders were weary and worn. They had borne the heat and burden of the day; they had not been able to understand the cunning of the enemy nor his treachery. I should not be surprised to learn that the experience of Gen. Pershing, as the result of his dealings with the Indians, thrown into the scale has done as much as anything else to help bring about the present state of things in the battlefields of France and Flanders.

One of the happiest experiences of my life was when I was privileged to view the return of Lord Kitchener from South Africa after the Boer war. Never shall I forget that wonderful scene, when the people of London, with an hour's notice, turned out in their hundreds of thousands, including the king and queen and royal family, to bid welcome to the hero through whose skill the great war had been won. And now I am looking forward to another day with joyous expectation, as are the people of America, to that day that is coming fast now when Jack Pershing shall come home with his brave boys, covered with glory, bringing back with him the wondering respect and admiration and gratitude of Europe, bearing in his hand the dove of peace, the true symbol of an honorable peace, a just peace, a safe peace, a peace that will make our world for all time a decent place to live in.

A CANDID ADMISSION

[From the Philadelphia Evening Ledger.]

The FRIEND of the SOLDIER

The object of this department, to be run from time to time as required, is to help the families and relatives of men in the military and naval service.

It will answer questions about pay allotments, war risk insurance, government allowances, and disability compensation.

It will tell the facts about leases, installment, and other contracts made by soldiers and sailors.

The Friend of the Soldier will coöperate with the war risk insurance bureau of the treasury department, 1307 Stock Exchange building, Chicago, and with the committee of the Chicago Bar Association on Legal Assistance to Soldiers and Sailors, 105 West Monroe street.

Address inquiries to Friend of the Soldier, "Chicago Tribune." Answers to as many as possible will be published in this department. To insure a personal reply an addressed and stamped envelope should be inclosed.

LEASE ON FLAT.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I am about to enlist in the aviation service of the United States government and I have a lease on a flat which expires April 30, 1919. Does the fact that I am enlisting release me from that lease? J. B. W.

No. If your dependents continue to reside in the flat, however, and the rent is not over $50 per month, the landlord will not be able to evict them during the period of your military service for the nonpayment of rent, without first taking action in court. On the hearing the court may stay the proceedings for not exceeding three months or may make such other order as may be just. If the landlord once gets judgment for possession against you, he cannot afterwards hold you on the lease.

RUSSIANS.

Moline, Ill., Sept. 9.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—What is the official status quo of Russians in this country? Since the conclusion of peace with the central powers and the invasion of Russia by the allies who are now fighting the Russian government, are we Russians now classed as "allies," "neutrals," or "alien enemies"? R. S. R.

Classed as "friendly aliens."

SWIMMING REQUIREMENT.

Ottawa, Ill., Sept. 9.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Does a fellow who intends to join the navy have to know how to swim before he can join. CONSTANT READER.

The ability to swim is not required for enlistment, but it is part of the course of training of men in the navy.

LIMITED SERVICE.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I am 20 years old and except for the loss of one eye I am physically O. K. Is there a branch of service where I will be accepted? Where can I inquire about the Red Cross ambulance service? W. M.

You will doubtless be held for limited service. For the Red Cross Ambulance service inquire of the local chapter, 58 E. Washington, city.

CANNOT DISPLAY SERVICE FLAG.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I have a son in the merchant marine of the United States shipping board. Am I not entitled to display a service flag for him? G. A.

No, not unless he is in the shipping division; this division has a regulation service flag which you may display if your son is enrolled.

TRANSFER.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Last May I moved to Chicago from a nearby city. Should I ask for transfer from my original exemption board to the one in the district in which I now live? If so, how do I arrange for the transfer? R. M. M.

Yes. See your local board here and have them transfer you.

MONTHLY PAY.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 10.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Will you please tell me what salary is paid to a regimental sergeant? W. J. W.

There is no regimental sergeant. A regimental sergeant-major receives $51.00 per month.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

As but limited space can be given letters in this department, writers must confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Unless they give us their full names and addresses their letters will not be considered. No manuscript will be returned unless the writer sends postage for that purpose.

AMERICA FOR AMERICANS.

Cicero, Ill., Sept. 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Why cannot congress disfranchise all German born citizens during the period of the war, giving us complete control of all offices in our country? I would like to have THE TRIBUNE work toward this end. PAUL H. BURGLUND.

CHILLY DAYS AT LAKE BLUFF.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Why not allow the men at Great Lakes Naval station to wear their sweaters or jackets these chilly days? The officers, we are told, dictate the "uniform of the day" and the men must wear those low neck suits and cotton underwear whether they feel cold or not. The officers themselves wear different and warmer clothing and therefore may overlook the fact that most of their men have been accustomed to high collars in civil life.

In THE TRIBUNE recently there appeared a dispatch from Boston reporting 1,169 cases of grip in the naval district there, of which thirty-six developed pneumonia and twenty men died. The doctors of the city appeal to the girls to refrain from kissing their sailor friends, on the theory that the grip germs are spread in this manner. If this is not intended as a joke allow me to ask how many people in civil life can trace their "cold" or "grip" to a kiss? Would it not be well to try the experiment of giving the boys warmer clothing and letting them kiss whenever they get a chance, which is seldom enough?

While on this subject permit me to suggest that the Chicago police might use more judgment about arresting sailors and soldiers who seek a little diversion in flirtation. E. RICH.

NORTH AND SOUTH.

Janesville, Wis., Sept. 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In THE TRIBUNE of Sept. 8 I see an item headed "Casualties," and I also have noted what our "Northern Republican" has to say about the first 200 names on a certain casualty list. I did not see all the items he has reference to, therefore I cannot comprehend what he is trying to answer. From the tone of this man's letter he surely does not know that the civil war has been over for a long time and that the north and south should be no more and that this should be a plain United States, a real home for all free people. Some people haven't brains enough to let past troubles be forgotten. C. H.

PATRIOTISM AND HEROISM.

Bradford, Ill., Sept. 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Like "A Soldier's Mother," I fail to see the parallel between the workman out of special danger here at home and the soldier in the firing line in France. I grant that it is creditable and patriotic for the laborer to stick to his win the war job instead of loafing or striking for shorter hours, or higher wages, or more holidays, but, like "A Soldier's Mother," I fail to see anything heroic about it and it must require a terrible strain on the imagination to see it, especially as the laborer gets two times the soldier's pay for less than one-tenth the latter's danger and privations.

Sticking to a win the war job is patriotic, but not heroic (unless it is a job like that of our stokers down in bowels of the ships in the danger zone), but what can be said of those laborers who would go on a strike in a time like this? They are recreants and the powers that be should be autocratic enough to make them work or fight. J. F. [illegible]

COMMISSIONS FOR BALL PLAYERS.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I am curious to know what peculiar merits are possessed by ball players that entitled high salaried players to captains' commissions in the army. Inasmuch as the vast majority of our officers were either experienced technical men or else were given intensive training, it seems to me that the giving of commissions in this manner tends to cheapen a position that requires experience, ability, and considerable education.

I fail to see where successful ball players are entitled to a commission any more than good golf players, champion billiard players, or professional skaters, but why go on; what's the use? A. H. [illegible]

THE INITIAL OBLIGATION.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I agree with your editorial entitled "An Initial Obligation." Nothing does the soldier boy more good than a letter from home or from some friend, but when does he need it more than during the time he is confined to a hospital among strangers suffering from wounds and necessarily thinking of his country and the home that he left behind? Is it not a psychological blunder to deny our soldier boys in hospitals the privilege of receiving letters from home folks? E. L. [illegible]

THOMPSON MEN WIN ONLY ONE IMPORTANT JOB

Brundage Victory Made Greater by Country Town Vote.

Thompsonism in local affairs was rebuked at the Wednesday primary. In the three cornered battle, even with its [illegible] patronage and with Mayor Thompson's long campaign giving it an advantage, the city hall crowd came in a poor third.

When the unofficial count was completed yesterday, Smoke Inspector William H. Reid, nominated for the board of review, was the only Thompson man to land anywhere near the top of the ticket. The only other solace left for the Union hotel headquarters was that found in two nominations for the county board and one for the Municipal bench.

Negro Named for Judge.

Civil Service Commissioner Alex J. Johnson landed fifth and Patrick H. Moynihan, city hall candidate for president, landed eighth among the county board aspirants, and George W. Ellis, a Negro, was put in tenth place on the municipal court list. But this last place is not considered secure, as the official count frequently upsets the unofficial for these places, and the eleventh man, James F. Burns, is shown only 231 behind Ellis.

The survey after the smoke cleared showed the Brundage-Galpin regular forces in possession of more than twice the number of prizes acquired by the Thompson and the Deneen camps combined.

Summary of Victories.

A summary of their principal victories, with the pluralities of their winners, follows:

County treasurer—B. W. Snow, 8,249.

County clerk—Charles G. Blake, 1,884.

County judge—E. A. Olson, 6,710.

Probate judge—F. R. DeYoung, 18,123.

Criminal court clerk—W. R. Parker, 3,551.

County superintendent of schools—A. O. Coddington, 6,035.

Assessors—Charles Krutckoff, 17,740, and Charles Ringer, 11,238.

Board of review (vacancy)—C. V. Barrett, 32,335.

Bailiff Municipal court—W. J. Umbach, 3,785.

Blake and Parker won out through the vote in the country towns.

In addition the Brundage-Galpin camp won two of the three drainage board places and annexed eleven of the fifteen places on the county board and five of the eleven nominations for the municipal court.

They also share in the credit for the victorious renomination of Chief Justice Harry Olson over Henry T. Chace, the city hall choice, by 55,419, the biggest majority on the Republican side. They as well as Deneen indorsed him.

Deneen Forces Pleased.

The Deneen forces were pleased with winning two big patronage places—the nomination for sheriff, captured by Charles W. Peters, with a plurality of 19,661, and the presidency of the county board, which was won by Charles N. Goodnow with a margin of 8,554.

The Deneen people also were made more or less happy because John F. Devine had been named for Probate clerk by 4,516, and James A. Kearns for clerk of the Municipal court by 1,701. Harry E. Littler, one of their trio, won a place on the sanitary district ticket.

On the Democratic end there was no important upset on the earlier "dope." With some inside assistance, Michael F. Sullivan broke through the regular slate and was nominated for chief justice of the Municipal court by 7,715. The prediction that John J. Rooney would also crack the slate was fulfilled. He landed tenth among the municipal bench aspirants.

Film Burns in Theater, but Crowd Leaves Quietly

FLAG RAISING BY HOME FOLK NETS SMOKES MONEY

Here come some more smokes for the boys over there annoying the kaiser. Out in the 4200 block on West Van Buren street home folk raised a service flag with twenty-three stars in it. Mrs. K. McGurn, 4251 Van Buren stret; Miss Mary Murphy, 4244 Van Buren, and Miss Blanch Scully, 4241 Van Buren, had charge of the thing.

They decided that any money that came in should be turned into THE TRIBUNE's smokes fund. So yesterday they brought in $56.71.

Grenshaw avenue residents between Crawford and Keeler avenues, will raise service flags tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Robert M. Sweitzer and Judge James Donahoe will be the speakers. Flags will be raised for two blocks, one of them with twenty-seven stars in it, the other with twenty-nine stars.

The residents of the 1400 and 1500 blocks of North Hamlin avenue, who have sent thirty-nine men into the service, also will hold a flag raising and street dance tomorrow evening at 8 p. m. Music will be furnished by a navy band from the Municipal pier.

A military carnival and street dance will be held tomorrow night at Woodlawn and Minerva avenues and Sixty-fourth street, under the auspices of Company F of the Third infantry, reserve militia. Drills, dancing, and vaudeville will comprise the program. Soldiers and sailors will be admitted free.

Stray Bullet Fells Army Officer at Rifle Match

Camp Perry, O., Sept. 12.—Maj. Robert E. Lee of Danville, Va., here attending the National Rifle association matches, was shot and probably fatally wounded this morning by a stray bullet while standing in front of his tent. Maj. Lee was shot in the chest. Surgeons say he has a chance to live.

Republican Congressmen Name Finance Committee

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Appointment of a finance committee of the Republican congressional campaign committee was announced tonight by Representative Fess of Ohio, chairman. Gov. Miller of Delaware is its only member who is not in congress. The other members are Representatives Gould, New York, chairman; Kahn, California; Scott, Michigan; Winslow Massachusetts; McFadden, Pennsylvania, and Copley, Illinois.

Iroquois Club Will Take Active Part in Campaign

The Iroquois club, through its president, Henry H. Latham, announced yesterday that it will depart from its time honored custom and will take an active interest in the November county election. The first meeting of a series, launching the campaign, will be held at the clubrooms tomorrow noon, at which the Democratic candidates nominated on Wednesday will be introduced.

Idle Locomotive Works for Kaiser, McAdoo Says

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 12.—Appealing to a great gathering of railroad shop men here to do their utmost, Director General McAdoo declared that every idle locomotive was a Prussian soldier. "Every bad locomotive is a Prussian soldier," said he. "Every idle locomotive is working for the kaiser. Every live locomotive is an American soldier. Every moving locomotive is working for Uncle Sam. Let us get on top of the Prussian locomotives and make American soldiers out of them."

SHOES FOR FALL

—feminine Chicago, attention

THIS is a poor time to flirt with quality. The way to back up the government, and the boys "over there," is to conserve, economize. Buying and wearing quality shoes is true economy. Get all the service out of your shoes you can—make them last as long as they will.

AS most of the women of Chicago know, MILLER SHOES are made under the personal supervision of Mr. I. MILLER in his own factory in Brooklyn—the style-center of America. MILLER SHOES are made with Goodyear welt sewed soles, which prevent dampness, reinforce the arch, yet are as flexible as hand turned soles. The patterns are drafted on slender lines, giving the effect of grace and beauty so much desired by women of refinement and discrimination.

And here's another MILLER beauty.

IN appreciation of the splendid patronage accorded us during our first year in Chicago we are opening the fall season with the handsomest line of MILLER SHOES we have ever shown. Every woman who admires beautiful footwear should visit the store today or tomorrow and view the new MILLER creations.

On Account of Holiday Store Will Be Closed Monday.

Suits, Coats and Frocks for Misses

Answer the Most Exacting Demands of Youth

It certainly is youth's prerogative to seek the unusual and different in mode.

And this season, when as insistent a demand is made of quality that means service, these sections are found splendidly ready on both points.

A Suit of Silvertone to Be Had at $57.50

Is as smart and jauntily youthful in line as one could wish. It is to be had in navy blue, beaver color, wistaria and brown. Sketched at the right.

Suits of Velour de Laine with Nutria Fur Are $65

The collar and revers are entirely of muskrat in the natural color—and the revers are notched in the "old-fashioned" way. Sketched at the extreme left.

Serge Frocks for Young Women at $32.50 and $40

The serge frock at $32.50 is not sketched here. It has a delightful way of handling the panels so high in favor. At $40 is the serge frock sketched at the left center, in brown, reindeer, navy blue and black. The simple blouse has the new square-cut neckline. The skirt has the long divided tunic.

New Millinery Modes for Youth

A Group Especially Prepared at $8.75

"Turbans are smart," says fall fashion. And immediately those of our modistes whose talent lies in designing hats for the younger generations, created—

For the Older Schoolgirls—Most Charmingly Youthful Versions of the Small Hat

The four modes sketched are typically representative—one, with the front brim jauntily upturned and held in place by a huge pearl pin, is of black and beige velvet.

For the small schoolgirls are new hats to choose in many styles at $2.75 to $7.50.

Today is "Pershing Day"

Mr. John J. O'Connor, Director General U. S. Gov't War Exposition:

The army very highly appreciates the proposed celebration of Army Day, and sends greetings. Unity at home will [illegible] us on to victory. PERSHING.

You have read what our boys are doing—you will read what they are going to do. Gen. John J. Pershing is leading them and will lead them to ultimate victory. It is your duty to honor the greatest American general that ever lived. Go to the War Show today.

Let's make "Pershing Day" the banner day at the U. S. Gov't War Show

Today has been set aside as "Pershing Day" at the "War Show"—to honor the great general's birthday.

It is the patriotic duty of every patriot to do homage to the leader of our boys in France. Come to the War Show—all the patriotic demonstrations—see what our boys are doing and how they are doing it. See the real battle—at 3:30 P. M. and 9:30 P. M.

Chicago's "I Will" spirit has made another— "World's Record" Proving conclusively Chicago's whole hearted war support and interest.

EVERY ILLINOIS CONGRESSMAN IN PRIMARY VICTOR

Only Foss, Who Sought Senatorship, Is Retired.

Complete returns last night showed that every one of the twenty-seven sitting Illinois congressmen who sought renomination at Wednesday's primaries was successful in his fight.

Two members of the lower house, Congressman-at-Large Medill McCormick and George Edmund Foss of the Tenth district, were candidates for the nomination for United States senator. The result favored Mr. McCormick and retires Mr. Foss to private life for the next two years.

Hard Battles for Several.

In several instances sitting members had hard battles to make the election ballot with their names. Congressman-at-Large William E. Mason faced the stiffest fight, but the final returns give him a big margin over his nearest opponent, Henry Rathbone of Chicago. Richard Yates led the field for the second nomination for the McCormick vacancy.

In the Fifteenth district Congressman Edward J. King found a worthy opponent in former State Senator Charles F. Hurburgh, and their hard contest of four years ago was repeated. Mr. King's war record in congress was criticised by Hurburgh.

Wilson Wins Easily.

In the Third district, Congressman William W. Wilson faced a similar fight at the hands of Harry F. Atwood, but won handily. Congressman Fred A. Britten, in the Ninth district, went through a grueling contest over the "loyalty" issue, but defeated Fletcher Dobyns by a vote of nearly three to one.

Niels Juul, in the Seventh district, had two opponents for the nomination, William H. Malone of Park Ridge and former Ald. M. E. Michaelson, lieutenant of Mayor Thompson. The congressman worked hard for weeks for renomination and distanced both opponents.

WETS AND DRYS BOTH SAY THEY RULE ASSEMBLY

Result of Primaries Assures Lowden Will Keep Control.

The complexion of the Fifty-first general assembly was largely determined at Wednesday's primary battle. The number of house nominees made by each party under the minority nomination principle makes it certain that the lower body will be Republican by a good margin.

The senate, already Republican, will not be changed politically through the election of the twenty-six new members at the fall election, so that Gov. Lowden is assured of a new legislature controlled by his own party.

The total number of nominations made by the two major parties for the 153 house seats was 178. The Republicans named ninety-four legislative nominees in the fifty-one senatorial districts, and the Democrats selected only eighty-four nominees at the primary.

In five senatorial districts there were no Democratic candidates for state senator. The districts in which no one filed for the upper house were the Fifth, Thirty-fifth, Forty-first, Forty-third, and Fifty-first.

Some Surprises Recorded.

Complete returns reported during the day from the various legislative districts destroyed the hopes of the drys that the house would be overwhelmingly against the dramshop. Both the liquor interests and the anti-saloon heads insisted last night that they would elect a majority of the 153 house members. However, the issue is somewhat minimized by the coming of the wartime national dry period next summer and the prospect of a permanent dry country.

The legislative fights were featured in many districts by unexpected defeats of sitting members, the results of "come back" campaigns of old time lawmakers and the surprises in various wet and dry contests.

Representative Harry F. Hamlin of the Lake View Chicago district, an army captain on duty in France, was the only legislative candidate in the military service and was defeated for renomination as a Republican.

Ten Others Beaten.

Ten other Chicago assembly members who sought further legislative honors were beaten at the primary polls.

Representative John P. Walsh, Democrat, of the Third district is the oldest sitting member in point of service who was retired. He has been in the house for fourteen years. He was beaten by George G. Noonan.

The only sitting Chicago state senator defeated was Percival G. Baldwin, Republican, of the Englewood district. His successful opponent is Frank P. Sadler, former Municipal court judge.

For a time during the count of the vote it seemed that Senator John Broderick, for twenty years a member of the senate, was near defeat, but the final figures showed him a winner by 336 plurality.

Two Lose in Fourth.

In the Fourth district Representatives Hubert Kilens and Timothy Murphy, Democrats, were defeated by former Ald. Frank McDermott and James P. Boyle. Representative John S. Burns of the Seventeenth district is another Democrat who was beaten after serving three terms. Other Democratic members retired included James C. McGloon of the Nineteenth district, John G. Jacobson of the Twenty-fifth district, and Randall E. Marshall of the Second district.

Representatives Frank Caviesel of the Twenty-fifth district and Herman E. Schultz, Third district, were Republican house members who failed to get places on the election ballot.

Benjamin M. Mitchell of the Twenty-first district and Robert E. Wilson of the Sixth district were two of the most widely known Democrats who obtained house nominations after an enforced legislative retirement at the hands of the voters two years ago.

Some Have No Contests.

None of the house Republican leaders lost out in the primary election. Former Speaker Edward D. Shurtleff, who feared that he might lose, swamped all his opponents in the Eighth district. Speaker David E. Shanahan had no opposition for renomination in the Ninth district, and Edward J. Smejkal, head of the house appropriations committee, had similar easy sailing in the Seventeenth district.

PERSHING

BY WM. LIGHTFOOT VISSCHER.

High in command and in the nation's faith,
Stands Pershing, leader of the host
Sent by America to down the wraith
Of war and void the Hun's vain boast;
To crush autocracy beneath the heel
Of Freedom, fighting for the Right,
Till Wrong before Democracy shall kneel,
Then banished be from human sight.
Vast is the task, John Pershing, that thou hast,
But well this great republic knows,
Confirmed by warrant from thy gallant past
And all thy goodly, well dealt blows
For country and humanity's just cause,
That thou wilt nobly do thy part:
Bring ye pure peace from Hun hell-reeking jaws;
Columbia gives to thee her heart.

"Mug" Bomb Suspects at Attorney's Request

Three men held in connection with the bomb mystery in the federal building were photographed yesterday by permission of the United States officials and at the request of Attorney George F. JUDGE PAM SAYS "SOLID SIX" MAY HAVE ITS CENSUS

Judge Hugo Pam in the Superior court yesterday ruled that Mayor Thompson's "solid six" board of education may go ahead with the proposed school census for which the board has appropriated $60,000.

The judge's decision was handed down in denying a petition for a temporary injunction filed by Harry Scott, a tax payer, in which it was asked that the board be restrained from taking a 1918 school census on the ground that it was an illegal and useless expenditure of public funds."

Holds It Directory.

In his written decision, which was lengthy, Judge Pam held that the state law requiring the board to make a report to the county superintendent of schools on or before July 15, was directory and not mandatory, as argued by Assistant Corporation Counsel Chester E. Cleveland, who was lent to the board to defend the case.

"Legal Authority."

He also decided with the board that the business manager is a proper official to supervise the school enumeration and further that there is legal authority for taking such a census.

Miss Jeannette Rankin, Beaten, Runs for Senate

Helena, Mont., Sept. 12.—Miss Jeannette Rankin, defeated in the August primary for the Republican nomination by Dr. O. M. Lanstrum, will make the race for United States senator from Montana as candidate of the national party. She received 127 votes as the national party candidate at the primary, her name being written on the ballot.

66,000 WOMEN TAKE PART IN PARTY CONTESTS

Returns Show Democratic Ones Almost Solid for Regulars.

Just about 35,000 Republican women of Chicago and 31,000 Democratic women voted in the primaries Wednesday. In the country towns, including all of Evanston and Oak Park, the north shore, and all of the rest of the suburban territory in Cook county, nearly 2,500 Republican women voted and only 350 or fewer Democratic women.

This is disclosed by the unofficial returns on the offices for which women are permitted to vote.

Vote for Only Few.

The women couldn't vote for United States senator, nor for congressmen, nor for state officers, nor for the bulk of the county offices. They could vote for members of the board of review, of the board of assessors, and for president and members of the sanitary district board. However, they went through the rain, in remarkable numbers, to exercise the limited right of suffrage permitted.

The Republican women divided their votes between the different slates. They gave a 4,000 plurality of their vote for the full term on the board of review to Smoke Inspector Reid, the sole Thompson slate entry to get through, and then they delivered a 6,000 plurality to Charles V. Barrett, who was on the Brundage slate for the board of review vacancy. For members of the board of assessors the women were for Charley Krutckoff on the Brundage slate, as first preference, and for Charles Ringer, also a Brundage candidate, second. Bert Evans on the Thompson slate was a close third with the women and Paul H. Wiedel was fourth.

Aid Democratic Regulars.

The Democratic women were nearly a solid phalanx with the regular Sullivan organization. Of the 30,000 Democratic women's votes, 25,000 of them went to Patrick A. Nash for the board of review, with 3,300 turned in for William F. Grower, the Allied Democracy candidate. "Bill" Feeney got 23,000 women's votes against 6,575 for John J. Phelan for the board of review vacancy. Assessor Michael K. Sheridan and John A. Cervenka ran neck and neck for 25,000 votes each from the Democratic women as the regular slate candidates for the board of assessors, with 4,000 each cast for Cohen and Pionke on the anti-organization ticket.

FINAL RESULTS OF G. O. P. VOTE ON TREASURER

Political Truce for Loan Drive to Be Made Today

Representatives of the Republican and Democratic parties will make their arrangements for the political truce which is to be maintained during the three weeks of the Liberty loan drive at a conference to be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the office of Roger C. Sullivan. The conferees will be Edward J. Brundage, Roy O. West, and Christopher Mamer, representing the Republicans, and Mr. Sullivan, Mrs. De Witt J. Garrison, and Frank H. McCulloch, representing the Democrats. Alvin F. Kramer will represent the Liberty loan committee.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 12.—Gov. E. L. Philipp has won the Wisconsin Republican gubernatorial race over Senator Roy P. Wilcox by a plurality of 652, official returns from every precinct in the state, announced today, show. The final vote is: Philipp, 71,505; Wilcox, 70,943; Tittemore, 45,468.

MAYORALTY TALK STARTS IN WAKE OF PRIMARIES

"Will Thompson Run Again?" Main Question Discussed.

Politicians ran an eye over the political bill of fare yesterday and loudly inquired whether any mayoralty stuff was "on the fire." First and foremost in all camps was the question, "Will Mayor Thompson run?" From Union hotel headquarters came no official word, not even a psychic vibration from Fred Lundin, but on the outside the city hall cowpunchers made confident prophecy, "Sure, Bill will run."

For two weeks and more, the Thompson forces, after seeing the mayor's candidacy collapse downstate, have been working on the theory that a plurality in Chicago "to vindicate" the anti-war record of the city administration, would put things in shape for the mayoralty primaries next February. They looked for a 50,000 margin in Chicago, with an idea in mind that Foss might cut into McCormick to such a degree downstate that a 50,000 lead in the city might turn the trick for the mayor.

Eyes on Mayoralty.

But back of all this was the thought that if Thompson lost, but managed to carry the city, the hall might keep its organization together and keep the city hall corralled next year.

The talk months ago was that the hall might run Nelson N. Lampert, the banker, or Michael J. Faherty as its mayoralty candidate, but yesterday the talk was that the hall forces would bring out the mayor himself as a candidate—otherwise the organization would fly to pieces in view of the defeat of the county slate.

In the anti-Thompson Republican camp everybody soft pedaled on mayoralty talk. The view was expressed that if Thompson became a candidate it might be dangerous if the rival factions put up rival candidates to split the mayor's opposition. Neither the regulars nor the Deneen people have got to the point yet of serious discussion of mayoralty timber, and before the November election is over efforts will be made to unite instead of splitting.

Among the Deneen men mention has been made of Isaac N. Powell, Joseph F. Haas, Ald. Henry D. Capitain, and even Mr. Deneen himself as possibilities, but only as part of the ordinary gossip.

Among the Brundage-Galpin regulars a word has been dropped now and then for George T. Buckingham, B. W. Snow, Ald. Willis O. Nance, Fred W. Upham, Charles McCulloch, and even Attorney General Brundage himself. This, also, so far, is nothing more than conversation. Both camps appear to take the ground that if either trotted out a man before harmony negotiations are opened the dove of peace would never get out of the incubator.

Sullivan May Run.

On the Democratic side Wednesday's vote simplified matters, according to the general estimate of the politicians. The four to one victory of the regulars over the "allies" is construed as sticking up the sign "This Way Out" for mayoralty possibilities who launched the "allied" movement. Among them were Edward F. Dunne, John Traeger, State's Attorney Hoyne, and John E. Owens. As to Carter H. Harrison, he expects to sail for France Oct. 2. Among the regulars the talk for some months has been that Roger C. Sullivan himself might be brought out. The Harrison men say that if the former mayor should decide to run it would not be in the primaries, but as an independent candidate.

RICH GARY MAN JAILED ON LAND FRAUD CHARGE

Louis A. Bryan, 64 years old, known as Gary's "original millionaire," was arrested yesterday on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. Paul Kroth of 1520 Michigan avenue made complaint. Kroth avers Bryan sold him a lot in Gary for $86.68 and then refused to give him a deed. Bryan says he gave Kroth a deed to the land.

Bryan achieved publicity in August of 1911 through divorce action started by him on the ground that his wife, who was 27 years old, did not appreciate the money he had spent upon her. Among other comforts, he kept sixteen automobiles, all being at her service, he said. His wedding present was $10,000 worth of diamonds.

Mrs. Bryan, formerly Miss Ethel Thayer, stated that she was tired of being "an old man's baby doll" and warned girls not to marry for money. She said he was stingy, too. A divorce was granted in April, 1912, after a settlement was made outside of court by which Mrs. Bryan was reported to have received $16,000 cash and $10,000 in diamonds.

Nine Now—More to Come

MacLean-Made Purity

OUR customers know—and all others should—that PURITY is one of our five star service points.

And our five star service points—Service, Responsibility, Right Prices, Cleanliness and Purity—are not just claims—they're facts.

We know, because we have done everything to make them so. Our large volume of business makes it possible for us to do many things in the way of controlling the quality of the goods we sell which the average drug store cannot do, owing to limited volume.

Take, for example, the goods we manufacture in our Chicago laboratories:

Ice Cream —made from sweet, fresh cream, received daily from Hamilton, Illinois, and handled in a strictly sanitary way from cow to customer—contains 22% of butter fats—the ordinary cream used containing only about 12%. Nothing but the purest flavoring is used—our vanilla cream being a delectable example.

All cans and containers thoroly steam sterilized per operation.

Then, too—only the choicest of fruits are used in making cream today, which is sold to you tomorrow. The taste tells our creams from those marketed a week or more after being made.

So by freshly serving a PURITY product we sell ice cream satisfaction that is indeed rare.

Candies —classified as chocolates—bon bons—hand goods—specials—sold over our counters are practically all MacLean made. The finest hand selected nuts—especially selected fresh fruits—natural fruits for flavoring and "fillers"—chocolates, hand dipped in the richest coating—are factors which explain why those who once try MacLean Candies are seldom satisfied with any other.

Our distinctive MacLean Candy quality is the result of careful supervision from start to finish—and for this palate-tickling taste, all satisfying to the most discriminating, our prices are much below the average.

Now let's take some of the "every-day" items sold in drug stores. In our Citrate of Magnesia we use distilled water, not lake water. And we protect this quality by using a bottle with a patent stopper top which cannot be used the second time—not a rubber washer which can be used many times.

This same "plus" purity standard is maintained in all other items.

Drugs —We recognize in the compounding of prescriptions—a co-operative responsibility with physicians—which is distinctively a MacLean institutional condition.

Such reliable houses as John Wyeth, Squibb & Sons, Parke-Davis—concerns standing highest in America for the purity and dependability of products—largely form our primary sources of supply.

A graduate chemist supervises the repacking of such drug products—boxed in wax-lined containers—wrapped in waxed paper—at no time exposed to dust, light or moisture, and always correct weight—properly labeled.

Compare this with the ordinary paper bag, any-old-kind-of-a-package—which leaks, is not dust-proof—never convenient—and you'll at once see the significance of the MacLean way for you.

We never buy drugs which do not meet the U. S. P. requirements, which assures highest standard.

Now just one more item—Syrup of Wild Cherry. By many short cut methods so commonly and conveniently used in the manufacture of this product, you get wild cherry in name only and not the effect as desired by the prescribing physician. With us one chemist supervises production for all the stores, with the result that it is the same all the time and up to U. S. P. requirements.

This medicinal requirement is religiously observed in all preparations we manufacture.

The MacLean policy for giving the public the very finest obtainable will always meet the severest test. This is a platform which costs us extra money to maintain, as quality manipulations are quite possible—thus yielding extra profits—in a store where a similar standard is not followed.

But our volume of business makes it possible to undersell and at the same time deliver, practically without exception, quality very much above the average—in other words—the highest possible.

So our nine stores, we believe, present every legitimate claim for the fullest patronage and recommendation of you and your friends.

A. MacLean

This Special Offering of

Men's Fine Suits

Including Fall and Year Around Weights

$28, $34, $39 and $43

We bring to your attention these four assortments of men's suits, convinced that they offer an opportunity which will not occur again while war conditions prevail.

The fine assortments of fabrics and patterns, the variety of styles for men, young men and youths, and the facts that all sizes are included in each group will make selection doubly satisfactory. There is also a splendid variety of fabric-patterns in long trousers suits for youths at the lower-price ranges.

These suits were produced on former cost basis by manufacturers among the most prominent in this country. Too much cannot be said regarding the quality of fabrics and the fine service these suits will give, for the tailoring and every detail of workmanship, as well as the fabrics, prove them suits no man can afford to miss at such pricing.

We urge you immediately to take advantage of this offering for these assortments will not remain long on sale at these prices.

Germans and English at Close Grips with Bayonets and Bombs.

BY PHILIP GIBBS.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable. [Copyright: 1918.]

CORRESPONDENTS' HEADQUARTERS, France, Sept. 12.—After last night's action we established outposts across Bethune road to a place called Canteleaux. We are one step closer to the fortress position of La Bassee and the garrison there will have to draw in its horns a little.

It was not an attack in any set piece style. There was no preliminary bombardment, but only the heavy gunning of German battery positions and other points to keep them quiet with German heads below ground while some of our troops pushed out suddenly surrounding enemy outposts and machine guns. There was some savage fighting in the triangle, with here and there German and English soldiers at close grips with bayonets or bombs. But for the most part the Germans were trapped quickly in their holes below the embankment and told to get out or be killed. Forty-one of them got out and went meekly away with our escort and are now in camp behind our lines eating English rations and glad of them.

An Isolated Episode.

That small action has nothing to do with the recent fighting and its aftermath, but it is an isolated episode unrelated to German retreat. Along the line of that retreat in the old Cambrai salient and east of Peronne there has been sharp fighting of outpost kind, though serious in its way, especially near Epehy, by the canal at Moeuvres, and in Havrincourt wood. On the Australian front southwards there was strong German resistance by machine guns and rifle fire along Canal de la Sensee by Moeuvres. But in spite of this our outposts succeeded in crossing the canal and established posts on the other side.

During the night and morning German artillery was fiercely active and fired a large number of gas shells into Boursies and other places along our line. There was also some heavy shelling on the Australian front and the enemy made a determined counter attack near Hesbecourt and forced in some of our advanced posts.

Huns Cling to Epehy.

To the north of that the Germans are holding on to Epehy with renewed strength and with the obvious determination to hold us back as long as possible in order to gain time for the further strengthening and defense of their Hindenburg line beyond. Meanwhile by local attack this morning we captured the village of Mescault and Havrincourt wood with over 400 prisoners, so that in this part of the line we are almost back again to positions we held before adventures in Cambrai salient last year.

Stranger beasts than wild boar were in Havrincourt wood the day I walked through it first, for our tanks had made a lair there and at night when I came back the light of shellfire flashing round the bare trees with their tangled branches gleamed upon the steel flanks of those monsters, as I described at the time, and gave them an uncanny look.

Chateau in Ruins.

Amidst the undergrowth the chateau was a fine old place of brick darkened by many hard winters. It was already in ruins, although some of its walls were standing and a part even of its gables and turrets. Below one wall lay a row of German dead, for the Highlanders had hard fighting there on the way up the slope, and other dead lay below in the bushes in the garden everywhere.

There was the litter of human conflict, but our machine gunners were fixing up good fields of fire for the defense on the reverse side of the chateau grounds, and the English soldiers with their steel hats aslant, were collecting souvenirs and watching the progress of the battle farther on by Cantaining and Moeuvres and Fontaine Notre Dame, to which our tanks went cruising like a battle fleet.

Socialists Warn Hertling of Popular Discontent

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 12.—Socialist Reichstag Deputies Ebert and Legien have addressed the following memorandum to Chancellor Hertling:

"The government should not be indifferent to the increasing discontent of the population over food. There is no doubt that we are drifting toward a fatal situation unless the government takes the needs of the people into account."

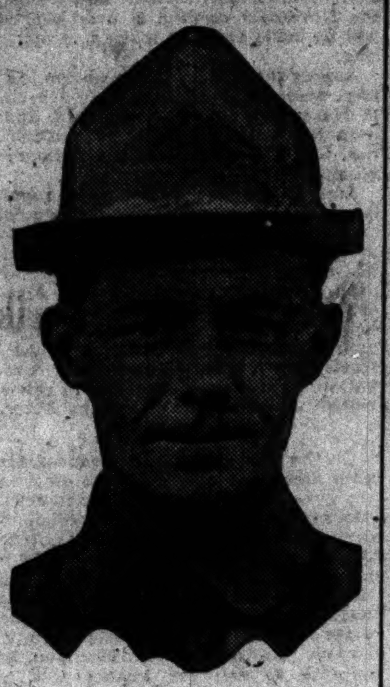
MISSING

Chicago Soldier Who Is Unaccounted For After Trip Over the Top.



SERGT. MAJ. F. W. RAYMOND.

Only one Chicagoan was named in the official casualty list issued last night—Corporal John E. Lynch of 1335 North Dearborn street, died of wounds. He was a member of Company K, One Hundred and Thirty-second infantry, and a picture and biography were published in THE TRIBUNE of Tuesday, Sept. 3, when he was listed officially as wounded severely.

In the early list nine Chicagoans were named, bringing the total for the day up to ten. Of the nine, one was killed in action, six were wounded severely, and two missing in action.

Relatives reported Battalion Sergt. Maj. Frank W. Raymond as missing in action since July 15. His home is at 3340 North Springfield avenue. He served through the Spanish-American war and was among the first American troopers to reach France. His command is the Twenty-sixth United States infantry.

NEW SLACKER ATTACK OPENED ON CAMP GRANT

Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—James H. Vaughn, the first Irish conscientious objector on casual records, led an unexpected slacker attack on Camp Grant today after long suffering officers and enlisted experts had succeeded in practically eliminating the "leper colony," which at one time boasted more than 200 members.

Vaughn headed a contingent of nine draft evaders sent in from Fort Snelling, Minn.

Authorities intend to deal speedily with the new contingent. Only prisoners of sincere religious convictions will be given opportunity to accept farm furloughs. Others will be offered the alternative of putting on uniforms or facing court martial.

Liberty Bond Tax Bill Reported by House Body

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—The administration measure designed to stabilize the Liberty bond market by making larger amounts held by individuals and corporations exempt from income surtaxes was ordered reported favorably today by the house ways and means committee.

Chairman Kitchin said he would call the measure up tomorrow for consideration and immediate passage. It was expected the senate would act without delay so that the bill would be effective before the opening of the fourth Liberty loan campaign Sept. 28.

German People Wake Up to a "Spiritual Crisis"

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 12.—A high German personage, interviewed by the newspaper Politiken, was quoted today as saying:

"The German people are waking up to an expected spiritual crisis. The people no longer believe when Hindenburg and Ludendorff cry victory. German soldiers are simply tired and want to go home."

How Is Your "Culebra Cut"?

The Panama Canal is a clear passageway as far as the Culebra Cut. But Gold Hill has a way of slipping into the cut. And until dredges can clear the channel, the industrial schedule of the world is out of gear

How about your own canal? The intestinal canal is a clear passageway as far as the large intestine. There, if you become constipated, waste matter is allowed to stagnate. It becomes unnaturally dry and undergoes abnormal fermentation and putrefaction. Germ activity is increased. Your whole system is out of gear. Result, the production of irritating and poisonous substances, which are absorbed into your blood and carried all over your body, liable to produce disease anywhere The longer such stagnation is allowed to exist, the harder it is to clean out the canal 90% of human disease originates in the "Culebra Cut."

If engineers tried to blast out the slide from Culebra Cut they would have more slides to cope with. If you try to blast out accumulated waste from your Culebra Cut with pills, salts or purges, you will increase your constipation—and next time you will have to take stronger medicine in a larger dose.

You can't dredge your canal.
You can clean it out with Nujol.

Nujol softens the mass, and supplies the intestinal canal with sufficient moisture to replace deficient mucus. It causes the obstructive waste matter to pass gently out of your system at a regular hour, absorbing and removing the poisons as it goes. Nujol regularity keeps the traffic of your mind and body operating on schedule.

You admire the Panama Canal system. Why not safeguard your own? Your druggist has Nujol

Warning:

NUJOL is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Insist on Nujol You may suffer from substitutes

ALLIES RESTORE OUSTED RULERS IN NORTH RUSSIA

Allied Citizens in Prison at Petrograd as Peasants Invade City.

ARCHANGEL, Northern European Russia, Sept. 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—After conferences with the entente allied diplomatic and military chiefs, the Tschaikovsky provisional government, which recently was overthrown, was reseated today and will continue to direct the affairs in the region of the north, with the advice of the allies.

22 FRENCH, ENGLISH HELD.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 12.—Eleven Englishmen and eleven French citizens have been arrested and imprisoned in the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, in Petrograd, according to apparently reliable information received here today from the Russian city. The Englishmen incarcerated include R. H. B. Lockhart, the British consul general at Moscow, who was condemned to death by the Bolshevik government, but who escaped execution as the result of the intervention of all the neutral diplomatic representatives.

CROSSES RUSSIA IN TRAIN.

VLADIVOSTOK, Monday, Sept. 2.—Col. George H. Emerson of St. Paul, Minn., who last April was sent to Vologda, Russia, by Secretary of State Lansing, and since that time has been marooned, has passed through Kiakhta on a special train and is due to arrive at Harbin tonight. This means that the Trans-Siberian railroad is in friendly hands from Vladivostok to Vologda, beyond which town the Czecho-Slovaks have established a new front and are pressing toward Perm.

In the Amur river region the entente allied forces are slowly making progress, their scouts finding no evidence of serious efforts being made by the Bolsheviki to oppose them.

Gen. Horvath, who recently formed a provisional Siberian cabinet, departed mysteriously from Vladivostok early this morning for Harbin. He was accompanied by two members of his cabinet.

The Japanese government is reported to have advanced 1,000,000 yen to the Chinese Eastern Railroad company.

EATH TAKES LLOYD JONES, NOTED PASTOR

eteran of the Civil War an Ardent Exponent of Peace.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.] Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Chicago died today at Tower Hill, Spring Green. He was operated on last Friday, but did not rally. The patient's son, Richard Lloyd Jones, editor of the Madison State Journal, and Mrs. Richard Lloyd Jones have been at the bedside since Sunday. Death was due to shock following an operation for strangulated hernia.

HIS CAREER.

Jenkin Lloyd Jones was born in South Wales in 1844. While he was still a baby his parents emigrated to America and settled in Wisconsin.

He served three years in the civil war as a member of the Sixth Wisconsin battery. In 1870 he was graduated from the Meadville Theological seminary at Meadville, Pa., and entered the ministry in the Unitarian church.

His church work in Chicago began on Nov. 4, 1882, when he held his first service in Vincennes hall, in Vincennes avenue, near Thirty-fifth street. Four years later he established his own church home, the All Souls' church, at Oakwood boulevard and Langley avenue.

Ambition Realized.

His ambition to found a great social center was realized on April 23, 1905, when dedicatory services were held in the auditorium of the seven story building known as the Abraham Lincoln Social center.

The land and building represent an investment of $200,000 and contain a gymnasium, manual training and domestic science equipment, reading rooms, libraries and lecture and class rooms, in which are conducted classes in religion, literature, and citizenship.

Mr. Jones' first wife, a former president of the Chicago Woman's club, died Oct. 26, 1911. On June 23, 1915, he was married to Mrs. Edith Lackersteen, superintendent of the Abraham Lincoln center. The ceremony was performed by Mrs. Celia Parker Woolley, a mutual friend of long standing. Mr. Jones at the time was 71 years old, Mrs. Lackersteen was 59.

Mr. Jones attracted nation-wide attention because of his views concerning the war, and his acts and utterances pertaining therto. He began advocating peace as early as 1915. He was among the members of Henry Ford's peace delegation to Europe which sailed from New York in December, 1915, aboard the Oscar II.

Views Told in Letter.

His views were set forth at length in a letter written Oct. 28, 1916, to Gifford Pinchot, in response to a request by Mr. Pinchot for a statement as to his attitude toward the candidacies of Roosevelt and Wilson. He was for Mr. Wilson, he said, because:

"He has stood unequivocally and effectively against war and its atrocities, and we have been kept out of the terrible imbroglio in spite of the constant clamor of influential papers and politicians. For this, I believe, history will give him large praise.

"The hundred or more lives lost by the sinking of the Lusitania could not have been called back by sacrificing thousands of other innocent lives and the wasting of millions of property. . . . Because I think there is always an honorable way out of war, which is always dishonorable, . . . I am going to vote for the scholar, the thinker, the cosmopolite in the White House."

Opposed Military in School.

Mr. Jones opposed military training in the schools of Chicago and criticized the board of education when it voted for it in January of 1917. On Feb. 3, 1917, he telegraphed President Wilson urging him to "keep us out of war." He was a member of the Chicago Peace society, but resigned a few weeks before the United States entered the war, because of "the present policy of inactivity of the society."

ITALY CONFIDENT, DECLARES COUNT AT WAR SHOW

Visiting Minister Cheers Great Throng Which Honors Country.

The spirit of our Italian allies, the spirit that drove the Austrians back at the Piave, pervaded the war exposition grounds yesterday. Count Macchi di Cellere, Italian ambassador, Hon. Giuseppe Bevione, chief of the Italian bureau of public information, and head of the bureau of aeronautics, and Gen. Emilio Guglielmotti, military attache of the Italian embassy, were the guests of honor and the speakers of the day.

The ambassador's party made an informal visit to the exposition grounds in the morning, where they displayed great interest in the war exhibits. After lunch the official visit was made. A jackie band welcomed the visitors to Liberty forum. The address of welcome was delivered by Horace Oakley. The ambassador, Sig. Bevione, and Gen. Guglielmotti responded in English.

Italy Still Smiles.

The keynote of the day was struck by Ambassador de Cellere when he said: "Back of the lines the whole of Italy stands, severely rationed, but smiling; severely tried, but full of confidence, determined to win. The Stars and Stripes are over there with our own colors. Every American victory on the western front sends a thrill of joy through Italy, as well as through the Italian homes in this country, which have given so many boys to your regiments and expect to give more.

"This fraternity in danger and death and in the ultimate glory to result for our two countries is one of the noblest things forthcoming from the toil and sorrow incident to the war. May it flourish and endure and form the basis of better understanding and of lasting friendship and alliance between Italy and the United States."

Attendance Is Large.

The sham battle in the afternoon drew the usual large crowd. In spite of the threatening weather, the attendance yesterday was very large. According to the management, 171,651 persons had passed through the gates up to 5 o'clock.

A number of Masonic and other fraternal organizations attended in a body last night. Early in the evening there was a band concert and a drill by Medinah's Arab patrol.

One of the unprogrammed "features" of the day was the large number of children "lost and found." Headquarters eventually became so crowded with these youngsters that overflow quarters were sought in the Red Cross rooms next door.

Chief Alcock's Child Lost.

More than 100 kiddies were in custody at one time, and it became necessary to impress several jackies into service men as temporary nursemaids. Many of the children who had been lost in the crowd were too young to give their names. Little difficulty was found in restoring them, as parents knew they would find the lost ones at police headquarters.

Among the children separated from their parents was little Miss Alcock, 11 year old daughter of Chicago's acting chief of police. Police Sergeant Dan O'Hara was in charge of the lost and found children department yesterday.

"BLACK JACK"

Chicago Will Turn Out Today to Honor Pershing's Fifty-eighth Birthday.

TODAY is Pershing day at the war exposition. The observance is in honor of the general's fifty-eighth birthday. That the commander in chief of the American forces in France appreciates the tribute is indicated by the following cablegram, received last night:

> The army very highly appreciates the proposed celebration of Army day and sends greetings. Unity at home will cheer us on to victory. PERSHING.

In his cablegram the general modestly yields the compliment of today's celebration to the army.

The day will open with a parade of service flag children at 2 o'clock. Addresses will be delivered by James F. Pershing, a brother, and Lieut. Marcel Levie. There will also be a "roll call of nations" at the foreign language division of the Liberty loan committee. In the evening there will be addresses by former Gov. Joseph W. Folk of Missouri and Lieut. D. A. Caslantine.

In the evening there will be a "living picture" entitled "The Nations of the Earth Paying Homage to Liberty," a spectacle conceived by Dr. Stefan Hryniewiecka and executed by the foreign language division.

In honor of Gen. Pershing's son, Warren, aged 9, there will be a division of 9 year olds in the children's service star parade. In the parade there will be five other groups: Those with fathers in service, those with other relatives serving, those with silver stars, those with gold stars, and babies born since their fathers left for France.

CREEL TO SPEAK HERE TOMORROW

George Creel, chairman of the committee on public information, will come to Chicago tomorrow as the guest of the Chicago Association of Commerce at two important meetings.

The first will be a luncheon at the roof garden of the Hotel La Salle at 12:15, given by the association in cooperation with the State Council of Defense, the Selective Service association, and the Advertising association of Chicago.

At 7:30 p. m. Mr. Creel will again be the guest of the Association of Commerce at a dinner and conference with leading Chicago business men at the Chicago club. It is hinted that he has an important message to deliver.

The Branch House Man

This is one of the Swift & Company Branch House Men.

They are all pretty much alike in the way they feel toward their work—and that is what this ad is about.

They know that most people couldn't get such good meat promptly and in good condition if it weren't for the branch houses of which they are in charge.

They know that the branch house is one of the most important links in the chain of preparing and distributing meat for a nation.

They know that Swift & Company must have its branch houses run at the highest notch of usefulness; that even a Swift & Company branch house won't run itself, and that it is up to the branch house man to run it properly.

Any branch house man who doesn't see his work in this light is transferred to some other place with Swift & Company to which he is better adapted.

They are picked men, these branch house men. Every time you sit down to a steak or chop, or cut of roast, you can give a grateful thought to the whole crew of them.

And remember, in a general way, that everything that makes life smoother and more convenient for you is the result of the thoughtfulness and effort of a lot of people of whom you have never heard.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

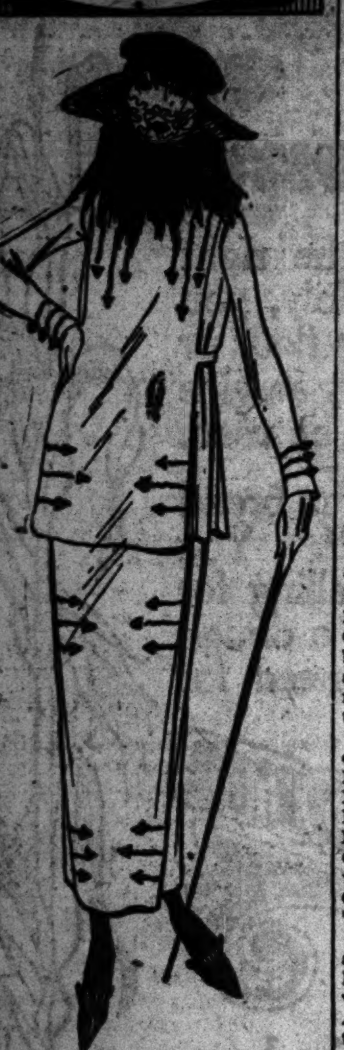
FASHION'S BLUE BOOK



BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special correspondence.]—"Well," remarked a friend of ours the other day as she was reviewing the new suits, "we are certainly getting the paper doll silhouette." Do you understand what she meant? If you do not, observe this new suit with the front panel of the skirt repeated by the panel of the coat. It shows how hard we are trying to look perfectly flat.

This suit is taupe bolivia cloth embroidered in crows' feet of black satin and finished by one of the new high collars—this of the fashionable monkey fur. The narrow belt ties in the back.

Although some of the suits in late collections show jackets only wrist length or even hip length, the tendency is towards the longer coat. This has been sponsored by many of the leading French dressmakers and with it goes a straight narrow skirt generally ten inches above the ground. High funnel shaped collars of fur finish many of these new suits.

Buttons are used lavishly on both skirts and jackets. And a feature introduced by Bulloz is the jacket front diagonally buttoned.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

"The Common Table."

If one looks into the newest literature of the food administration and other federal agencies, one must see that there is a newly urgent note on saving food. "Save food; 120,000,000 allies must eat," is quoted in one of the latest bulletins put out by the Illinois food administration, with the title "The Common Table."

"Keep posted" is one of the insistent notes in this little sheet. "Bear in mind that all food regulations are subject to change, and it is your duty to keep posted," it says. "Military urgency gives force to every food regulation."

Here is what it says about wheat:

"Wheat is more than a food; it is a symbol. It bears the same relation to food that gold does to the world's currency. It must be constantly conserved until the war ends. Even though the 1918 harvest is a large one, we cannot use all that supply at once. Some must be stored. With an abundance of foodstuffs in sight the natural tendency will be to revert to old habits of eating. This must not be allowed. Grocers are required by the food administration to sell at the same time with every four parts of standard wheat flour, one part of standard corn flour, corn meal, or barley flour. Victory mixed flour may be sold without additional substitutes, as it is wheat flour which has mixed with it the required amount of barley, corn, or rye substitute."

The South Dakota food administration, in trying to put the sugar saving idea in a little different way from others, says:

"Why are the people of the United States asked to limit themselves to two pounds of sugar per person per month for household use? In order that the people of England may have two pounds per person per month, the people of France one and a half pounds per person per month, the people of Italy one pound per person per month. Those amounts are not guaranteed by the allied governments, but are the maximum amounts that will be furnished if supplies can be obtained. The British are not complaining. The French are not grumbling. The Italians grin and go without."

Mr. Hoover is relying on "food education" for all the people. He says so in the preface to the little book, "Food Guide for War Service at Home." This is published by Charles Scribner's Sons and is now on sale at book stores. It costs 25 cents.

My "Come Again" Sunday Supper

In the old days I would have called it meat loaf. You know—a couple of pounds of finely chopped lean beef and one of chopped pork—seasoned and baked in a buttered bread pan, moulded around three or four hard boiled eggs, laid end to end. But we don't call it meat loaf any more. You see, we add to the seasoning a good two tablespoonfuls of A1 sauce—and that makes all the difference in the world, turning "meat loaf" into what we call our "come again" Sunday supper.

It's delicious hot—and even better cold. Jim doesn't know it, of course, but most of my reputation as a cook comes out of my bottle of A1 Sauce. I call it my miracle worker!—Adv.

Women in Wartime

BY LUCY CALHOUN.

The graduation day ceremonies at the Libertyville training farm of the Woman's Land Army next Tuesday promise to be the most interesting ever held in Lake county. Many Chicagoans are planning to attend and see for themselves what these earnest young women have learned of farm and dairy science and how they are now able to impart it to other girls, so that they may be able to take the places of men called from the fields.

Twenty-five girl farmers who have finished the first term of training are to receive their insignia from the hands of Gov. Lowden, who, with Mrs. Lowden, will be entertained at a luncheon prepared and served by the girls themselves, just to show that they can cook as well as they can plow. Farmers and cattle breeders of the county, who have at last been convinced of the practical value of the girls as farm help, have accepted invitations, and the heads of all the departments of the woman's committee, Council of National Defense, also will be present. The guests will be met at the train by members of the Illinois motor corps, who will drive them to the farm.

Among the Chicagoans who have received special invitations are Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, Prof. George L. McKay, head of the Association of Butter Manufacturers; Dean James Howland Angell of the University of Chicago, Thomas S. Holgate of Northwestern university, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis T. Swift.

Luncheon will be served at 1 p. m., after which the governor will make his presentation speech. The guests will then scatter to inspect the farm. A band of bluejackets will furnish the music.

Khaki and Blue Dance.

Gen. Pershing's birth anniversary will be celebrated tonight at a military dance to be given at the Kkahi and Blue club. There will be special music and a picture of the general, loaned to the club, will be unveiled. Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, who is to decorate the interior of the new club, has decided upon the color scheme of the clubrooms, which are to be very gay. Her plans are to be carried out by Miss Katherine Dudley, who will assist Howard Van Doren Shaw, the architect, till Mrs. Carpenter's return for the winter.

New Mothers' Organization.

Another organization has been formed by mothers of sons in the service—the particular service being that connected with hospital unit No. 12 of Northwestern university. Mrs. Jennie W. Young of Oak Park is president and Mrs. Clara G. Tallman of River Forest is secretary and treasurer.

A conference on women in industry will be held today and tomorrow at Bowen hall, Hull House. Miss Agnes Nestor will preside and there will be speakers from Washington. Illinois women are invited to the meetings.

Marine Corps League to Elect.

The United States Marine Corps league will hold a special meeting at the Hotel La Salle Tuesday at 2 p. m. for the purpose of electing officers. All women near relatives of United States marines are invited to be present.

The woman's committee of the National Council of Defense, Third ward unit, is sending out several thousand invitations to the formal opening of their headquarters, 4254 Drexel boulevard, Saturday, Sept. 21, from 2 to 10:30 p. m.

Catholics Lay Plans for Loan Organization

The task of organizing the representative Catholics of Chicago in preparation for the fourth Liberty loan drive, which will begin on Sept. 28, was started yesterday when plans were discussed for selling Liberty bonds to the 1,400,000 Catholics in Chicago, and a series of large meetings in Catholic churches was arranged.

The first big meeting will be held at 8 p. m. on Monday in Our Lady of Sorrows' church, Albany avenue near Van Buren street, when Lieut. George Sauvage, who is known as the "fighting priest," will speak. Lieut. Sauvage, who is newly come from the firing line in France, is attached to the French high commission in Washington, and is one of the many Catholic priests who have taken up arms against the Germans.

Other meetings will be held every night, in Catholic churches throughout the city until the drive begins. There will be a Liberty loan mass meeting in St. Thomas' assembly hall on Monday evening.

The Catholic women's organization will be in charge of Mrs. John Cudahy.

THE SUCCESSFUL HOME GARDEN

NO. 191.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—[1] My campanula has not bloomed; should it be left in the ground over winter or potted? [2] My trumpet vine (Bignonia radicans), grown from a Michigan root, does not seem to thrive here. Will it bloom in Chicago? [3] Will a peach tree bear in Chicago? There are no other peach trees near. MRS. W. H. F.

A.—[1] It never blooms the first year and usually acts as a biennial. Leave it in the ground. [2] It is rarely seen in bloom here and is often winter killed or frozen. Complete winter protection is the only remedy. [3] Late frosts usually kill peach tree blossoms or the young fruit here. Sometimes the young wood is entirely winter killed. The flower of the peach is bisexual and requires no other trees for pollination.

Q.—[1] I have begonias and ferns together in a well drained box of mixed garden soil, leaf mold, and a little bone meal, at a north window, kept moist. They are in splendid condition and the begonias bloomed freely, but the leaves develop unsightly brown stains along the veins. "Nicoteen" does not help. Tell me, from inclosed specimens, what is wrong and what to do. [2] The begonias are stocky and with close set leaves, and numerous little plants are starting up around the original stalks, but I have removed so many stained leaves that the stalks are bare except for a tuft at the tops. Would it be best to cut down the old stalks entirely? Will the little new sprouts around the old stalks be likely to bloom? C. P.

A.—[1] The leaves submitted were affected with begonia rust, a fungus disease which may attack any of the begonias. Excessive humidity, sudden changes of temperature, and cold draughts lower the plant resistance and spread the disease. Once infected, it may trouble for years. Reduce watering at this time, protect from draft without preventing due ventilation. Not too late afternoons, spray to moisten the plant with water that has the chill taken off and follow immediately with a light dusting of powdered sulphur over the entire plant, from above and below. Repeat weekly until new leaves come clean.

[2] Begonia semperflorens and their hybrids do not produce side shoots above the point where the first flower appeared. When the plants become bare and unsightly, indoors usually in October and the beginning of November, cut down all bare branches at the point between the lowest flower scar and the uppermost eye noticeable in the axil of the leaves or leaf scars. If the topmost eye is weak, cut off above the stronger one. Add no fertilizer before spring. The sprouts will bloom.

Tribune Garden Medals Awarded

BY J. F. H. HEIDE.

Over 400 of the successful contestants for TRIBUNE war garden medals presented themselves yesterday at the United States war exposition for decoration. At 11 o'clock a Great Lakes band led the way from the food production booth of the State Council of Defense to Liberty forum.

The exercises were opened with patriotic music by the naval band, whereupon the 5,000 auditors were addressed by Col. Nathan William McChesney, N. A., who had been delegated by Maj. Gen. Barry to honor the juvenile soldiers of the hoe. Col. McChesney dwelt on the patriotism of the children who responded so nobly to the call of their country. Their home gardens made it possible to release the produce of the farm for the needs of our soldiers.

After an explanation of the purposes of the medals by the garden editor and an offer by him to assist in the planning of better gardens for the home, the school, and the community, the medals were awarded by Col. McChesney—soldiers, sailors, and Boy Scouts assisting the woman's directing committee of the State Council of Defense.

The distribution of medals was later resumed at booth No. 5, the food production booth, Mrs. Augustus Peabody doing the honors.

Those unable to be present at these exercises may receive their medals by calling at the garden bureau of the State Council of Defense, 120 West Adams street.

Mrs. Peabody announced the following schools have done especially meritorious garden work and silver medals have been awarded them:

Austin High,
Budlong,
Bryant,
Burley,
Chgo. Tuberc. sanitarium [Hibbard school children],
Coonley,
Forrestville,
Haugan,
Holy Name garden,
Key,
Lewis Champlain,
Mayfair,
McCosh,
Nettlehorst,
Norwood Park,
Nobel,
Prescott,
Raymond,
Scanlon,
A. O. Sexton High,
Van Vlissingen,
Willard.

In view of the invaluable work done in furnishing practical object lessons of correct gardening, the following additional awards of silver medals were announced:

West Chicago parks (A. Koch, head gardener).

Lincoln park (R. C. Schiele, head gardener).

University of Chicago (Prof. William Crocker, plant physiologist).

"One! Two! Three! Four!
Who are we for?
Pershing, Pershing! Rah! rah! rah!"

This yell, which will be on the lips of all the school children today, has been the sentiment of our hearts for a long, long time. This morning, which ushers in "Pershing day," finds us ardent and eager to do homage to the Most Interesting American.

If you are downtown at the exposition chances are you might enjoy paying a visit to the motion picture theaters where "Why America Will Win" is being shown. This is an animated tale of the life of Gen. Pershing and deals with various incidents of his history from boyhood until the present day.

The picture, while it is nothing remarkable from a dramatic or technical standpoint, is an apparently sincere attempt to bring the general as he is to the worshiping public. The actors impersonating various historical celebrities have been chosen with considerable thought. The subtitles are calculated to inspire wrath against the Hun and enthusiasm toward our leader and the allied leaders who are taking the armies for freedom so surely to Berlin.

The producers gallop on ahead in this production and reveal to you the merited fate of the kaiser and the triumphant entry into Germany. No question but that the kaiser will be "got." "Why America Will Win" presents one of the suppositions as to how this great event will be consummated.

The picture is really worth while.

The Presbyterians Kindly but Firmly Rebuke B. Sunday

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Chicago Presbyterians have sent "a kind but firm rebuke" to Billy Sunday concerning things he said and did in the evangelistic campaign which began in the tabernacle at Chicago avenue and the lake shore March 3 and closed May 19.

The letter was signed by the Rev. Henry Seymour Brown, moderator, and Prof. A. C. Zenos, stated clerk, and was prepared by a committee of which the Rev. W. C. Miles of Oak Park was chairman and the Rev. W. J. Ohan of Bethany church was secretary.

The report was prepared as the result of a questionnaire sent to all the pastors of the 107 churches of the presbytery inquiring as to the results of the Sunday campaign.

"There were 5,223 cards given to pastors of our various Presbyterian churches, the signers of which gave the Presbyterian church as a preference," the report said. "Thirty-two churches reported having received 109 members. If the same proportion prevailed in the other churches not reporting the total number of accessions was 325. The largest number reported by any one church was twenty-five.

"After getting the views of all the pastors there is no disguising the fact the results were disappointing, although this does not necessarily mean the campaign was a failure."

The rebuke for Billy's too vigorous language and his method of inviting trail hitters were put in the form of a wish.

"We would have been glad," the report said, "if all profanity and all vulgar expressions which really shock the moral sense could have been omitted. We believe, too, that better results would have been obtained if the invitation to trail hitters had not been so indiscriminate and if greater care had been taken to give those who came forward definite spiritual help."

When the report was read in the meeting of the presbytery there was a lively discussion as to whether the report should be made public in the press and whether it should be sent to Billy Sunday.

The Rev. W. S. Plumer Bryan, pastor of the Covenant church, was one of those who favored sending the letter to the evangelist, but opposed giving it to the newspapers. The question of giving the matter to the press did not come to a vote and was deferred until the meeting next Monday.

Some of the good points in the evangelistic campaign which the report commended were the establishment of adult Bible classes, the formation of the Chicago Business Women's council, and the work among the high school and college students.

Poor Face Powder Bad for the Eyes

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

WAS IT YOU?

A girl looked in her mirror one bright morning and found there a neat little plait of wrinkles between the eyes. And she had caught herself squinting and batting her eyelashes of recent days. And furthermore, her eyes were hurting her rather badly at times. But not until the wrinkles scared her, as nothing but wrinkles will alarm our sex, did she pay particular heed.

Her sister had a suitor who is an eye specialist. So she showed him the wrinkles and told of her eye strain.

"I notice the way you have been powdering your face, young lady," he said gravely. "I'd like to know what kind of powder you're using. You shouldn't slap on powder the way you do, even though the powder were O. K."

The long and short of it was that he found that the powders she was using were a poor grade, something bought without a query as to contents, one brand she used containing lead and another used previous to that box containing bismuth.

A Cool Summer Salad

A Relish with Cold Meat

Sandwichola

Note Its Uses. Taste This New Appetizing Food

A New Sandwich Filler

A New and Pleasing Flavor

For delicious, new-flavored sandwiches—a captivating change from the cheese, ham and tongue you are tired of.

For a saving sandwich—one that makes wheatless breads taste better, so helps that much in saving wheat.

An unique combination of rare foods—rich in nutriment—including ripe olives, tuna fish, pimientos, and fine herbs, with just the right proportion of purest olive oil.

Try it as a picnic lunch, or for tea on Sunday night. It makes an ideal midday meal also.

Serve with the usual dressing on a lettuce leaf, as salad. Or use as a relish with cold meats. Make croquettes by mixing it with meat or cereal. Try scrambled with eggs, or in an omelette, for breakfast. Or serve as an appetizing canape with lemon and paprika.

The Food Administration urges women to make war foods attractive. So Sandwichola, as an appetizer alone, fills a war-time place.

[illegible] Buried with Due Glee at White Sulphur Contest

"Bury the Kaiser" tournament, which was just held at White Sulphur Springs, proved to be the most amusing and mirth producing [illegible] held at the Springs this season. A [illegible] grave for the miniature kaiser [illegible] by Kawaskima, the popular [illegible] artist, who has a studio there, was selected by a committee, and the [illegible] players who balls lay nearest [illegible] were the prize winners. At [illegible] hour the burial took place, and [illegible] of people joined in the procession to the grave, behind the orchestra [illegible] was playing dirges.

[illegible] James R. Branch, who conceived the idea, is the donor of the [illegible] cup, which will be awarded to the winner of the men's championship [illegible] that are being played now. [illegible] L. Strobel was among the Chicagoans who entered the tournament. Mrs. Laurence Armour, who recently joined her mother, Mrs. H. M. Withers, and her sister, Miss Mary Withers, at the Springs, is seen daily on the tennis courts. Pierce Withers, U. S. A., spent [illegible] week end with his mother and [illegible].

Mrs. Preston Boyden, formerly Polly Chase, is spending a few weeks in Garden City, L. I., and upon her return will spend the winter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Chase of 3204 [illegible] road.

Mrs. Samuel Insull, who has been spending the summer at Hawthorn [illegible], her Libertyville estate, has opened her apartment at 1100 Lake Shore drive and is devoting herself with renewed vim to war recreation work. She is in charge of the Sunday [illegible] that are given each week for the boys in uniform under the auspices of the War Camp Community Service.

Mrs. Norman W. Harris has as her guests at Wadsworth Hall, her Lake Geneva residence, Prof. and Mrs. Albert W. Harris of Evanston, Mr. and Mrs. Haddon McLean, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wilson, Miss Carrie Wilson, and R. W. Sprague, all of Chicago. Mrs. Harris is planning to remain in Lake Geneva until mid-October.

Mrs. Thomas W. Winston and family have returned from Onagama, Mich., where they spent the summer and have joined Col. Winston in Highland Park for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell M. Chapin of [illegible] Astor street returned from Harbor Point last Monday. Mrs. Charles A. Chapin came home on Tuesday and Mrs. Henry H. Forsyth of 1318 Ritchie court returned on Wednesday.

Mrs. Alex F. Stevenson of 1110 North La Salle street, who is spending the summer at Harbor Point, will close her cottage on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. David F. Kenly of 20 [illegible] Goethe street will return today from Harbor Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrage D. Butler will leave for the east today. They will spend some time at White Sulphur Springs and also in Washington, and when they return they will be at the Congress hotel for the winter, as they have closed their residence in Highland Park.

Among the Chicagoans at Lake Geneva who will return to the city about Oct. 1 are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Peter[illegible], who have given up their residence at [illegible] Ellis avenue and will occupy a house at Forty-eighth street and Drexel boulevard this winter; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Commons, Mrs. Harrison L. Van Schaick of 5415 Hyde Park boulevard, and Mr. and Mrs. Simeon B. Chapin.

Mrs. Frank R. Cain of Highland Park, who has done splendid work on the executive board of the Army and Navy center at Highland Park and who was instrumental in opening a Red Cross shop at Highwood, will leave very soon to spend a year in France under the auspices of the Red Cross.

Countess Vincenzo Macchi di Cellere
EDMONSTON PHOTO

The Countess Vincenzo Macchi di Cellere, wife of the Italian ambassador to the United States, and her husband and two children, Agnese and Stefano, are spending a few days in Chicago during the war exposition. They are being widely entertained during their visit, and tomorrow night the Count and Countess Giulio Bolognesi, the Italian consul and his wife, will give a dinner for them at the Saddle and Cycle club. The Celleres will return to Washington on Sunday.

Men Over There Are Gaining Realization of Art's Inspiration

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

There is an opportunity to keep abreast of the boys over there in that appreciation of beautiful things which made one khaki-clad lad write to the Art institute:

"France is wonderful! I can understand now how a Frenchman, after losing wife, children, fortune, and home, can still fight for France!"

And another boy wrote, one who had been a former student in the Art institute:

"We are enjoying for the moment a few days in Switzerland. All I do is sit on a slope of the mountain in the sun and drink in the wonderful color of the roofs of a tiny village that nestles below us in the trees."

These men are realizing the best in art—the beauty of simple things that is universal. The museum instruction department of the Art institute offers a chance to the mothers, wives, and sisters of these men to learn this appreciation through the classes in history of art, architecture, painting, and sculpture which are held every morning at 10:30 in the institute. Mrs. Hall and Miss Parker, who are specially qualified for this work, will conduct such classes this year.

Bible Students Patriotic.

A reception to 170 new students at the Moody Bible institute last evening was a patriotic rally. Sergeant Sam P. Barre described having been gassed June 29 and having lain four days on the battlefield.

"The Moody Bible institute is fully committed to the prosecution of the war," said the Rev. J. H. Ralston. "There are no slackers here."

Farewell to Father Mallon.

The Rev. Edward T. Mallon, for fourteen years connected with St. Mary's, Paulist Fathers, was presented with a purse of gold at a farewell reception in the Congress hotel last night. He will leave Sunday for Minneapolis as rector of St. Lawrence Roman Catholic church.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weil of Oelwein, Ia., announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Carmen, to Dr. Jesse L. Bloch, U. S. N. R. F., Portland, Ore. Miss Weil met her fiancé at the University of Illinois, from where she was graduated in 1917. The wedding will not take place until after the war. The young couple are at present touring Glacier National park and other points in Montana with the Bloch family.

Mr. and Mrs. Seigfried Lundin, 4306 Wayne avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Hazel, to Mr. Roy Andrew Willson of the Evanston hotel.

Roosevelt's Brother-in-Law, Douglas Robinson, Dead

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Douglas Robinson, brother-in-law of Col. Roosevelt and one of New York City's leading realty figures, died at a hospital in Amsterdam this afternoon. He came to Albany yesterday on his way to his country home in Herkimer and stopped off here for a few hours.

Shortly after leaving Albany last night Mr. Robinson was taken ill on the train and by advice of a physician on the train he was taken to a hospital on arrival at Amsterdam. He complained of pains in his back and stomach, but the physicians did not deem his condition serious.

Mr. Robinson was president of the Douglas Robinson-Charles S. Brown company and the Douglas Land company, director of the Equitable Life Assurance society, the Astor Trust company, and trustee of the Atlantic Mutual Insurance company. He was the father of Senator Theodore Douglas Robinson.

A. W. DIMOCK, MAN OF MANY PARTS, DIES IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 12.—Anthony Weston Dimock, financier, explorer, fisherman, cowboy, steamship magnate, chemist, and assayist, one of New York's most famous men of all around attainments, died suddenly at his country home in Happy Valley, Catskill mountains, near the village of Peekamoose, Ulster county, according to advices received today by his friends in New York City.

Mr. Dimock, born at Yarmouth, N. S., in 1842, was one of the financial kings of New York fifty years ago, when he was associated in the banking and security business with Henry G. Marquand.

At 23 he dominated the gold market of the country. When he was 30 he controlled the Bankers and Merchants' Telegraph company and was president of the Atlantic Mail and other steamship lines.

He was the author of many juvenile works, among them "Dick in the Everglades," "Dick Among the Seminoles," and "Dick Among the Lumberjacks," all published in the last few years.

Among his intimates were numbered men who made world history in the middle of the last century, including Gen. Grant, Commodore Vanderbilt, Walt Whitman, Santa Ana, Horace Greeley, J. Q. A. Ward, President Garfield, and Jay Gould.

DEBS, SOCIALIST LEADER, GUILTY UNDER SPY ACT

Takes Verdict Coolly; 20 Years and $10,000, Maximum Penalty.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 12.—Eugene V. Debs, charged with violating the espionage act, was found guilty by a federal jury today. The maximum penalty is twenty years' imprisonment and a fine of $10,000.

After the verdict Debs said:

Guilty on Four Counts.

Of the original ten counts of the indictment only four remained when the jury retired to consider the evidence. He was found guilty of attempting to incite insubordination, disloyalty, etc., in the military and naval forces; attempting to obstruct recruiting and uttering language tending to incite, provoke, and encourage resistance to the United States and to promote the cause of the enemy.

The count on which he was adjudged innocent charged that he opposed the cause of the United States.

Mrs. Stokes at His Side.

The jury was out five and a half hours. When it was announced that the jury was ready to report, Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, herself under conviction on a similar charge, came inside the railing for the first time. She drew her chair beside his and into her hands he slipped his own gaunt paw.

She had expected an adverse verdict from the first, admitting it to her friends. Nor was it a surprise to Debs. In his address to the jury he said he had not one word to retract, and rather went out of his way to accept the damaging St. Louis anti-war platform.

Judge Westenhaver stated that he would hear counsel on a motion for a new trial next Saturday morning. Debs until then will remain at liberty under the trial bond.

Missing Mascot of Life Saving Station Is Found

"Mars," the canine mascot of the life saving station at the mouth of the Chicago river, has returned. A private detective picked him up on the north side. Recognizing the dog from a description in a newspaper, the detective telephoned Capt. John Anderson at the life saving station. The dog is now traveling his beat. He went on duty for the first beat from 12 until 2 yesterday morning. "Mars" had been absent seven days.

SHRAPNEL

Pershing's birthday will be celebrated by the Thirteenth and Fourteenth exemption districts tonight at 8 o'clock at the Beach theater, Fifty-first street and Harper avenue. James F. Pershing, brother of the general, has been asked to speak, preferably on the general. Others on the program are James McShane, Jacob Newman, and E. J. Magerstadt.

The United States naval reserve motorboat Concrete will arrive in Chicago next Wednesday. It will enter the Chicago river at the municipal pier about noon. This will complete the voyage of the Concrete over the inland rivers from Pittsburgh to Chicago.

Military mass and athletic events, including baseball, boxing, and wrestling, will be held in Nazareth Woods, La Grange, on Sunday, under the auspices of the West Suburban Business Men's league.

Miss Blanche Slocum, called "the last woman out of Germany," will speak before relatives and friends of the One Hundred and Forty-ninth United States field artillery, telling of her experiences, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Red room of the La Salle hotel.

The air service trade board is after 4,300 men, including blacksmiths, coppersmiths, ignition and motor mechanics, vulcanizers, cabinetmakers, electricians, instrument repair men, airplane mechanics, welders, carpenters, fabric workers, machinists, and propeller makers. W. S. S. COMMITTEE PLANS PERSHING MEETINGS TODAY

Two celebrations of the birthday of Gen. Pershing are planned for this afternoon and evening under the direction of the war savings committee for Cook county.

In the afternoon a joint celebration for the famous leader in France and the success of the recent Pershing patriot week drive will be held in the Ogden park fieldhouse, when members of the women's executive committee and the war savings directors for six south side postal districts meet to discuss plans for the next big "over the top" drive, which will be held in November and December.

Mrs. James J. Pershing, sister-in-law of the general, will be the guest of honor at the women's meeting.

In the evening a patriotic rally will be held in Pilsen park under the joint auspices of the exemption boards for the Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, and Eighty-third districts and the Bohemian war savings committee.

A Barrel at Each of Our Four Corners for Peach Stones to Help Make Gas Masks

A few peach stones may save a soldier's life. Only the best gas masks assure safety to our boys, and to make these good charcoal is an essential. Wood charcoal has proved deficient; the necessary charcoal can be made from peach stones.

Enormous quantities are needed at once. Barrels have been provided at each of the corners of our main store, guarded by soldiers, into which passersby can place peach stones. Please be sure that each is thoroughly dried in an oven or in the sun.

Crepe Georgette Blouses—Exceptional at $6

A special purchase of Blouses which compare very favorably with those offered at the same price last January, despite the increased cost of labor and fabrics.

Three of the styles are illustrated, one in suit colorings, with its front panel embroidered with wool disks of various sizes, and another with its front panel elaborately trimmed with soutache braid. The third style, with round necked, tucked vestee, has a smart long collar finished with a tailored hem and Filet pattern insertion.

An exceptional value—not illustrated—is made of crepe Georgette, beaded and hand embroidered in floral and zig-zag designs, in white, flesh, and suit shades.

Sixth Floor, Middle Room.

Women's Suits, $42.50, $57.50

ONE is illustrated at the right of the group, simply tailored, designed for the woman who has her own furs. It is made of velour de laine, smartly tailored and trimmed with silk arrow heads. $57.50.

Another Suit—not pictured, made of checked wool velour, has straight, youthful, belted lines and commodious pockets, $42.50.

Sixth Floor, South Room.

Modish Coats, $67.50

A delightful affair of wool velour, very excellently tailored and satin lined throughout. It has a large shawl collar of the flattering mole-dyed coney (rabbit) fur and a very interesting belt and back detail. An unusual offer this season. $67.50.

Women's Coats, Sixth Floor, North Room, State Street.

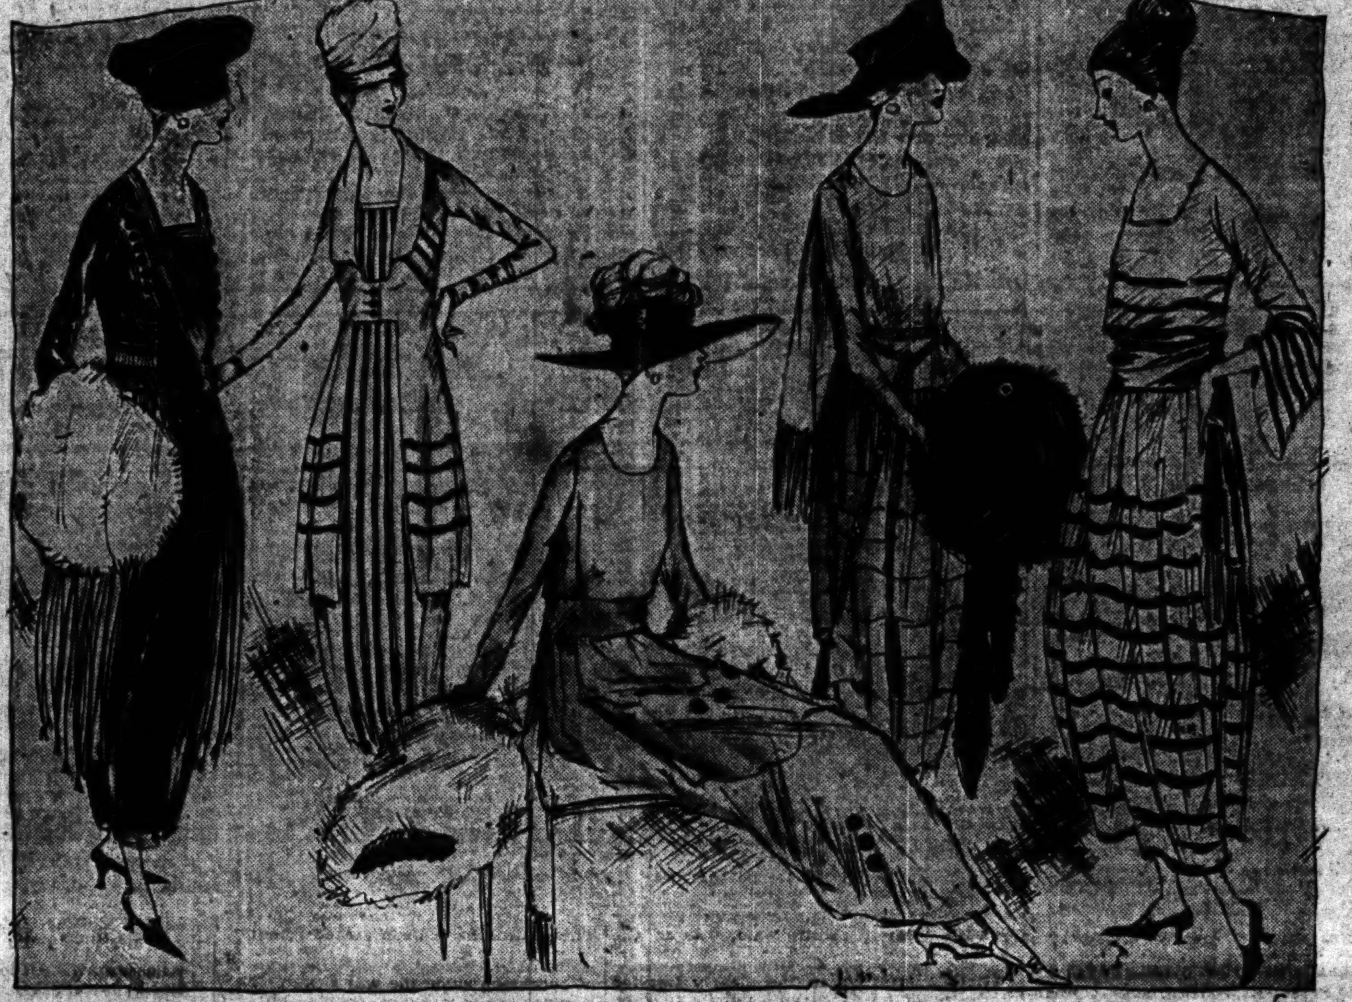
School Clothes

THE Section devoted to school girls' wear has secured from famous makers an ample selection of practical apparel for school use which has all the smart lines of big sister's clothes.

Frock of fine serge in slipover style, with square neck and kimona sleeves, hand embroidered with scallops in assorted colors. Panel back and front, comes in sizes 6 to 16, $22.50.

Coat, in khaki or blue soft wool, with big pockets and smart military collar—sizes 6 to 16 years, $32.50.

Fourth Floor, North Room.



Of Velveteens, Nets, Wool Jerseys, Tricolettes, Fine Tricotines—

Special—Women's Modish Frocks—Exceptional at $47.50 and $57.50

Seven Styles—150 Frocks

EVERY one is new, offered for the first time today, and was especially made for this selling. Patrons who have planned choosing a new Frock for Autumn and Winter wear will find this collection affords an excellent and economical opportunity.

Just Five of the Styles Are Illustrated Above—

Velveteen—makes the Frock at the left, with panel front trimmed with rows of covered buttons fastened with loops of the silk braid which forms the novel braid overskirt at each side.

Another model, of velveteen, excellently made with two slender side skirt panels, is trimmed with silk braid. Each, special, $47.50.

Net—used with horizontal bandings of silk velvet on bodice, flaring sleeves and overskirt, makes a delightful Frock for theatre and restaurant wear, as shown at the right. This is mounted over a black satin foundation; satin girdle with silk fringe. Special, $57.50.

Wool Jersey—not illustrated, has been used for a smart day Frock which boasts much embroidery in wool and silk braid on collar, top of skirt and sleeves. Wide assortment of sizes and colors. Special, $47.50.

Women's Costumes, Sixth Floor, South Room.

Millinery with a Rich Simplicity

THREE Hats—small of outline, rich of material, simple in effect—are sketched. Each has that unobtrusive charm one asks of the Hat which is to be donned with suits and street frocks, yet each is sufficiently elegant to be appropriate worn at any hour of the day.

Tricorne—of navy and silver brocade, with soft velvet crown and trimming of heavy silver cord. A note of the military obtains here.

Turban—of black satin soliel, reminiscent of Chinese pagodas with their series of roofs and trimmed only with silk covered wood beads and a heavy silk cord tassel.

Brim Hat—with a Tam O'Shanter crown and an adaptable brim which rolls upwards to reveal its silver gray facing, with its simple, broad bow for trimming.

Fifth Floor, North Room.

Three Hats of Small Outline and an apparent simplicity derived from the masterly employment of fabrics and trimmings of exceptional richness.

French Salon.

Woman's Skirts Unusual at $13.75

THE fur coatees and short coats of this Autumn demand at least one good looking Separate Skirt in one's wardrobe. Then, too, such a Skirt may be used with attractive sweaters for Autumn country walks.

Of Striped and Plaided Silks

One is made of handsome satin, striped novelty silk with two toned stripes alternating with plain color. Its pockets, with turned over folds, have braided ornaments which repeat the colors of the silk.

The same style is also offered in plaid silk.

Wool Plaids are plaited at each side and stitched to the hip line. Plain panel at the front and back.

Sixth Floor, South Room.

Save Peach Stones

The best gas masks, the only kind that will save our boys from painful death, must have a certain kind of charcoal which cannot be made from ordinary wood.

This charcoal is best manufactured from the pits and shells of fruits and nuts, such as

Peach Stones
Apricot Pits
Date Seeds
Prune Pits
Olive Pits
Brazil Nut Shells
Plum Pits
Cherry Pits
Walnut Shells
Butter Nut Shells
Hickory Nut Shells

Enormous quantities of these are needed at once, so we have arranged adequate receptacles in front of this store, where you are urged to place all you can gather and save. Please help in this way all you can.

We will see that they are forwarded every few days to their proper destination.

Be sure that all are thoroughly dried in an oven or in the sun and do not deposit any other pits or shells than those enumerated above.

3,000 MARGIN FOR M'CORMICK, LATEST FIGURE

Lead in the State Is Now Around the 80,000 Mark.

Medill McCormick's plurality kept growing yesterday as more complete returns came in. His indicated lead over Mayor William Hale Thompson for the Republican nomination for senator is now about 63,000.

Returns from 2,302 out of 2,973 downstate precincts, outside of Cook county, give McCormick 102,467, Thompson 41,602, Congressman George E. Foss brings up the rear with 33,646. On the basis of these returns McCormick's plurality in the regions outside Cook county is 79,300.

Final police figures show that Thompson carried Chicago by 16,784. McCormickcarrie d the country towns by 1,249. Thus Thompson's plurality in Cook county is 15,535.

Foss Gives Mayor County.

Foss cut into Cook county just enough to land it for Thompson. The combined McCormick and Foss vote in the county is 2,818 more than the Thompson poll.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, on the Democratic side, with no serious opposition, got 96,843 votes in Cook.

The Republican total vote in Chicago was 138,353 and in Cook county [illegible]307. This is approximately 59 per cent of the male vote cast for Hughes in the general election of 1916.

The Democratic vote in Cook county is 107,940, which was about 46 per cent of the male vote for Wilson in 1916.

Down state McCormick appears to have carried ninety-eight of the 101 counties. Williamson and Perry went to Thompson and McLean to Foss.

Where Mayor Got Votes.

As the completer returns came in the analysis brought into higher relief than ever the factors which gave Thompsonism its pluralities in the [illegible] Chicago wards carried by the mayor. The politicians seemed unanimous in chalking up the mayor's vote to:

The German vote in Teutonic precincts.
The Socialists.
The Negro vote, by reason of the recognition given the race at the city hall.
The city hall machinery and the "bread and butter" boys, who secured the precincts for Thompson votes.
The rain, which kept 40,000 to 50,000 voters away.

A rough tabulation prepared by one analyst tells the story:

The north side German wards with heavy German population and a strong Socialist vote last fall for the anti-war judicial ticket gave Thompson a plurality of....................	3,430
Two wards with heavy Negro population gave him a combined plurality of....	9,173
Two west side wards with extra size roll brigades gave him a combined plurality of....................	4,522
	17,125

The rest of the wards carried by Thompson went by smaller margins, and combined they offset the pluralities of McCormick in Lake View, Hyde Park, and the Twenty-first and Thirty-second wards.

Criticism for Deneen.

In the post-mortem discussions, much was said about the way in which the scramble over county slates was allowed to subordinate the main issue by some of the local G. O. P. leaders. In the campaign Charles S. Deneen's forces refrained from taking a position on the senatorship, confining its activities to the battle over county positions.

A declaration one way or the other, it was argued, might have been sufficient to settle Thompsonism in Chicago as it was in the downstate district. Some of the Deneen men individually took a stand, but there was no open declaration as a unit.

At the Union hotel, stormy scenes were reported when the Thompson leaders got together to look things over. Vanished was the famous 147,[illegible] plurality which swept the mayor into office in 1915, and in its place was a 15,000 plurality at the end of a perfectly wet day that kept down the vote. They had been banking on a 50,000 lead. They had been boasting of 300,000 signed pledge cards. What hurt the leaders most, however, was the fact that while the mayor carried Cook county, the Thompson county slate walked the plank and got only one major place, Dr. William H. Reid, smoke inspector, the popular man among the Thompson crowd, landing on the board of review.

Lundin Reads Riot Act.

Observers who penetrated the Union hotel reported that Fred Lundin, with loud cries, fell upon the leading cowpunchers and wanted to know why the county ticket had not been roped and [illegible].

"What kind of a bunch were they?" asked Lundin, with appropriate gestures, according to one report. "In places where we should have got [illegible] we were lucky to find ten men enough to follow instructions. A bunch of idiots. They didn't know how to vote."

The mayor's voice rumbled.

"What I want to know," it said, "is were there any deals made. And I want to know who was responsible."

On the outside, among the city hall [illegible] mutterings were reported. They had to do with such recondite things as "knifers" and "double crossers" and [illegible]."

JOY AT CAPITOL AT THE DEFEAT OF THOMPSON

Loyalists of Both Parties Pleased; Means G.O.P. Success.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Representative McCormick's defeat of Mayor Thompson of Chicago in the Illinois Republican senatorial primaries is viewed here as another striking milestone reached in the rapid subjugation of pacifism and war obstruction all over the country.

News of Mr. McCormick's victory was received with rejoicing at the capitol and was pronounced an augury of certain Republican success at the November election.

Coupled with the beating administered to Senator Hardwick, anti-draft advocate, in the Georgia Democratic primary, it produced jubilation among senators and congressmen of the win-the-war element regardless of party.

Adding to Pacifist Graveyard.

Tabulation of final primary returns to congress today showed four more pacifists and obstructionists sent to the political graveyard. They were Representative La Follette of Washington, and Representatives Cary, Nelson and Cooper of Wisconsin. All four of them voted against war. They were all defeated for renomination.

The intense interest with which congress was watching the outcome of the Illinois primary was indicated by the fact that it was brought up on the floor immediately after the house convened today. Even the partisan Tom Heflin, Democratic representative from Alabama, informed the house he was glad Mr. McCormick defeated Thompson.

Lodge Issues Statement.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the senate, sent a telegram of congratulation to Mr. McCormick. He also issued a statement of his gratification over Mr. McCormick's victory. He said:

"Of course I am deeply gratified by the result of the Illinois primary, and I am especially pleased that Mr. McCormick got such a handsome plurality. It assures us not only another Republican senator but one whose heart and soul favors the most vigorous prosecution of the war and who will never be willing to accept a compromised or negotiated peace."

Representative Fess of Ohio, the newly elected chairman of the Republican national congressional committee, expressed elation at the primary results in Illinois.

Many of the most prominent Republican senators have expressed a desire to go to Illinois to campaign for Mr. McCormick's election. Among these is Senator Hiram Johnson of California.

G.O.P. CHIEF HAYS ASKS FOR A WAR NON-POLITICAL

Writes Tumulty Denouncing Wilson Camp Grant Advertisement.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.—An eloquent appeal to the White house to purge the conduct of the war of petty partisanship and to pull together with the Republican party for victory was uttered today by Chairman Will H. Hays of the Republican national committee.

Replying to Secretary Tumulty's telegram, Mr. Hays denied that he ever had imputed to the Democratic leaders a willingness to negotiate an unjust peace for the sake of continuance in power and asserted that any one accusing either the Republican or Democratic party of disloyalty "will be guilty in that very act of the worst kind of disloyalty."

Mr. Hays' letter follows, in part:

"I have your telegram. On Sept. 2, in Chicago, I attended a meeting of the Association of Republican State Chairmen, called by its president and attended by fifteen of such chairmen. At that meeting I made remarks referring in a general way to the length to which the Democratic leaders are going in their efforts to control the senate and house, and also as to the irrevocable stand of the Republican party for a vigorous prosecution of the war and against an inconclusive peace.

Here Are His Words.

"I did not use the words quoted in your telegram. What I said then, which I now reaffirm and which I shall continue to declare, was substantially as follows:

"First, as to the means resorted to by certain Democratic leaders to get votes, I said:

"'To the Wisconsin soldiers at Camp Grant: Tuesday, April 2.

"'You are entitled to vote for United States senator from Wisconsin to succeed Senator Paul O. Husting.

"'President Wilson, your commander in chief, desires all loyal Americans to vote for Joseph E. Davies for United State senator.

"'Davies' election means joy at Washington and gloom at Berlin.

An Infamous Prostitution.

"'I regard this as an infamous prostitution of all patriotic proprieties and the grossest violation of the plainest civil duty, worthy of the severest condemnation of all Americans.

"'From such actions it is evident, and I regret to say it, that these Democratic leaders will go to any lengths to carry the senate and house. Such unpatriotic efforts to use the war for partisan purposes must fail. Such inevitable failure was indicated by the Wisconsin result. It was further shown in the Michigan primaries.'

Vigorous Push for War.

"Second, as to the imperative necessity of a vigorous prosecution of the war and a conclusive peace only, and the need of a Republican congress to that end, and in connection with a discussion of the candidacy of Mr. Ford in the Republican primary in Michigan and his statement as to why he became a candidate, and while reviewing the service Republicans in congress rendered the major war measures which were opposed by the Democratic leaders, Chairman Dent of the military affairs committee, Floor Leader Kitchin, chairman of the ways and means committee, and others, I said:

"'We demand the most vigorous prosecution of the war and a peace with victory. A Republican congress means a war congress, and we pledge our candidates to be men who are supremely pro-American, who will give the country's all for the winning of the war now and who will stand irrevocably against any peace based on a compromise of principles which would violate American rights, interests, and honor and make of our sacrifice a sacrifice to be made again by our grandchildren. I hope and trust the Democratic party will work by the same token.'"

Tumulty Retorts That G. O. P. Injects Politics Into the War

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—Mr. Tumulty, in a reply to Chairman Hays, made public tonight, said he was glad to have the latter's "disclaimer."

"The general trend of your letter, however, still leaves doubt in my mind," Mr. Tumulty said, "as to the responsiveness of some of the Republican managers to the clearly implied desire of the American people to keep politics out of the war. While the whole thought of President Wilson has been given to the successful prosecution of the war, the foremost leaders of the Republican party, including yourself and Senator Penrose, have been making fervent arguments in favor of a restoration of the old political control of the country."

Taking up a statement by Mr. Hays in a New York newspaper and a later speech by him at Philadelphia, Mr. Tumulty said he doubted whether they could be interpreted "in any way other than as an implied criticism of some of the necessary war policies of the government, which you claim the Republican party, as a minority, supported in congress, and which you plainly indicate they would overturn if returned as a majority to congress."

Mr. Tumulty quoted "a similar political speech" by Senator Penrose and extracts from an address by George W. Wickersham, and said:

"I am afraid that your quoted speeches, the speech of Senator Penrose, and your letter of today indicate all too plainly that some Republicans find it difficult to think outside the realm of politics. The vast body of Republican voters, now standing with all Democratic voters stanchly behind their government, doubtless will be interested in any statement you might care to make as to how far you would go in repealing the laws which have made America's participation in the war so effective.

"The president's war aims have been made the aims of all the nations fighting against the German government. These aims have been stated unequivocally by the president upon a number of occasions since the war began. Not merely the American people but all the world is familiar with these aims, which assure 'force without stint' until victory is achieved.

"It is only through the subtle insinuations that characterize partisan politics that these aims might be diluted with any doubt. It is quite obviously partisan and gratuitous for you to refer to 'the imperative necessity of a vigorous prosecution of the war and a conclusive peace only, and the need of a Republican congress to that end.'"

That this reference "was not an inadvertence," Mr. Tumulty wrote, was shown by the speech of Representative Fess, chairman of the Republican national congressional committee, who was quoted as saying that "Republican success will not only insure the most vigorous prosecution of the war but it will be a guarantee against a compromise, and, therefore, an inconclusive peace."

"The statements," Mr. Tumulty concluded, "with reference to an 'inconclusive peace' by yourself and Mr. Fess, can be regarded either in the light of straw men raised up to be knocked down, or as efforts to introduce doubt into a decision which the government already has announced and upon which the American people are agreed."

Wilson Signs New Dry Law Expected to Clamp on Lid

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—President Wilson today signed the joint resolution passed by congress, empowering him to establish prohibition zones around ship yards, munitions factories and other war industries. Under the general terms of the resolution more drastic restrictions than now prevail may be ordered for all war plants, but the measure is aimed specifically at the town of Oliver, Wis., which has sprung up with many saloons across the river from Duluth, Minn.

Mrs. Belle Blue, Negress, violation of the Harrison narcotic act; one year and one day.

Among those pleading not guilty to the charges against them are:

L. C. Russell, charged with tampering with the jury in the I. W. W. case.

THREE HURT AS AUTO HITS CAR

Three persons were injured in an automobile accident last night when a car driven by Hyman Rosen, 2147 Potomac avenue, crashed into a street car at 907 West North avenue. The other two injured are Nathan Ponetzman and Theodore Eckerman of 836 Milwaukee avenue. All were taken to the Alexian Brothers' hospital. Rosen is suffering from a probable skull fracture.

Two persons were injured, one seriously, when one street car bumped into another at Thirteenth and State streets last night. The injured are Mrs. Stella Moslyn, 5924 South Artesian avenue, fractured kneecap and wrenched back, and Stanley Calavada, 3324 Mosspratt street, internally injured. Both were taken to St. Luke's hospital.

WARRANT FOR ALLEGED DESERTER.

On complaint of Mrs. Helen Gets, 1745 Townsend street, a warrant for the arrest of her brother-in-law, James Gets, was issued yesterday. She said he had threatened to kill her and also that Gets was a deserter from the American army. A warrant was issued.

PERMITS TO BUILD

U. S. Consent Required for All New Constructions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—To put a stop at once to all building in the country which is not absolutely necessary at this time the war industries board decreed today that government permits will be required in the future for all construction work, except in certain government work, and state councils of defense have been authorized to disapprove building projects.

The board has asked the forty-eight state councils of defense and 5,000 county councils of defense to act for it in passing on building proposals, the board reserving the right to reject building plans which defense councils may recommend.

The procedure in limiting building construction worked out today between the Council of National Defense and the war industries today follows:

"Any person interested in a construction project must apply, with a full statement of the facts under oath, to the appropriate local representative of the various state defense councils.

"This representative of the state council will investigate the necessity of the proposed construction and transmit recommendations to the state council for review.

"The state council will review the case, and if it decides in favor of the construction it will at once send its recommendation, with a full statement of all the facts, to the nonwar construction section of the priorities division of the war industries board. The nonwar construction section will grant or withhold the permit and so notify the state council of defense and the individual concerned.

"If the state council decides against the proposed construction it will notify the person concerned that his project has been disapproved."

Arrest Men for Having Liquor in Naval Zone

Five men, claiming to live in Waukegan, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Lewis F. Mason yesterday charged with having liquor in their possession within the forbidden zone around the Great Lakes Naval Training station. The men are said to have had whisky and beer in an automobile about four and a half miles from the station. They were held to the grand jury in bonds of $1,500 each. Their names are Peter Needham, Samuel Bibsh, Mike Samuel, Steve Statark, and C. H. Leiting.

STATE COUNCIL JOINS MOFFETT TO FIGHT VICE

With the State Council of Defense, United States Attorney Charles F. Clyne, and social reform agencies volunteering their aid, Capt. W. A. Moffett, commandant at Great Lakes, yesterday took positive steps to carry out the instructions of Secretary of the Navy Daniels that vice conditions in Chicago be remedied.

Capt. Moffett has asked Samuel P. Thrasher of the Committee of Fifteen to present the evidence his organization has of evil conditions. He received a mass of reports of investigators indicating that the "lid" has been tilted to an unusual degree during the last few weeks and that liquor has been sold to soldiers and sailors in a number of resorts. It was upon similar reports of investigations that Secretary Daniels based his instructions to Capt. Moffett.

Council Will Assist.

The State Council of Defense, over the signature of Samuel Insull, chairman, sent the following letter to Capt. Moffett during the day:

> Referring to the information in this morning's papers which states that the secretary of the navy has instructed you "to take such steps as he (you) deems necessary to correct the evils" as to vice conditions in this city, we will be very glad to coöperate with you in any way within our powers that you may think desirable to assist you in carrying out the instructions of Secretary Daniels.

Coincident with the dispatch of the letter it became known that State Council agencies for some time past have had a careful check on the vice situation. At several meetings of the council the problem has been talked over. Some members became so exercised over the apparent laxity in law enforcement that they advocated an entire divorce of the police department from city control.

Bring Guilty to Book.

United States Attorney Clyne came to the front with a declaration that those responsible for any situations which may have an untoward effect on the conduct of soldiers and sailors must be brought to book.

He was particularl, exercised over reports that reform associations have obtained liquor on "affidavits" signed with such names as "Billy Sunday" "William Kaiser." The merits of the "affidavit system" itself, which was inaugurated by Hinton G. Clabaugh of the bureau of investigation, have been the topic of considerable discussion.

Mr. Clyne said that the old five mile zone about military centers in which the sale of liquor was forbidden had been extended to ten miles. This zone, he said, takes in the Great Lakes naval training station and in his belief the same restrictions might apply to Camp Commodore and the Municipal pier, where sailors also are in training. A literal application of the spirit of the zone restrictions, he admitted, would close all of the saloons in Chicago.

Officials Visit Moffett.

It is reported that Acting Chief Alcock and Hinton G. Clabaugh of the local bureau of investigation had a conference with Capt. Moffett at Great Lakes yesterday.

They agreed upon a report on conditions and it is said this has been forwarded to Secretary Daniels.

It was said the document reports conditions in Chicago above criticism, in view of the large number of sailors and soldiers who visit the city daily and because of its many saloons and great size.

"The report will be made public at the proper time," was Capt. Moffett's only comment.

Acting Chief Alcock declared the city "is cleaner today than ever" and that "it's a slander on Chicago and on our soldiers and sailors to say a thing of that knid."

"This is old stuff. It won't go. It's Thrasher and Funkhouser," he declared. "We are willing to coöperate with the government or with any organization in anything to eliminate vice, and we have been doing so. I am now investigating and when I have finished I will have something to say."

Mr. Thrasher answered the police chief by declaring "I have no apology to make for any information I sent to Washington, and can substantiate every word of it.

Things Open Up Lately.

"The fact is that for a long time Chicago, by strenuous efforts, was kept unusually clean. But as soon as Maj. Funkhouser was ousted as the second deputy things opened up. For the chief's benefit I will say that I have sent thirty-three notices to property owners where resorts had reopened in close proximity to the old south side redlight district within the last few weeks. They have been informed that suits will be instituted unless conditions are remedied. That is three times the number usually sent out in a similar period."

DANIELS WAITS REPORT.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—President Wilson today signed the dry zone bill which virtually gives the president power to make all the leading centers of population dry territory for the period of the war.

Secretary Daniels would not say today whether he contemplated invoking this new legislation to extend dry zones in Chicago. He said he still was awaiting a report from Capt. William A. Moffett of the Great Lakes Naval Training station upon his request that action be taken by Capt. Moffett to correct conditions of lax law enforcement complained of in Chicago.

COLLEGE TEAMS FORCED TO DROP ALL LONG TRIPS

War Department Favors All Sports, but Not Loss of Time.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Intercollegiate athletics, football particularly, are practically dead in all colleges of the country, which are to be taken over for training young men under the new army educational plan.

The committee on education and special training, which has supervision of the army college training, said tonight that it would not discourage athletics within schools to be taken over, nor would it discourage friendly rivalry between schools adjacent to each other, but that intercollegiate contests which involve special training and long trips of students could not be permitted under war department rules which soon are to be invoked.

Drill First; Then Athletics.

"Intercollegiate athletics in the old sense, such as long football schedules calling for frequent trips of students from one college to another, cannot be permitted in schools taken over under the army training plan," said R. B. Perry, executive secretary of the committee on education and special training.

"Our position, of course, is not one against athletics in any sense. Athletics within the schools will be encouraged and contests between schools which will not interfere with the daily military training will be permitted and encouraged. But it is perfectly clear that intercollegiate athletics which involve protracted absence of the students from their regular training must be eliminated.

Still Hope for Sports.

"In so far as it will be consistent with the educational and training schedule of the week to be established in the colleges under war department regulation athletics, football, baseball, field contests, etc., will be permitted. It is hoped that they may be interfered with as little as possible, but wherever schedules have been arranged which will obstruct the war department's plans they must be abandoned.

"These students will be under war department control and discipline just as soldiers are, and their athletic schedules must be governed accordingly."

Formal Order Expected Soon.

No formal order regarding this matter has yet been issued, but an announcement probably will be made soon. Senator Hitchcock asked for a ruling on it today, stating that interference with schedules already arranged probably would cost the Red Cross and other war activities large sums. The University of Nebraska, he said, if permitted to play out its football schedule would turn over $15,000 to the Red Cross.

VIEWPOINT OF COLLEGES.

Prof. William V. Pooley of Northwestern university, president of the Intercollegiate Conference Athletic association, composed of faculty representatives of the Big Ten conference colleges, expressed no surprise last night at the news from Washington.

"I have expected something of the kind," he said. "Every student over 18 years old who passes the physical examination becomes a candidate for the army and receives a soldier's pay and quarters. Football, if continued, therefore, will be conducted under war department regulations. I think it will still be possible to have football, even with the long trips eliminated, but it will involve a change in our schedules. We will follow strictly the wishes of the war department.

Stagg Still Optimistic.

At the University of Chicago, Director of Athletics A. A. Stagg was inclined to be optimistic. "I think when the order comes," he said, "we will find that football can be played. At the recent meeting at Fort Sheridan between college presidents and Col. Rees, who exercises supervision over the students' army train corps units, Col. Rees said the war department wanted sports continued.

"In the one hour a day prescribed for compulsory athletics in these units it still would be possible for football teams to practice. West Point has only forty-five minutes. Many games could be played without long absence from military duty.

Football Supports Other Sports.

"Without the revenue derived from football which supports all other branches of athletics, we would have to discontinue our entire department of physical instruction, costing $15,000 annually, unless the university appropriated money for the purpose. Whatever the government thinks is necessary, however, has our unqualified support."

Maj. Wygant, who will have charge of training at the university, said that the students must put in fourteen hours of drilling every week and forty-two hours of academic work. Maj. Wygant refused to commit himself as being in favor or opposed to football.

Four Hundred Colleges Affected.

Four hundred universities and colleges in the country have been taken over for training corps units.

The order will effect every member of the western conference whose schedules were made last winter and plans made accordingly by the coaches. The teams were ready to start practice Monday in preparation for the opening games, some of which were scheduled to be played on Sept. 28 and Oct. 5.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 12.—Jock Malone of St. Paul was awarded a decision over Bryan Downey of Columbus, O., at the end of a fast ten round bout here tonight.

CUBS "DIVVY" MONEY SO PALS IN SERVICE RECEIVE SHARE EACH

BY I. E. SANBORN.

All but three of Chicago's National league champions, runners-up in the world's series of 1918, returned from Boston late last night and will disband today until the war is over. The three men who remained in the east were George Tyler, Tom Clarke, and Otto Knabe.

Manager Mitchell and Catcher Bill Killefer, who is saluted as "lieutenant" by the rest of the Cubs, went into executive session in the manager's stateroom on the way back and figured out the split of the losers' share of the players' pool.

How Coin Is Split.

When they got through after using up all the lead pencils in the party and borrowing some from the steward of the dining car, the results were announced as follows:

One thousand dollars of the losing end of the pool was set aside to be divided among the men who did not participate in the series, but were considered to be entitled to a bit of the coin. Trainer Brady will receive $300 flat and the other $700 will be divided among Elliott, Alexander, Aldridge, Kilduff, and Daly, who enlisted either in the army or navy during the season. That will mean $140 apiece for the five players who entered the service of their country while the pennant race was on.

The remainder of the Cubs' share was divided into twenty-two parts, which meant $574.62 for each of the competitors on the defeated side. It was voted to split one share between Clarke and Martin, neither of whom got into a world's series combat, and to give Pick, who joined the team in mid-season, a full share.

Pool May Be Increased.

It is expected the players' pool will be increased in the near future by action of the two leagues, the purpose being to give the men who competed in the world's series larger remuneration than they get under the new arrangement framed up last winter before it was known how serious an effect the war would have on baseball.

It is admitted by both sides of the recent strike which almost terminated the world's series in a fiasco that the players of the two champion teams are subject to an injustice, because the Giants, who finished second in the National league, and Cleveland players, who ran second in the American league, will receive under the new rule nearly as much as the defeated Cubs.

Players Registered.

All members of the Cub party who were within the new draft age, and had not already registered for military service, took precautions to register before today. All the players except Paskert, Zeider, and Manager Mitchell registered in the first draft, and that trio filed their registrations in Boston.

President Weeghman of the Cubs registered in Boston last night, but had to do so after regular hours.

RED SOX PLAYERS EACH DRAW $1,108

Boston, Mass., Sept. 12.—Members of the Boston Red Sox, winners of the 1918 world's championship, received $20,827.45 today as their share of the gate receipts from the world's series.

Manager Edward Barrow and the fourteen Boston regulars were each given $1,108.45, while Infielder Fred Thomas, who obtained a furlough from Great Lakes Naval Training station to play for the Red Sox, was voted $750. Various sums were given other players now in war service, trainers, groundkeepers, and others.

The check did not include 10 per cent which it had been voted to donate to charitable organizations, and the players instructed Capt. Harry Hooper to obtain the amount from the commission and distribute it among Boston war charities.

BELOIT, 2; GREAT LAKES, 0.

Richland Center, Wis., Sept. 12.—[Special.]—Beloit defeated Great Lakes Detention Bears at the fair today, 2 to 0. Both runs were scored on double steals. Nelson was hit hard, but delivered in the pinches. Score:

MILITARY MASS AND FIELD DAY.

Military mass and field day will be celebrated at Nazareth Woods, La Grange, on Sunday, held under the auspices of the West Suburban Business Men's league. Military drill review, baseball, and many other forms of athletics will be staged with an exhibition of the manly art of self-defense as taught at Great Lakes Training station. Mass will be held at 10:30 a. m., the athletic end of the affair being set for the afternoon.

Wanted—Foot Ball Coach

SHOTS ON THE LINKS by JOE DAVIS

Glen View golfers and their guests will compete today in the first events of the annual "Twa days'" tournament. The big prize is the Laigh and Lang trophy for low gross score for seventy-two holes. A prize goes for low net for seventy-two holes.

Scores this morning will qualify for the Auchtermuchty, Ben McDhuie, Bannockburn, Drumtochty, Ecclefhan, and seven other trophies, all of which require the assistance of a Scotch highball to secure the correct pronunciation. These tropries were christened by Tom Bendelow when the annual tournament was inaugurated, and have withstood the test of time.

The first match round is carded for this afternoon. Other trophies to be played for today are the Whustle Binkie, Spleuchen, and Tam O'Shanter. All who play thirty-six holes today qualify for the dinner at night. In addition to the regular service the 8:15 train on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road will stop at Golf, both days.

While the Glen View members are competing there will be a similar scene of activity a few sectors eastward, the monthly tournament of the Western Advertising Golfers' association being carded at Westmoreland. This will be run on regular lines, a nine hole qualifying round in the morning and match play in the afternoon. A dinner will follow.

* *

Warren K. Wood, former western champion, who was to have accompanied Chick Evans on a Red Cross tour through the east, is unable to get away, and his place will be taken by Bobby Jones of Atlanta. Chick will leave for Baltusrol, N. J., today and Jones will meet him there. They will play against Max Marston and another eastern player. Jerry Travers, who was scheduled to pair with Marston, is unable to play.

In the Board of Trade tournament at Edgewater, L. Goselin won the gross and net prizes with a card of 85—1—84. Emil Garneau had second low net, 98—10—88. G. Walter Beaven, scratch; Ed Bagley, and A. G. Wegener tied for third prize at 89.

President Marshall Moreau of the Garfield Golf club announces that the Cook County amateur championship will be staged at Garfield park next week. Meanwhile, he is busy completing arrangements for the Red Cross match on Sunday afternoon, when Frank Adams and Jack Croke will play Gaudin and George Simpson. The United States navy band will give three concerts between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m.

G. W. Peck won the sunset tournament at Exmoor with a card of 85—9—76.

Capt. Leboulittier Wins Pistol Title from 940

Camp Perry, O., Sept. 12.—Capt. Thomas Leboulittier, an instructor of the small arms firing school, today won the national pistol championship, with a score of 288 out of a possible 300, defeating 940 competitors. C. M. Gettys of Wyoming, with 281, was second, and L. S. Hall of California was third with 273. The match was fired on the twenty-five yard slow fire, twenty-five yard rapid fire, twenty seconds, and twenty-five yard rapid fire ten seconds, with ten shots each.

FAST MATCHES AT NET, WESTBROOK STARRING; HAYES WINS CONTEST

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Despite chilly weather the cracks in the Illinois state tennis tournament unlimbered for some fast matches yesterday, and Walter Westbrook, the Michigan state champion, showed enough power in his driving game to convince local fans he is to be reckoned with.

Westbrook won from R. F. Woods, 6—3, 6—3. His control was not of the best, but he showed a good command of strokes. Luke Williams of Highland Park, like Westbrook, a junior star of high magnitude, won a tussle from Arthur C. Ries, 3—6, 6—4, 6—3. The cold bothered him a bit.

Hayes Defeats Hubbell.

Walter Hayes eliminated Arthur P. Hubbell, singles winner in a number of tournaments of local importance this summer in straight sets, 6—2, 6—3, in the fourth round.

The women's play reached full swing in singles, with Mrs. Malcolm MacNeill Jr., Chicago city champion, defeating Mrs. H. S. Adams, a downstate star from Centralia, Ill., 6—3, 7—5, in the second round. This was a spirited match, both women driving well. Miss Katherine Waldo defeated Mrs. E. Wiegel, 6—3, 7—5, in the same round.

Summary of Play.

MEN'S SINGLES.

Third round—Luke Williams, Highland Park, Ill., defeated A. C. Ries, 3—6, 6—4, 6—3. Walter Westbrook, Detroit, Mich., defeated R. F. Woods, 6—3, 6—3.

Fourth round—Edward Oelsner defeated H. S. Walsh, 6—1, 6—2. W. T. Hayes defeated A. P. Hubbell, 6—2, 6—3.

WOMEN'S SINGLES.

First round—Miss Louise Phillips defeated Mrs. C. W. Fowler, 6—1, 7—5. Mrs. H. S. Adams, Centralia, Ill., won by default from Miss Barbara Miller. Miss Marion Leighton won by default from Mrs. L. King.

Second round—Mrs. Malcolm MacNeill Jr. defeated Mrs. H. S. Adams, Centralia, Ill., 6—3, 7—5. Mrs. Dorothy Field won by default from Mrs. J. Pinchuk. Miss Marion Leighton defeated Miss Louise Phillips, 6—2, 6—1. Miss Hilda Krekel defeated Mrs. Edward Oelsner, 6—3, 6—1. Miss Marian Scully won by default from Mrs. W. I. Northup, Portland, Ore. Miss Katherine Waldo defeated Mrs. E. Wiegel, 6—3, 7—5.

MEN'S DOUBLES.

First round—L. E. Williams, Highland Park, and Walter Westbrook, Detroit, defeated O. O. Sheline and E. J. Hartney, 6—1, 7—5. Harold Forster and J. R. McKnight won by default from Harry Knox and F. T. O'Brien. W. T. Hayes and George J. O'Connell defeated C. O. Carlstrom and E. B. Piersol, 6—1, 6—4.

Matches for Today.

2 o'clock—Westbrook vs. Segal; Lenn and Harrison vs. Behrens and Miller; Miss Leighton and Mrs. Field vs. Miss Wahl and partner; Misses Krekel and Phillips vs. the Misses Scully.

2:30 o'clock—Stagg and Wilson vs. Salsbury and Jackson.

3 o'clock—Williams vs. Waidner; Miss Leighton vs. Miss M. Scully.

4 o'clock—Mrs. MacNeill vs. Miss Waldo; Oelsner and Woods vs. Forster and McKnight; Mrs. Adams and Miss B. Miller vs. Mrs. Oelsner and partner.

5 o'clock—England and Walton vs. Fabrice and Ries; Miss Timm vs. Miss E. Scully.

Healy Swims Somme for Attack; Killed in Action

PARIS, Sept. 12.—Lieut. Cecil Healy, widely known Australian swimmer, was killed by a bullet on the Somme battlefield Sept. 1, according to Le Journal. The lieutenant led a party of 500 swimmers across the Somme, enveloped the enemy positions, and captured Mont St. Quentin, the key to Peronne.

Exhaust Echoes by SHEPPARD BUTLER

A huge array of exhibits has been lined up on the municipal pier for the automotive and accessories exposition which opens there tomorrow under the management, largely, of the same group of men as that which staged the Ford accessory show at the Coliseum a year ago. The display is to be on view all next week.

Wednesday has been designated as "Illinois Good Roads day." In the afternoon there will be addresses in the pier auditorium by S. E. Bradt, state superintendent of highways; William G. Edens, president of the Illinois Highway Improvement association, and Robert W. Dunn of Chicago, and the new good roads movie, "Through Illinois Over Unchanged Roads in a World of Change," will be shown.

launched a campaign against discourteous traffic policemen. "The majority of the traffic men," says President Charles M. Hayes in a letter to the club membership, "are cool, level headed, competent, and affable. It is the misfit that does the damage. When a policeman stops you and uses insulting language get his number and turn it in to the club. Traffic can be regulated without bulldozing and insulting the motorist."

BEESON COMING FOR TITLE MEET

Included in the entries received yesterday from Camp Fremont, Cal., for the National A. A. U. outdoor track and field championships at Great Lakes Naval Training station Sept. 20, 21, and 22, is Eddie Beeson, holder of the world's running high jump record of 6 feet, 7 5-16 inches.

Beeson is a former University of California athlete and has been a notable figure in amateur athletics for the last five years. He made his record at Berkeley, Cal., May 2, 1914.

Alva Richards, former Brigham Young University high jumper, who held the world's record at one time, also was included in the Camp Fremont list. The other athletes who will compete are Hause, the best hurdler on the coast; Judd, Hunter, and Webster. The team will come east in charge of Capt. Read, athletic officer.

Among other entries received were those of Robert S. Martin of Elko, Nev., five mile junior champion; John Case, former University of Illinois hurdler, now at Camp Gordon, and Harry Moloney, distance runner, also at Camp Gordon.

RANDOLPH BOWLERS START TONIGHT.

The Randolph Bowling league will open its season tonight on the Randolph alleys. Sixteen teams are in the league and will go on the alleys in two squads, the first at 7 and the second at 9 o'clock.

CANADIANS WILL PLAY I. A. C. LACROSSE TEAM FOR SOLDIER SMOKES

Canadian athletes will help cement the entente cordiale between the United States and the dominion tomorrow afternoon at Cub ball park, when the Athletics of St. Catherines, Ont., take on the Illinois Athletic club of Chicago in a lacrosse match.

This match is the feature contest of an attractive program given for the benefit of the soldiers' tobacco funds. In addition to lacrosse, there will be wrestling matches between bluejackets from Great Lakes Naval Training station, with Joe Stecher, American heavyweight champion, as the topliner; band concert by the Great Lakes band, tug of war between teams representing Great Lakes and the students' training camp at Fort Sheridan, and an exhibition of dancing by Miss Florence Emmet Smith. Scotch bagpipes will also be present.

Athletics Have Good Record.

The Athletics of St. Catherine's are at present tied with another Ontario team for the Canadian championship, so Chicagoans will be sure to see the ancient Indian game at its best. The Athletics were organized in 1876 and held the dominion championship for an unbroken stretch from 1905 to 1912. The lineups follow:

Athletics.		I. A. C.
Gayder	Goal	Barrett, Lamb
Purdy	Point	Nicholls, Donnelly
May	Cover point.......	Culbertson, Carmichael
Immele	First defense........	Courtice, Krelwitz
Sullivan	Second defense.........	Neely
Millar	Center	Graham, Houlding
Fitzgerald	Second home.....	West, Crown
Kalls	First home......	Tilden, Hill
Paple	Outside home	Flinn, O'Malley
Hope	Inside home.........	Bubridge

Program of Events.

The program of events, beginning at 2 o'clock, follows:

Band concert by the Great Lakes Naval Training station and the Daily News bands.

100 yard dash—Open event.

Wrestling bout—Arnold J. Minkley vs. L. E. Natt of Great Lakes.

Tug of war between ten men teams from Great Lakes and the Fort Sheridan students' army training camp, under supervision of Lieut. A. M. Colville.

First quarter—International lacrosse match between Athletics of St. Catherines, Ont., Canadian champions, and Illinois Athletic club.

Burlesque wrestling match—Marty Cutler vs. Jack Dribbs.

Second quarter—Lacrosse.

Mat bouts by Great Lakes bluejackets.

Third quarter—Lacrosse.

Fourth quarter—Lacrosse.

Grand finale—Bands.

Tickets are on sale at all leading hotels and clubs and at Lyon & Healy's store, 245 South Wabash avenue.

Woods and Waters by LARRY ST. JOHN

QUESTIONS THEY ASK.

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—1. I have fished the St. Joe river mentioned from time to time in your column at Berrien Springs. What can you tell me of the fishing farther up stream? 2. Is the fly fishing better up stream? 3. Along this stream I noticed, a few days ago, two flowers that I do not know. One was red, similar to a salvia; the other orange with brown spots. What were they? R. E. S.

Answers—1-2. As a general rule it is better bait casting water at Berrien Springs, but fly fishing is better up stream, as the water is shallower. We fish it at Constantine. You can float one day from there to Mottville and make Bristol the next day and get good fly fishing all the way. Constantine is in Michigan and Bristol in Indiana, so you must have licenses for both states. There is good bait casting water between Three Rivers and Constantine. 3. The red blossom is Cardinal flower; the orange, jewel bush or "Touch-Me-Not."

Chicago.—[To the Editor.]—1. Is the wood duck a migratory bird? 2. Which do you consider the better gun, a double barrel, repeater, or automatic? 3. Do you consider the teal a fast flying bird? L. G.

Answers—1. Yes. 2. A matter of personal preference. We use a double, but we may be old fashioned in such matters. Beyond doubt the pumps and autos are great gun values if reliability and hard shooting are considered. 3. I'll say he is.

[illegible] Drop on Liquida[illegible] by Longs and Profit Taking.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

[illegible] prices were made for corn, [illegible] provisions, with the close [illegible] the latter at the lowest and on [illegible] at intermediate prices. There [illegible] liquidation by longs and profit [illegible] by the shorts. The latter made [illegible] rally on grains, but the close [illegible] losses of 1½@2½c on corn [illegible] unchanged to ⅜c lower on oats [illegible] Chicago than Tuesday. Corn in [illegible] southwestern markets closed ½@[illegible] lower and oats ⅛@½c higher than [illegible] previous day. In Minneapolis [illegible] were ⅛@⅜c, and in Winni[illegible].

[illegible] were weak and lower. [illegible] lost $1.00 per brl, lard 5@12½c, [illegible] short ribs 50c.

Liquidation On in Corn.

[illegible] was on in corn early as [illegible] of the weakness in the south[illegible] Wednesday, when Chicago was [illegible]. Better weather conditions, with [illegible] for warmer, and peace talk [illegible] Germany, were bearish factors. At [illegible] figure prices were off 2¼@3¼c [illegible] Tuesday's finish, from which there [illegible] rally of ⅝@⅞c toward the last on [illegible] covering.

A [illegible] of the trading was the com[illegible] strength in September, which [illegible] premium of ¼@½c over Octo[illegible] against a good discount earlier in [illegible]. There is said to be a fair [illegible] interest of sufficient propor[illegible] make it uncomfortable for the [illegible].

[illegible] was rather general unloading [illegible] and commission house longs in [illegible] deliveries, and some stop [illegible] orders were caught on the way [illegible]. Buying against bids helped to [illegible] the break. Sample values were [illegible] to 5c lower, with receipts of [illegible] cars. Shipping sales aggregated 40,[illegible] and deliveries 10,000 bu.

Export Talk Helps Oats.

[illegible] of export business in oats from [illegible] points and vague rumors of a [illegible] business in the last few days [illegible] offset the effect of the break in [illegible]. A rally came toward the last and [illegible] was fractionally lower, with [illegible] at 70⅛c, October at 71⅛c, and [illegible] at 72⅜c. Deliveries were 445,[illegible] and domestic shipping sales [illegible] bu.

[illegible] offerings to arrive were small, [illegible] sample values ½@1c lower, with re[illegible] 139 cars. Standards sold at 1½c [illegible] and No. 3 white 2@2½c under [illegible]. WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

A great deal of gossip has been created by the strength in September corn and its advance from 1c discount to ¼c premium over October at one time yesterday. Most of the trading late in the day was at ⅛c premium. The market is said to have been oversold, and there is enough holding that the common gossip attributes to the Updike interests to make shorts uneasy, as there were only 162,000 bu of corn that can be delivered on September trades in public houses here last Saturday, and fair withdrawals and cancellations have been made since. Six cars of No. 4 yellow recently delivered on contracts graded No. 6 yellow when withdrawn from store. It is not for the best interest of the trade to have any delivery congested, but it will happen at times when shorts oversell and stay too long.

It was the gossip of the trade that the general short interest in deferred futures of corn has become rather unwieldy. Some of the largest shorts took profits on yesterday's break and were mainly responsible for the late upturn. October has declined 7⅜c from the high point of last week.

The big deliveries of cash oats on September contracts yesterday were by Arnot. It was said that an industry finding it had more than it needed delivered a good part of them, having replaced them elsewhere to better advantage. The Armour Grain company took in a good part of the deliveries. Sales of 50,000 bu cash oats were made from the interior to the seaboard yesterday, the first reported in more than a week.

A rather bullish construction on corn was placed on the government report showing an increase of 8.1 per cent in the number of hogs for fattening on farms Sept. 1, or a total for the country of 65,096,000. Illinois shows a gain of 15 per cent over last year with 4,831,000 hogs.

The hay situation is attracting attention as applied to corn, oats, and barley. At Omaha prairie hay is $25.00 and alfalfa $30.00@31.00 per ton, and hogs $19.65 to $20.50; and at Kansas City prairie is $24.50@27.50 and alfalfa $32.50, and hogs $20.50. No. 1 timothy at Chicago is $34.00 to $35.00, the highest known, and hogs $19.00 to $20.75. The price of good hay is 1⅛c to 1¾c per lb, while barley and oats are only a little over 2c per lb. With all kinds of live stock selling at record levels there are some traders who believe that feeding grains will be in big demand later in the season, as the margin of profit appears to be very attractive at present.

The corn crop of Minnesota and South Dakota will probably be the largest ever raised there, according to the Van Dusen-Harrington report. Another week without heavy frost should put it out of danger, except the usual small percentage that is always late.

Condition of corn in Iowa as given by the weekly weather crop bulletin is 90, against 83 by the government. Last year it was 84. Pastures, 85; potatoes, 73; flax, 95, compared with 80 for pastures, 95 for potatoes, and 94 for flax last year.

Production of hay in Illinois as given by the government report compiled for the state by Field Agent S. D. Fessenden is 4,160,000 tons, compared with 4,352,000 tons last month and 3,657,000 tons last year. Quality is 92 per cent of normal, against 90.6 for the entire country.

Bradstreet's available stocks of wheat increased 3,360,000 bu last week, against 1,135,000 bu last year. East of the Rockies increased 3,339,000 bu, and west 429,000 bu, while Canada decreased 408,000 bu. The total is 68,550,000 bu in the United States and Canada, against 17,438,000 bu last year. Corn decreased 98,000 bu, against 436,000 bu last year. The total is 6,579,000 bu, against 2,685,000 bu last year. Oats increased 2,078,000 bu last week, against 178,000 bu last year, the total being 32,521,000 bu, against 15,345,000 bu last year.

The five year average for the corn crop of the United States with 1917 inclusive is 2,768,000,000 bu, or 96,201,000 bu more than the present crop. The government figures the five year average from 1912-'16 as 2,761,000,000 bu, which makes the present crop 89,000,000 bu below the average. Five year averages by the government are generally two years below the current crop year.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Premiums on cash wheat advanced about ½c at Chicago yesterday, with a good demand. No. 1 and No. 2 grades selling ½@2c over the basic figures, both for winters and springs. Smutty grain sells at 5@20c per bu under the clean. Arrivals here were 508 cars. The three southwestern markets had 1,154 cars, against 249 cars last year. In the northwest arrivals were 2,391 cars, against 394 cars last year.

Demand for cash corn was far from active and prices here and at St. Louis and Peoria were unchanged to 5c lower. Supplies good. Cash lots sold at ½@1c decline at Chicago and St. Louis, with offerings liberal. At Kansas City and Milwaukee they were unchanged, at Omaha ½@1c higher, and at Peoria 2c lower. The leading markets had 761 cars, against 660 cars last year. Cash grain prices in leading markets follow:

INSURANCE NEWS IN ALL BRANCHES EAST AND WEST

Hail Losses Severe in Season Ending on Sept. 15.

BY THOMAS R. WEDDELL.

The hail insurance season will close Sept. 15, so far as grain risks are concerned. The liability on cotton runs until Oct. 1. The season has been a bad one for the great majority of the companies, the loss ratio being estimated between 70 and 75 per cent. Colorado and North Dakota were the worst states and August was a very disastrous month.

The Western Adjustment company, which handles the hail losses for the companies, had received 23,214 claims up to Sept. 10. This is about twice as many as were received in the same period last year.

GOVERNMENT ENCROACHMENT.

The government has taken another slice of insurance from the underwriters, having arranged with importers of wool from South America to make the purchases and deliver the wool for a small commission, the property to be insured by the government.

Lawrence Y. Sherman, United States senator from Illinois, who has taken a strong position against government insurance, will address the National Association of Insurance Agents at their annual meeting in Cleveland next week on "Federal Insurance Encroachments."

CHANGES IN THE FIELD.

Harry W. Yankee, a local agent at Lees Summit, Mo., has been appointed inspector for the western farm department of the Aetna Fire.

John Mosher, a local agent at Spirit Lake, Ia., has been appointed a special agent for the Hanover in Iowa, with headquarters at Des Moines.

R. T. Nelson has resigned as special agent for the American Eagle in Illinois to go into the army.

THE LOSS RECORD.

Dieterich, Ill., Sept. 12.—The seed warehouse of John M. Schultz burned, with a loss estimated at $50,000 and insurance of $6,000 in the Millers' Mutual of Alton and $12,000 in the Millers' National.

Kirksville, Mo., Sept. 12.—The loss on the opera house was total, with the following insurance: Automobile, $1,562; Queen, $4,125; Home, $2,500; Hanover, $1,563; total, $9,750.

INSURANCE NOTES.

The Ocean Accident and Guarantee has just begun the issue of death and dismemberment policies, covering persons going to Europe, for the trip over and not to exceed three months on European soil, outside the war zone. These policies are issued for not less than $2,500 and not more than $10,000, and the assured has to state the ship on which he is to sail, so that the company can hold down its liability on any one ship to reasonable limits. This is intended especially for Y. M. C. A. and other classes of war workers not in the actual army service and for business men who have to make trips across. Heretofore this class of business has been written largely by the London Lloyds.

The Metropolitan Life undertook to sell $65,000,000 of war savings stamps through its various agencies during 1918, but completed the task before Sept. 1, and now expects to make it $100,000,000 during the year.

The recent fire in the sugar warehouse at Cardenas, Cuba, caused a loss estimated at $2,000,000, which was insured in the sugar pool, made up of the Continental, Home, Hartford, National, and Globe & Rutgers.

MARINE INCOME FOR 1917 SHOWS $10,470,664 LOSS

New York, Sept. 12.—A decrease of $10,470,664 in the combined income of the International Mercantile Marine company for 1917 is shown in the annual report issued today.

The salient features of the statement compared with 1916 are presented in the following table:

FIRST PAYMENT ON NEXT LIBERTY LOAN 10 PER CENT

Increase to Discourage Irresponsible Subscriptions.

BY GLENN GRISWOLD.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has decided that the initial payment on Liberty bonds of the fourth loan will be 10 per cent, instead of 5 per cent, as in the cast of the third loan and 2 per cent in the initial campaign. The dates for bonds and the campaign were announced, leaving few details to be determined.

Five payment dates are required for settlement in the fourth loan sale. Following the initial payment of 10 per cent, 20 per cent will be paid on Nov. 21, Dec. 19, Jan. 16, and 30 per cent on Jan. 30. Interest coupons will be due April 15 and Oct. 15. The sales campaign will begin Sept. 28 and end Oct. 19. The bonds will be dated Oct. 24.

$6,000,000,000 to Be Sold.

The secretary of the treasury recently explained the proposed changes in tax exemption features. There is not known to be any change in his plan to sell $6,000,000,000 bonds.

The decision to ask an initial payment of 10 per cent is important. In the past hundreds of persons have paid $2 or $5 for a subscription in the name of an unsuspecting friend or a fictitious person to be rid of salesmen. These have caused an enormous loss in time and money in search for owners of deposits. Many others have subscribed carelessly to more bonds than they could pay for because of the small initial payment.

Change in W. S. S. Sales.

The reorganization of the machinery for the sale of war savings and thrift stamps in the seventh federal reserve district, in accordance with the plans of Secretary McAdoo, was effected at a protracted meeting yesterday at the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, attended by reserve bank officials, Harrison B. Riley, sales director for the district under the old régime, and sales directors for the five states in the district.

Official announcement of the new plan whereby the organization is taken over by the federal reserve bank will be made today. It is understood that James B. McDougal, governor of the reserve bank, will appoint Mr. Riley sales manager and chairman of a committee to direct thrift campaigns.

FINANCIAL NOTES

The gross sales of Armour & Co. for the forty-two weeks' period ending Aug. 18, from plants within this country, eliminating all foreign sales, were $543,000,000, as compared with $380,000,000 for the same period in 1917, an increase of 43 per cent.

Some large buying of leather has come into the market following the placing of orders for 1,500,000 navy and a few more than 3,000,000 army shoes. The former business will total about $9,400,000 and the latter around $13,600,000, an aggregate of $23,000,000. Back of this waits much deferred business, as the original army specifications were for twice as many pairs, the balance probably to be placed in about a fortnight.

A new issue of $600,000,000 treasury certificates of indebtedness, the sixth, in anticipation of the fourth Liberty loan was announced yesterday. The seventh reserve district quota is $84,000,000. The most recent issues have been for $500,000,000 each. The certificates will bear the usual 4½ per cent and will be dated Sept. 17, maturing Jan. 16. Books will be open Sept. 17 to 24 inclusive.

The Procter & Gamble company reports gross sales amounting to $176,920,519 in the year ended June 30, an increase of $48,370,870 over the preceding year. These figures include the results of constituent companies. After paying expenses, taxes, and other charges, a net income of $9,719,804 remained, compared with $7,056,494. The profit was equal to $54 a share on $14,598,468 common stock after allowing for the dividend on $2,225,000 preferred.

Robert C. Taylor, for the last eight years advertising manager of the Economist, has joined the organization of Halsey, Stuart & Co., and will be connected with the New York office of the firm beginning Oct. 1.

IRREGULAR HOG MARKET CLOSES 10 TO 15C LOWER

Indiana Steers Equal the Prevailing Record of $19.25.

Closing hog market was 10@25c lower than opening transactions, with heavy packing weakest. Several droves of selected butchers bought early cost 10@15c more than Wednesday at $20.60@20.70. Armour bought 300 to 350 lb packers late at $19.25, or 25c lower than previous day.

Native steers, which equaled the prevailing record of $19.25, came from Indiana, and were Herfords that averaged 1,398 lbs. Many of the plainer grades were available and they looked weak at $14.50@16.50.

There were 21,500 western range cattle received this week, or 3,000 less than the previous week, and 7,500 less than a year ago, when receipts were second largest for any week of 1917. Incidently it was the first week this year that receipts were smaller than corresponding week last year. Prices gained mostly 25c for the week.

PURCHASES OF HOGS.

Hog purchases at Chicago yesterday were as follows:

Armour & Co.	2,000	Miller & Hart	500
Anglo-Am.	700	Ind. P. Co.	700
Swift & Co.	2,000	Brennan P. Co.	1,000
Ham'd & Co.	1,600	Agar P. Co.	400
Morris & Co.	1,100	Butchers	700
Wilson & Co.	1,500	Shippers	1,000
Boyd-Lun.	1,000
West P. Co.	900	Total	16,500
Rob. & Oake.	700	Left over	3,000

Average price of hogs at Chicago was $20.10, against $20.15 Wednesday, $19.50 Monday, $19.10 a week ago, $18.05 a year ago, $10.69 two years ago, and $7.22 three years ago.

Receipts for today are estimated at 6,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep, against 3,662 cattle, 9,851 hogs, and 10,559 sheep corresponding Friday a year ago.

CATTLE ARE UNEVEN.

Medium steers looked weak, but good to choice kinds were firm, some reaching $19.25. Butcher stock was uneven, but bulk held steady. Calves were strong, with several bunches at $19.25. Bulls steady to strong. Good feeders steady and others weak. Rangers were strong to a little higher, with nothing choice offered.

Fancy steers	$19.00@19.25
Good to choice steers	17.75@18.90
Common to medium steers	11.25@17.50
Yearlings, fair to fancy	14.75@18.80
Fat cows and heifers	7.35@15.25
Canning cows and cutters	6.40@ 7.25
Stockers and feeders	8.50@13.75
Bulls, plain to best	7.00@13.00
Poor to fancy calves	12.50@19.25
Western range steers	11.00@17.50

HOG SUPPLY IS SHORT.

Receipts of hogs at 18,000 were short of expectancy, but quality was fairly good. The market was uneven, with sales 10c higher to 25c lower than Thursday. Price range was wider, with heavy packing grades showing most decline at the finish. Half a dozen loads, averaging 189@261 lbs., reached $20.75. Closing trade was topheavy. Eleven markets had 64,000, or 1,000 less than a week ago and 15,000 more than a year ago.

Bulk of sales	$19.60@20.65
Heavy butchers	20.40@20.65
Light butchers	20.45@20.75
Medium weights	19.80@20.40
Mixed and heavy packing	19.25@19.80
Light bacon	20.40@20.75
Rough heavy packing	18.75@19.20
Poor to best pigs	17.50@19.50
Stags	18.50@19.50

RANGE LAMBS STRONG.

Most range lambs were strong, although plain kinds were dull. Natives went steady. Sheep and yearlings showed no change. Feeding and breeding stock held about steady. Idaho lambs made $18.10 and natives topped at $17.25. A good class of feeding lambs went at $17.00. Native ewes made $11.50 and rangers $12.00.

Western lambs, all grades	$17.25@18.10
Native lambs, poor to best	14.50@17.50
Lambs, poor to best culls	12.00@14.00
Yearlings, poor to best	10.50@14.75
Wethers, poor to best	10.00@13.00
Ewes, cull to prime	4.50@12.00
Bucks and stags	6.00@ 9.25

HAY AND STRAW

Hay advanced $1.00 a ton all around yesterday, with a good local and governmental demand for all offerings. Arrivals were 22 cars [illegible], 1 car South Dakota, 2 cars [illegible] prairie, and 1 car each of rye and oat straw. No western prairie was offered, and there are more orders here than hay to fill them, despite the fact that prices are the highest known. No. 1 timothy was $34.00 to $35.00, standard and No. 1 light clover mixed at $32.00 to $33.00, No. 2 timothy and No. 1 clover mixed $31.00 to $32.00, Omaha southwestern prairie, $31.00 to $32.00, and northwestern, $29.00 to $30.00. Rye straw, $10.00 to $12.00, and oat, $9.00 to $10.00 per ton.

CHICAGO REALTY BOARD VOTES FOR AMALGAMATION

Real Estate Transfers

Real estate transfers filed for record yesterday totaled 246, including 14 Torrens, comprising 185 in the city and 61 in the outlying townships. In all, $279,411 was involved. Transfers were as follows:

Rogers Park	9	Leyden	3
Lake View	10	Lyons	7
Jefferson	25	Maine	2
North Town	6	New Trier	7
South Town	8	Niles	1
Hyde Park	24	Norwood Park [out]	2

West Town	64	Proviso	7
Bloom	1	Riverside	3
Bremen	1	Stickney [out]	4
Calumet [out]	3	Thornton	4
Cicero	13	Worth	3
Evanston	2

The Chicago real estate board, at a special meeting yesterday afternoon, passed a motion that it was willing to consider a plan to amalgamate with the Cook county real estate board and the Chicago Renting Agents' association. A resolution then was passed that a committee of nine be chosen to represent each of the three organizations to draft a plan for the merger and suggest by-laws for the big new organization.

The committee from the Chicago real estate board comprises Harry Goldstine, chairman; W. W. Baird, V. H. Surghnor, Albert H. Wetten, B. V. Kanaly, J. K. Britten, W. A. Bond, A. F. Kramer, and John F. Wallace.

Removes Last Obstacle.

This action, it is thought, will remove the last obstacle in the way of the long proposed consolidation, as it has always been the Chicago real estate board that has stood out against offers to come together.

It was pointed out at the meeting by Charles R. Bixby, secretary of the Renting Agents' association, that Chicago has been losing ground at Washington in the allotment of war business because there was no single organization htat represents all interests. There were only four or five negative votes when the first motion was put and after that action was unanimous. The name of the Chicago real estate board is to be retained.

$100,000 Apartment Sale.

The fifty-six apartment building at 6615 to 6629 Kenwood avenue, on a lot 182 by 200 feet, has been sold by Hugh N. Maher to Charles H. Rathmann for a consideration of $100,000, subject to an incumbrance of $65,000. The rentals are $16,000. Holton, Seelye & Co. represented both parties.

The residence of D. J. O'Connor of Cremin & O'Connor, at the northwest corner of Kenmore and Rosemont avenues, Edgewater, has been purchased by Eugenie H. LeDioyt. The lot is 100 by 150 feet and is terraced. The price was $30,000. The building is of white stucco, with red roof. H. W. Harpold & Co. were the brokers.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The stock market maintained a good tone and displayed increased strength today. Gilt edged securities under the lead of consols advanced, and iron, steel, shipping, and West African mining shares hardened. Otherwise the dealings were moderate at steady prices.

Money was more plentiful and discount rates were quiet. Money, 3 per cent; discount rates, short and three month bills, 3 17-32 per cent.

BANK OF ENGLAND STATEMENT.

Total reserve increased £812,000; circulation increased £458,000; bullion increased £770,534; other securities decreased £494,000; public deposits decreased £885,000; other deposits increased £7,199,000; notes reserve increased £326,000; government securities increased £6,477,000. The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 17.20 per cent; last week it was 17.65 per cent. Bank rate, 5 per cent.

PARIS.—Today's Bank of France statement will show a diminution of 114,000,000 francs in advances to the state, which have been reduced to 18,000,000,000 francs, leaving intact after three months the advance of the 3,000,000,000 authorized by law on June 7.

FOR SALE—THE U. S. GOVT., BY INFLUencing the transfer of thousands of animals to La. and Miss., not only increased the war meat supply, but unwittingly evidenced the bigger thing, viz., that the fine, cheap, grazing cutover lands along our railroad lines in said states possess the natural, basic conditions for the next great live stock development in the United States.

Attracted by this successful experiment, dairy farmers and ranchmen are coming in great numbers to this green grass country. Committee of National Wool Growers' Assn. have investigated these lands and a copy of their report, together with a truthful statement of the advantages and disadvantages, the very low prices, long terms, and SPECIAL INDUCEMENTS, to enter upon these lands will be furnished upon request.

Locomobile

Are you going touring this Fall? Or do you make trips in the country.

Let us show you what real comfort and easy riding is. We have a few rebuilt Locomobiles which are guaranteed and at stunning prices. Our guaranty is good at any Branch House in the country, East or West, North or South.

Don't miss this opportunity to own a Locomobile. Best automobile in the world. Will take your car in trade. A trip in a Locomobile will cost less and bring more comfort than the same trip by railroad.

Phone Exchange Car Dept., Calumet 380, for a demonstration and you will not be satisfied with any other car than a Locomobile.

Silvertone Suit, $55.00 Oxford Suit, $45.00

Seasonable Apparel Youthfully Styled

STEVENS' MISSES' SECTION is always a delight to particular young women—but the abundance of chic new modes prepared for Autumn wear merit more than ordinary attention.

Here are displayed Suits and Dresses adaptable for every purpose—street, college, afternoon wear—distinctively fashioned of the materials discriminating patrons desire but find difficult to procure—and forethought makes it possible for us to present this splendid assemblage of Apparel at prices most satisfying in their moderation.

Notable Suit Offerings at $45.00 and $55.00

Distinguished first of all for the charm of their well-cut, simple lines—representing an achievement in the perfect detail of their smart tailoring—and the promise of durability in their well-chosen fabrics.

The selection includes handsome

SILVERTONES, VELOUR CLOTHS, CHECKS AND MIXTURES

Serviceable, good-looking shades prevail—favoring OXFORDS, BROWN TONES and NAVY BLUE. Exceptional Suit models at such interesting prices as $45 and $55.

A VERSATILE ARRAY OF

Appropriate Dress Modes

Slim girlishness characterizes their lines, while the originality of their style conceptions distinguishes every model on display for its marked individuality.

The materials which fashion these Dresses are indicative of our recognition of the important place which practicability attains in the present regime of economy.

TRICOTINES, SERGES, WOOL JERSEYS, POIRET TWILL WITH SATIN, SERGE WITH SATIN

are most attractively styled along straight line interpretations most becoming to young women. Intricate embroideries, beautiful braiding designs, enhance the attractiveness of these delightful Dress modes. Excellent assortments, $25 to $55.

Exclusive offerings in fascinating models of rich TRICOLETTE, gracefully paneled, some introducing new fringes of effective chenille, and favoring such elegant shades as Terra Cotta, Brown, Navy, Black.

Prices range from $65 to $125.

Boys' high school suits

with 2 pairs long trousers

The extra trousers insure almost double wear for the suit. These designed and tailored by experts, for boys of 15 to 20.

$30

Boys' new smart junior suits

with two pairs of trousers

Our specialists have given particular heed to the needs of boys from 8 to 18. We placed our orders for woolens twelve months ago, hence quote the suits

at $10

The fabrics used in these junior suits were selected for durability and neat patterns. The suits are made up in the strongest manner, yet lack none of the style features shown in higher priced attire.

The fabrics are in rich mixtures. The styles include the new trench and military models. Sizes 8 to 18 years.

Boys' fall furnishings

Boys' caps in plaids and mixtures, special at 1.50

Boys' neckwear, specially priced at 50c. Second floor.

"The Phonograph That Calls Forth Hidden Beauties From Your Records"

"Beautiful to Look at as well as to Hear!"

WOULD you possess a phonograph whose appearance harmonizes with the most beautiful in art furnishing?

We suggest the Aeolian-Vocalion, the lines of which were planned to fit gracefully with the "great creations" in furniture styles. The Vocalion has been termed the "phonograph amazing" because of its ability to deliver to the ear new and hitherto inaudible tone beauties from records.

Yet the price is no greater than other phonographs of similar grades. And as low as $5 a month terms make possession of a Vocalion undeniably easy.

We invite your inspection of our new models.
